STUBBORN FLAMES CAUSE LOSS OF ABOUT $20,000

Terrible Blaze in the H. N. Harker Building This Forenoon, Frank Crook's Store Suffering Most.

PERSONS CAME VERY NEAR BEING OVERCOME

THE ORIGIN OF THE BLAZE IS AS YET UNDETERMINED

Fire, unrelenting in its fierceness and destructiveness, swept underneath and through the H. N. Harker building, at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, known as the old Laughlin building, today between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, causing damage, amounting to many thousands of dollars and abject fear to the owners of business blocks surrounding.

The fire started in the basement under Frank Crook's furniture store, and it was first discovered by J. W. Moore, who, upon passing through the rear end of the first floor, saw a red glare, and investigating further was horrified at seeing flames darting wildly around and through the basement and up through the elevator shaft which leads to the third story.

Mr. Moore ran with all haste to a telephone and sent in the alarm to central station. The firemen quickly responded, and within five minutes they were fighting the angry flames with desperation. Two lines of hose were inserted in the basement, and turned on the fire, which was then centered at the middle of the building, apparently defeating it in a moment's time. But when all were confident that the fire was out and that all danger was past some one discovered another burst of the demon at the rear. Then for several minutes, do all they could, no control could be gained and every hose and hook and ladder wagon at central station and the firemen with their paraphernalia of the East End station were summoned to the scene by Chief Morley.

Hundreds of excited men, but all extremely willing to tender services soon congregated, and they in many ways lent valuable assistance to the firemen. The flames coursing madly up the elevator, were for a few moments allowed to eat in and gut the passageway and rooms adjoining, the firemen being absolutely at a loss as to where to station themselves to make their work effective. While on a hunt for the desired location the Wilson book and stationery store was discovered on fire, and a line of hose was hurriedly placed into execution at the rear of the room. There the firemen battled until the flames altered their course, darting again upward into the stock room of the furniture store.

Another change of operation in fighting was then necessary and for the first time the firemen began work on the right spot.

Through Chief Morley's orders hose was put into use then in the basement, first, second and third floors. With such a deluge of water against it the fire began to relax and very soon there was no flame in evidence, but without an exception every room in the building was filled with smoke so dense that they were almost impassable.

A most peculiar fact in relation to the damaging affair was that although fire was raging with terrific fierceness for almost an hour within the walls of the building at but very few times could a flame be seen by the crowd which thronged the streets. It was due to the flames being confined to the central part.

When the fire was surging onward in its work of destruction, smoke in immense volumes poured from every floor, and there was not a witness to the scene that did not confidently expect to watch the entire building fall into a smouldering ruin, everything in-

THE MAYOR TO BE A MAN OF POWER

The Center of Authority for the City Administration Under the New Code.

NO LACK OF ASPIRANTS

For the Position to Be Filled Next Spring—Numerous Appointments to Be Made By Him—The New Law on the Mayor's Duties.

The mayor of East Liverpool for the two years succeeding May 1, 1903, will be the most powerful individual in the municipality. He will make appointments galore and the importance of some cannot be calculated at this time, in placing the new code in effect the coming spring nearly every executive officer will have the mayor to thank for his position, and his authority will be almost entirely dependent upon the will of the mayor.

As every one knows the officials now holding office to a man will have to make a fresh start at the spring election. No matter how unimportant the position nor how meager the recompense for his services, the men now holding city jobs will be in the scramble on the date fixed for the municipal election in 1903.

Probably half of the city officials now in power were chosen for two years at the election held last spring. This was in accord with the provisions of the statutes then in force. To some it would look like injustice to oust these men when only one-half of their term has been completed, but when it is considered that the new code bill will do away with irregularities and abuses without number, it will be conceded that the sacrifice is made in a good cause.

There will be a merry battle for the enviable position of mayor next spring, and no less than five prospective candidates have already loomed up. It is yet many months before the citizens will be called upon to state their preference for the men who aspire to hold the responsible position, and it is likely there will be many more to announce themselves before the time expires in which entries may be made.

To give some idea of the authority which will be vested in the mayor for the first two years of his reign under the new code a few extracts are given:

"The mayor shall be elected for a term of two years, and shall serve until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be an elector of the corporation. The mayor shall be the chief conservator of the peace within the corporation and shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as are conferred and required in sections 1746, 1747 and 1748 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio; such as are provided in this act, and all other acts or parts of acts applying to all cities of the state and not inconsistent herewith.

"The directors and officers provided in this act shall have the exclusive right, subject to the limitations herein prescribed to appoint all officers, clerks and employes in their several respective departments or offices, and shall likewise, subject to the limitations herein prescribed, have sole power to remove or suspend any of such officers, clerks or employes.

"In case of death, resignation, removal or other disability of any director or officer provided for in this act, it shall be the duty of the mayor to appoint the successor of such director or officer, who shall hold such office until such disability is removed, or until the next regular municipal election, at which time said office shall be filled in the manner provided for in this act.

"Whenever the mayor shall deem necessary, the directors of the several departments of the city shall meet with him at the time and place designated by said mayor, for consultation and advice upon the affairs of the city.

"It shall be the duty of the mayor, the directors and of the several officers provided for in this act, to attend the meetings of council when specifically requested by council so to do, and to answer at such time such questions relative to the affairs of the

BOLD PLOT OF PRISONERS TO GAIN THEIR LIBERTY

VIGILANCE OF THE OFFICERS THWARTED THEM

Lisbon, November 1.—(Special.)—Since the removal of several of the worst characters from the crowded old jail, some of whom have been rapidly landed in the penitentiary and the Canton workhouse, Sheriff Leonard and his deputies have divulged the details of a conspiracy for a jail delivery in which a number of the inmates were implicated. The scheme was frustrated only by the vigilance of the officers.

For some weeks the men confined in the basement, where the conspiracy was hatched, had been manifesting much interest in things spiritual, but their assumed religious zeal was too transparent to the officers. That finally led to their detection. Full confession from several of the prisoners within the last few days substantiated the conclusions of the officers and confirmed the wisdom of the extra precautions which had been taken since suspicion was aroused.

The unusually large number of accused persons who have crowded the jail to the limit for some time has included some of the worst and most desperate toughs ever within its walls, judging from the reckless nature of their plan to overpower an armed guard and make their escape. While their plans did not include the murder of the turnkey this would have been an exceedingly probable incident to successful execution of the enterprise. The turnkey always held a loaded pistol in his pocket when an outbreak was possible, ready to fire at the slightest suspicious movement, which doubtless would have occasioned a fatal struggle.

The ring leaders in the contemplated delivery were William Roberts, of Salem; George R. Tate, of Wellsville; Charles Hutton and John Brown, of East Liverpool, and Charles Garwood, of Columbiana. Two or three methods of escape were discussed, but the one finally decided upon was that the turnkey, W. S. Porter, of Lisbon, should be overpowered while transferring the prisoners from the lounging corridor at night to their sleeping places in the cells. The manner in which the guard is handicapped in doing this was demonstrated to the grand jury at the recent inspection.

The lounging corridor stands along the rear of the cells and a passageway connects it with the front corridor, the door opening into just by and beside the outside entrance. In making the transfer the turnkey always stands on

OVERTAKEN BY YOUNG VILLAIN GIRL HAS TERRIFIC STRUGGLE

WALKING HOME FROM CHURCH

Frightened so badly that she could hardly speak, pretty Edna Broadbent, aged 15 years, employed at the Potters' Supply company works, daughter of Samuel Broadbent, a kilnman at Burford's, had a most terrifying experience with a young ruffian, whose name cannot be learned, while en route to her home in California hollow last Sunday evening.

The girl had been to the central part of the city attending church and was traveling the road alone. When a short distance out the hollow two boys, of about 16 years of age, accosted her. They being entire strangers she readily resented this and started on toward her home at a quickened pace. But one of them followed. He dogged along after her, keeping for a time about 50 feet to the rear. Every time she would go more slowly he would do likewise. Not until she had nearly reached home did he make any attempt at violence. When she finally began to hasten again, he apparently thought she would distance him and dashed after her on a fast run. At a small bridge which crosses a creek he caught up with her and first asked if he could walk home with her. She quickly replied in the negative and he then seized her rudely by the arm and said he would see whether or not he could.

The girl, although frightened all the while, at this juncture became so nervous and worked up that she for a moment felt as if she would faint. However, she did not, but commenced battling with the tough character. Using the qualities so common to the sex she scratched at his eyes and with her teeth bit his arms and hands most viciously. When she regained enough self-possession she warned the brute that if he did not let her alone, and immediately, too, she would scream for assistance.

This and her display of grit had the desired effect. The youth weakened and started to retreat, but as a parting remembrance he said: "All right; you have beaten me this time, but I will catch you some other time."

The child nearly collapsed after the awful ordeal was over and when she arrived home she was suffering very much from the over excitement.

When seen yesterday by a News Review reporter she stated that she was confident who the degraded wretch was, but not certain enough to cause his arrest.

She gives inside facts in regard to polygamy which are not ordinarily given out, and insists that the laws in regard to the same are evaded and violated.

John McDole, the well known jiggermen employed at the Thompson, is very indignant over an article that appeared in an afternoon paper Thursday, stating that assistance was to be rendered to his family during the illness of his daughter, with scarlet fever. "There has been no occasion for anybody to tender any sort of assistance to my family, and the inference that such has been the case was wholly unwarranted," said Mr. McDole yesterday. "My daughter has not been seriously ill, as stated in the paper, and I am not prohibited from visiting my home." Mr. McDole is denouncing the careless manner in which some reporters handle the truth.

city, under the respective management and control, as may be put to any of them by any member of the council.

"In case of the death, resignation or removal of the mayor, the president of council shall become the mayor, and serve for the unexpired term, and until the successor is elected and qualified; and the president pro tem of council shall thereupon become president thereof, and shall have the same rights, duties and powers as his predecessor, and the vacancy thus created in council shall be filled as other vacancies, and council shall elect another president pro tem. Provided, further, that while the president of the city council is acting as mayor he shall not serve as president of council."

The sections just quoted include but a small portion of the responsibilities and powers of the mayor. He will control one of the two executive boards of the city—that of the directors of public safety. This board is bi-partisan and consists of two or four members, as the council may determine. He appoints every member of the police and fire departments, subject to the confirmation of the directors of public safety. The directors and officers provided for in the new law will make reports to the mayor at regular intervals. These officers will, on or before the first Monday in March make out and file with the mayor a carefully itemized estimate of the amount of money it will be necessary to appropriate to carry on the work of the respective department. It will be the duty of the mayor to furnish council on the first day of April of each year a budget of current expenses of the municipality. In the making of said budget the mayor will have power to revise and change any and all issues in the annual estimates furnished to him by the directors and officers of the city. He can increase the total of any such estimate. The council, of course, may revise these estimates if it chooses to do so, but it is not likely this will often occur.

A score or more or the officeholders are appointed by the mayor, and they are responsible to him for their action conduct in office. The salary of mayor will not aggregate an amount equal to that which the office pays at the present, but it is thought the duties and responsibilities of the position will be greater than under the old rule.

Mayor W. C. Davidson will not be a candidate for the place, though he has served but one year of his second term. Those who are said to be candidates, however, are: Justice H. P. McCarron, T. V. Thompson, Justice Daniel McLane, Thomas Pickal and O. O. Nice.

QUICK WORK WITH A SHARK

Three Kanakas Went Down and Got Him While He Was Asleep.

"The Kanakas of the Hawaiian Islands have about as much fear of the huge sharks that infest the Hawaiian waters as we have of one-month-old fox terrier pups," said a naval officer who recently returned from the Asiatic station by way of the islands. "One morning a couple of months ago, when our ship was lying in Honolulu harbor, a big banana barge, propelled by three muscular, fine looking, nearly nude Kanakas, pulled alongside of us to peddle the fruit among the men forward. Just as they got the barge close to the ship the three Kanakas began to jabber excitedly in their queer, musical language and to feel of the edges of the knives suspended by lanyards around their necks.

"The eyes of those Kanakas were keener than ours, and they had seen a big shark asleep directly beneath the lighter, the water being so clear down that way that objects can be seen through it to a great depth. It didn't take those three giant muscled Kanakas more than ten seconds to shuffle out of their few clothes. Then they removed the strings from their long knives, grasped the knives in their right hands, stepped gently over the side of the lighter, hung to the gunwales of the lighter with their left hands for a moment or so, and then, altogether, they gave that queer diving wriggle to their legs in which they are so expert and disappeared from the surface. We couldn't see them going down on account of the commotion and consequent bubbles they made in the water.

"Within about ten seconds after they disappeared the bubbles that came to the surface began to take on the hue of blood.

"'That about settles one Kanaka, if not the whole three of them,' said we on the gangway. The next thing we saw was a gigantic shark thrashing the water crazily on the port side of the lighter and incarnadining the sea within a radius of fifty feet with its blood. Then the three Kanakas came up, all in a bunch, like a trio of jacks-in-the-box, with contented smiles on their faces. The shark thrashed around for five or ten minutes, and at the end of that time he was as dead as any salted mackerel in a barrel, the entire length of him. The three Kanakas had tackled him altogether as he slept, had driven their knives into his vulnerable parts, and before he had a chance to pull himself together he was as good as dead. It was as workmanlike a job of going after big sea game as ever I saw."—Philadelphia Times.

The Old Lady and the Incubator.

An old lady visiting an exhibition went to see some incubators which were on show and, complaining of the expense of keeping fowls, said that if they were cheaper she would buy an egg hatching machine. After she had asked various questions the gentleman in attendance proceeded to show her the drawers in which were deposited the eggs in different stages. On these the old lady looked in astonishment. "What!" she exclaimed indignantly. "Do you use eggs?" "Certainly," was the attendant's astonished answer. "Well," said she, "I consider it a perfect swindle to pick the pockets of honest, hardworking folks by selling them those frauds! Why, anybody can hatch chickens with eggs! I can do it myself!"—London Globe.

A NEW RAILROAD TO THE WESTWARD

Trenton Potters Eager to See a Projected Line Built to Pittsburg.

HIGH FREIGHTS TO WEST

Form a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., November 1.—Trenton manufacturing potters have interested themselves in the construction of the proposed railroad trunk line between Trenton and Pittsburg. For several weeks there have been persistent rumors that the Trenton and New Brunswick railroad which was recently put into operation was a part of the Gould scheme for reaching the Atlantic seaboard. Potters want cheaper freight rates to the west.

Lack of competition has practically given the Pennsylvania Railroad company a monopoly over the western trade, and the result has been that ware is shipped west of the Mississippi with but a small margin of profit. Several Trenton manufacturers have addressed communications to the brokerage firm of Klein & Silverman, at Philadelphia, who are buying up rights of way for the new road, offering their co-operation in advancing the scheme.

The Goulds have been fighting for several years for an eastern terminal and have reached Pittsburg, or soon will, the road being under construction. For months a corps of engineers have been at work in Chester county, Pa., and are gradually forcing their way toward the sea coast. The other day some railroad men discovered that a charter had been granted to the Philadelphia and Western Railroad company by the state department at Harrisburg. The incorporators were men closely allied with all the Gould interests and the belief is general that the family of the dead financier is behind the scheme.

Shipments of general ware from this city to the west have been falling short each year. While sanitary ware has been in good demand, the general ware lines are being furnished largely by the patterns of East Liverpool and throughout Ohio. This condition is attributable solely to the excessive freight rates. In spite of the fact that the National Manufacturing Potters' association has resolved to remedy the evil and appointed representatives for the purpose, who gave testimony before several federal industrial commissions, the condition still exists and is likely to until warmer railroad competition is established.

Since the recent agitation of the child labor question by the New Jersey Federation of Trades unions there has been a material falling off in the number of boys employed in the Trenton potteries. The scarcity has reached such a degree that the nurses of the jiggermen are sorely taxed. Shortly after the federation appointed a committee to ask Governor Murphy for the removal of Factory Inspector Ward, he installed a weeding out process in all the factories in the section of the state to rid them of child labor. Nearly 100 boys were sent home from the local plants and now it is difficult to find those who will work at the prices which the jiggermen have offered. The scarcity of batters-out and mould-runners is another problem. In many instances jiggermen are known to have been off duty for days at a time because of the scarcity of help. The jiggermen who are nearly all affiliated with the Knights of Labor have already considered the matter and are trying to devise a scale establishing more uniformity in a day's work by endeavoring to get the approval of the Trenton Manufacturing Potters' association to a uniform price list which was submitted nearly a year ago. It is believed now that the scheme has fallen through and the result has been that the jiggermen's organization is about on its last legs. The idea of the uniform list was to make more uniform the wages of helpers. Under present conditions there is a great tendency on the part of the jiggermen to offer temporary wages in order to secure steady help.

Trade conditions have not for years been more gratifying. Scarcely a feature of the pottery line which is not being liberally supported by the buying fraternity. All the lines offered by the local potteries this fall have been good sellers. In point of quantity of the orders and the character of the sales this season is without a precedent in the history of the local pottery industry. Hotel china maintains its popularity, having enough calls for late delivery to insure work for the men throughout the winter.

MR. McDOLE INDIGNANT.

John McDole, the well known jiggermen employed at the Thompson, is very indignant over an article that appeared in an afternoon paper Thursday, stating that assistance was to be rendered to his family during the illness of his daughter, with scarlet fever. "There has been no occasion for anybody to tender any sort of assistance to my family, and the inference that such has been the case was wholly unwarranted," said Mr. McDole yesterday. "My daughter has not been seriously ill, as stated in the paper, and I am not prohibited from visiting my home." Mr. McDole is denouncing the careless manner in which some reporters handle the truth.

Then they removed the strings from their long knives, grasped the knives in their right hands, stepped gently over the side of the lighter, hung to the gunwales of the lighter with their left hands for a moment or so, and then, altogether, they gave that queer diving wriggle to their legs in which they are so expert and disappeared from the surface. We couldn't see them going down on account of the commotion and consequent bubbles they made in the water.

"Within about ten seconds after they disappeared the bubbles that came to the surface began to take on the hue of blood.

"'That about settles one Kanaka, if not the whole three of them,' said we on the gangway. The next thing we saw was a gigantic shark thrashing the water crazily on the port side of the lighter and incarnadining the sea within a radius of fifty feet with its blood. Then the three Kanakas came up, all in a bunch, like a trio of jacks-in-the-box, with contented smiles on their faces. The shark thrashed around for five or ten minutes, and at the end of that time he was as dead as any salted mackerel in a barrel, the entire length of him. The three Kanakas had tackled him altogether as he slept, had driven their knives into his vulnerable parts, and before he had a chance to pull himself together he was as good as dead. It was as workmanlike a job of going after big sea game as ever I saw."—Philadelphia Times.

The Old Lady and the Incubator.

An old lady visiting an exhibition went to see some incubators which were on show and, complaining of the expense of keeping fowls, said that if they were cheaper she would buy an egg hatching machine. After she had asked various questions the gentleman in attendance proceeded to show her the drawers in which were deposited the eggs in different stages. On these the old lady looked in astonishment. "What!" she exclaimed indignantly. "Do you use eggs?" "Certainly," was the attendant's astonished answer. "Well," said she, "I consider it a perfect swindle to pick the pockets of honest, hardworking folks by selling them those frauds! Why, anybody can hatch chickens with eggs! I can do it myself!"—London Globe.

Lucky.

"No use o' talkin'," said Mr. Erastus Pinkley, "dat brother o' mine is a mighty lucky man. He allus has money."

"But you must remember that he is much more industrious than you are. He isn't at all afraid of work."

"Dat's jes' de point. He were lucky in bein' born industrious."—Washington Star.

Trenton Potters Eager to See a Projected Line Built to Pittsburg.

Form a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., November 1.—Trenton manufacturing potters have interested themselves in the construction of the proposed railroad trunk line between Trenton and Pittsburg. For several weeks there have been persistent rumors that the Trenton and New Brunswick railroad which was recently put into operation was a part of the Gould scheme for reaching the Atlantic seaboard. Potters want cheaper freight rates to the west.

Lack of competition has practically given the Pennsylvania Railroad company a monopoly over the western trade, and the result has been that ware is shipped west of the Mississippi with but a small margin of profit. Several Trenton manufacturers have addressed communications to the brokerage firm of Klein & Silverman, at Philadelphia, who are buying up rights of way for the new road, offering their co-operation in advancing the scheme.

The Goulds have been fighting for several years for an eastern terminal and have reached Pittsburg, or soon will, the road being under construction. For months a corps of engineers have been at work in Chester county, Pa., and are gradually forcing their way toward the sea coast. The other day some railroad men discovered that a charter had been granted to the Philadelphia and Western Railroad company by the state department at Harrisburg. The incorporators were men closely allied with all the Gould interests and the belief is general that the family of the dead financier is behind the scheme.

Shipments of general ware from this city to the west have been falling short each year. While sanitary ware has been in good demand, the general ware lines are being furnished largely by the patterns of East Liverpool and throughout Ohio. This condition is attributable solely to the excessive freight rates. In spite of the fact that the National Manufacturing Potters' association has resolved to remedy the evil and appointed representatives for the purpose, who gave testimony before several federal industrial commissions, the condition still exists and is likely to until warmer railroad competition is established.

Since the recent agitation of the child labor question by the New Jersey Federation of Trades unions there has been a material falling off in the number of boys employed in the Trenton potteries. The scarcity has reached such a degree that the nurses of the jiggermen are sorely taxed. Shortly after the federation appointed a committee to ask Governor Murphy for the removal of Factory Inspector Ward, he installed a weeding out process in all the factories in the section of the state to rid them of child labor. Nearly 100 boys were sent home from the local plants and now it is difficult to find those who will work at the prices which the jiggermen have offered. The scarcity of batters-out and mould-runners is another problem. In many instances jiggermen are known to have been off duty for days at a time because of the scarcity of help. The jiggermen who are nearly all affiliated with the Knights of Labor have already considered the matter and are trying to devise a scale establishing more uniformity in a day's work by endeavoring to get the approval of the Trenton Manufacturing Potters' association to a uniform price list which was submitted nearly a year ago. It is believed now that the scheme has fallen through and the result has been that the jiggermen's organization is about on its last legs. The idea of the uniform list was to make more uniform the wages of helpers. Under present conditions there is a great tendency on the part of the jiggermen to offer temporary wages in order to secure steady help.

Trade conditions have not for years been more gratifying. Scarcely a feature of the pottery line which is not being liberally supported by the buying fraternity. All the lines offered by the local potteries this fall have been good sellers. In point of quantity of the orders and the character of the sales this season is without a precedent in the history of the local pottery industry. Hotel china maintains its popularity, having enough calls for late delivery to insure work for the men throughout the winter.

TWO ENJOYABLE DANCES

Ghosts And Masqueraders Have a Nice Time at Larkins & Ferguson's Hall.

The ghost and masquerade dances last evening at Larkins & Ferguson's hall were the most thoroughly enjoyable events of the kind so far this season. The weird costumes affected by the dancers served to provoke a great deal of merriment and the spirit of the occasion was entered into by all. The ghost dance was given by the young ladies of the East End and in the neighborhood of 80 couples were present. After an hour of dancing the masks and ghost-like shrouds were laid aside. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruits were served.

The masquerade dance of the Philos club was one of the most pleasant of its functions of the year. Costumes were both comical and stately and served to completely conceal the identity of the wearers until discared at midnight. Enticing refreshments were served.

ONLY INNOCENT FUN

Marked Halloween Celebrations in the East End—Pranks Were Numerous.

Those citizens of the East End to whom Halloween is but a memory of the halcyon days of youth and who are now staid and steady heads of families were surprised this morning when they realized how considerately they had been treated by the coming generation. In fact the fun was all of a very innocent nature and there were no collisions with the police. Small bridges, gates, boxes, signs were the principal objects of the marauders and the porches of most of the houses were so covered with "grog" that they could have been easily mistaken for feed stores. Everything was restored to the usual order at an early hour this morning, however.

A window was broken at Varrandi's fruit store on Mulberry street and the glass of fire alarm box No. — was smashed, but no alarm was turned in.

Victim of Halloween Prank.

Conrad Goodballet, Sr., aged about 80 years, was a victim of a Halloween prank last evening. He was en route to his home on Martin street when he came in contact with a wire stretched across the side walk and was thrown to the ground. The thumb of his left hand was badly sprained and the hand was cut and bruised.

Mail Bag Was Missing.

The 3:55 train did not stop at the East End station but went whirling past at a high rate of speed. When the dust it raised had cleared away Robert Baird, who usually takes the sack to the postoffice, made a search for it, but it could not be found. Later he walked up the track as far as the Laughlin pottery and it was handed to him by W. C. Smith, who had found it in a patch of weeds.

Continued to Next Saturday.

The case of L. O. Conant vs. Thomas Miles, set for hearing in 'Squire Carman's court at 9 o'clock this morning was continued until next Saturday on motion of the plaintiff. The suit, which is on a promissory note, will likely be settled out of court.

Pension Increased.

Samuel Pugh, an old soldier living with his daughter, Mrs. M. C. Flick, on St. George street, has been notified by the pension office at Washington that his pension has been increased from $12 to $17 per month. His many friends will be pleased to hear of his good fortune.

First to Arrive.

Miss Augusta Swan, of Metropolis, Ill., a niece of Rev. and Mrs. James N. Swan, was the first of the guests from out of town to arrive for the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Swan's golden wedding. She arrived last evening and will remain for about a week.

Had a Fine Time.

About 30 couples, most of whom were from Laughlin No. 2, were at Wellsville last evening to attend a Halloween party at the home of Miss Cad Wiseman. They report a pleasant evening.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Harry Bennett's five-months-old son is reported very ill.

Charley Whealdon, of the kiln crew at Laughlin No. 2, is among the sick.

David Green is building a house on High street which he will occupy as soon as completed.

Miss Lida Hill gave a Halloween party last evening at her home in Helena for about 40 of her young friends.

C. H. Salyers has moved to the East End from Wellsburg, W. Va., and has purchased property on Pennsylvania avenue.

Misses Eva Whitney and Myrtle Harris, of Laughlin No. 2, will go to Bellaire this evening to spend Sunday with friends.

A roll of wire was carried away from a hardware store and uncoiled along several blocks, twisted around telephone poles and trees.

The dance at Columbian park last evening was one of the most enjoyable of the season. There was a large attendance and the festivities were continued until an early hour this morning.

WRIT OF REPLEVIN

Used to Recover the Goods of a Girl Who Had Quit Her Position.

Steadfastly believing that the rule which prevails among the work shops of the city—that a person upon wishing to change his location of employment is duty bound to give a two weeks' notice—Mrs. Lillian Heckathorn, according to an affidavit made in 'Squire McCarron's court yesterday morning, was much angered when a young girl, Dessie Fetty, who had been in her employ as a house girl, wanted to leave without working out a notice. So angry was she when the girl persisted in going that she took possession of the girl's clothing and would not give it up.

As a result Miss Fetty appeared in court and had a writ of replevin issued for the goods and with the writ in his possession Constable Powell made a trip to the home of Mrs. Heckathorn in the East End yesterday. The officer had no trouble in securing the clothing for her, though Mrs. Heckathorn was very angry when she saw Miss Fetty, and the constable states that an exciting scene was narrowly averted. Mrs. Heckathorn averred that she would have the girl arrested upon several charges and may do so.

FOR FALSE ARREST

Steubenville's Former Wharfmaster Sues J. A. Brown, Asking $5,000 Damages.

Steubenville, Nov. 1.—Ex-Wharfmaster George W. Uselton has commenced suit against Jerry A. Brown, who recently had charge of the wharfboat, to recover $5,000 damages for alleged false arrest.

In the petition the plaintiff says he always sustained a good character and has never been suspected of the crime of larceny or any other crime, yet the defendant maliciously intending to injure his good name did on May 23 go before Robert Love, a justice of the peace, and falsely, maliciously and without any probable cause charge him in writing and under oath with stealing one steamboat line, valued at $35, and another line, valued at $15, belonging to J. A. Brown.

The plaintiff further states that he was then arrested and taken along the public streets in custody of an officer of the law to the office of Justice Love, being deprived of his liberty, to enter into a recognizance for his appearance at a hearing. He was afterwards, he says, compelled to give bond in the sum of $300 for his appearance in the court of common pleas to answer said false charge. The grand jury, however, after investigating the charge, ignored the case and the plaintiff was discharged and released.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Dr. Tracy and John H. Murray are holding temperance meetings at Toronto.

Massillon Elks are planning to erect a hospital where the poor may be treated free.

Mrs. Sarah Shaw, aged 72, widow of the late Enos Shaw, died at her home in Winona, of apoplexy.

Mrs. Margaret Layman, aged 96, near Rosby's Rock, W. Va., walked to the village and back, eight miles, the same day.

The Pittsburg Stove and Range company will erect a $100,000 plant at Beaver Falls, to employ 750 to 1,000 workingmen.

John Linton, for stealing a watch worth $80 from Mrs. Jessie Mickle, at Steubenville, got two years in the penitentiary.

William Anderson, colored miner, of Unionport, for shooting the weighmaster at the Wayne Coal works, was sentenced to the penitentiary for three years.

The engineers engaged in the work of sounding the river below Brilliant for a foundation for dam No. 11 have completed their work and will soon be ready to report.

John H. Kane, the reported wealthy Wabash railroad contractor, lately arrested while insane at Steubenville, is reported dangerously sick at the Massillon state hospital.

A sensational shooting occurred at Youngstown, in the heart of the business part of the city, when Mrs. John L. Connors fired point blank at Mattie Bortz, shooting her in the point of the jaw.

Marvelous Medicine.

A patent medicine vender in a country village was dilating to a crowd upon the wonderful efficiency of his iron bitters.

"Why," said he, "Steve Jenkins had only taken the bitters one week when he was shoved into the prison for murder, and what does Steve do but open a vein in his arm and take iron enough out of his blood to make a crowbar, with which he pried the doors open and let himself out. Fact!"

CLEAN, STRONG AND ABLE.

Republicans who go to the poles and vote the straight ticket on Tuesday, as they will do almost to a man, will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are supporting one of the cleanest, ablest and strongest tickets ever put forward for the approval of Columbiana county electors. The state ticket bears the names of men of state reputation. It is headed by Lewis C. Laylin, the present efficient incumbent of the office of secretary of state—a capable, conscientious and faithful official if Ohio ever had one. The other men on the ticket are of well-known ability and of the highest character. Especially is the candidate for the most important office to be filled a man of the highest qualifications. Judge William B. Craw, if McConnelsville, now filling a vacancy on the bench of the supreme court and nominated for a full term in that office, is one of the ablest jurists in southeastern Ohio or in the state, for that matter. His practice has been extensive, and since he became a judge some ten years ago his reputation for impartiality sound judgment and thorough knowledge of the law has become widespread. The Democrat who is seeking the same honor has pursued a course that renders it probable that he cannot receive the support of his own county, usually strongly Democratic. Of the congressional ticket of the Republicans, it can be said that he who votes for James Kennedy will vote for a strong man, an earnest protectionist, and a thorough Republican with all the qualities required to fill with credit the exalted position to which he will be elected.

The county ticket is an exceptionally good one. J. A. Martin, the next probate judge, is an able lawyer and a perfect gentleman. J. N. Hanley, of this city, candidate for clerk of courts, is no stranger to public life, a genial and popular man, thoroughly capable, assiduous and faithful to every duty. C. A. White, the nominee for recorder has had a hard struggle in fighting life's battles, and is a cripple. He has won his way in the world in spite of all obstacles, and is today one of the county's most prominent educators and most respected citizens. M. P. Carnes, for county commissioner; J. C. Kelly, for county surveyor; J. L. Straughn, for coroner and A. E. Swearingen, for infirmary director, are all well-known men, of excellent capability, good sense and a high reputation. The whole ticket merits the triumphant endorsement it will receive at the polls next Tuesday.

POLITICS, NOT PERSONALITIES.

As we have stated before, Thomas J. Duffy is young in politics. If he were more experienced he would neither expect support for his candidacy from Republican newspapers, nor complain because a Republican newspaper had opposed him on political and not on personal grounds. The News Review is a Republican spaper. It has never yet advocated the election of a Democrat to office, and it has made no exception in the case of Mr. Duffy. It has fought him by fair and honorable means, raising no objection to him as a man but raising every possible reasonable objection to his political belief, and exposing the baselessness of the attacks upon the Republican candidate for congress—attacks made by those working in Mr. Duffy's interests and even reproduced in the columns of the paper which Mr. Duffy edits. A party newspaper which would not defend its candidates against baseless calumny would be weak and timid, and the News Review is neither.

We consider it a compliment to be told that the News Review's course has not met with Mr. Duffy's entire approval. When our editorial policy becomes such as to receive the praise of Democrats, it will be when the Democratic party has undergone the long-promised but still distant regeneration which its leaders talk of. We are not courting Democratic favor. That the course of the other papers in this city is praised by Mr. Duffy is their own affair, not ours. One of them is a Democratic organ as often as once a year, anyway, and we are glad that it has had enough of a policy this fall that Mr. Duffy can discover its existence. The laudation of the Tribune, a supposedly Republican paper, is a different matter. It may know the reason for it; we do not. At all events, we consider Democratic praise a very poor recommendation for a paper which assumes to speak for Republicans.

Morris Whalen, of Youngstown, who was at the head of the executive committee during the greater part of the street railway strike in that city in 1894, will vote for Kennedy for congress. So will hundreds of other laboring men of Youngstown, who fought the traction corporation at that time. They know Kennedy as a friend and are indignant at the silly charge that he was against the workingmen. Had he been, they certainly would have known it, and would not support him now. Is not this a sufficient answer to the campaign canard put forth by the would-be leader of the opposition who "wanted to get in touch with millionaires" and who found out that Kennedy was a "labor crusher" only after he discovered that he himself was unable to procure $2,500 from Kennedy's brother?

If you believe prosperity a myth, you will vote for one of the two Democratic candidates for congress. If you have a good position and desire neither to lose it nor to have your wages reduced to a free trade basis you will vote for Kennedy, who realizes that prosperity is a fact and wants it to continue.

The News Review has the highest respect for Thomas J. Duffy as a man but it has no respect whatever for his politics. He is mistaken when he asserts that this paper has been warring on him. But we have waged, and will continue to wage, unrelenting warfare on the political principles he represents.

Assistant Democrats is a term applicable to men who call themselves Republicans and yet stay at home on election day, thereby aiding their political foemen. It is a term of reproach. If you do not wish to merit it get out and vote on Tuesday.

Labor's hope lies in going forward not backward. Voting for a Democrat is aiding Labor's enemies.

OBITUARY

John B. Kennedy.

John B. Kennedy died at his home in Wheeler avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was born in Hanoverton, O., July 22, 1822, and went to Pittsburg when quite young. As a newspaper man he was associated in the publishing of the Alleghenian, with his brother, James W. Kenredy. He afterward published with his brother the Bank Note Review. He owned and started the Chronicle, subsequently disposing of his interests to Charles McKnight. Later he alone started the Free Press, which was bought and merged into the Pittsburg Gazette. Then followed his connection with the Gazette as editor-in-chief. He remained identified with various city newspapers until he became owner and editor of the Alleghenian, which he published from 1887 to 1897. He was one of the original incorporators of the Pittsburg, Allegheny & Manchester Street railway in 1857. He will be buried from his late residence on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. dicating that result. "Doomed!" was the expression of all and many were the words of sympathy that escaped from the spectators. So apparent was ruin to the men having offices in the building that they employed the services of willing hands and had every movable article taken to nearby store rooms. In doing this work the men were greatly handicapped by the density of the smoke. It was not an uncommon thing to see a man come running down the stairs, coughing and sneezing, his throat and lungs being stifled by the hot waves of smoke.

At one time, near the outbreak of the fire, all eyes were centered on a window in the office of the McGarry Bros. Gasping for breath James McGarry in desperation threw open the window and beckoned for help. His lungs were so filled with smoke that he could not utter a word, and had he been confined in the room a moment longer he would undoubtedly have succumbed. A ladder was placed within his reach and he descended to the street amid the loud cheering of the crowd.

An unknown man heedlessly walking underneath a ladder placed against the building was badly hurt as a result of the ladder unexpectedly toppling over. His head was cut and blood flowed profusely.

Street car traffic on Market street was discontinued from the very start of the fire until all danger was eliminated. Instead of going down Market street they continued out Sixth street and down Washington, passing at the Second street bridge.

An estimate of the total loss, hurriedly made, places it at $20,000. The heaviest loser is Frank Crook, his stock of furniture, carpets, etc., suffering to the extent of about $15,000. The damage by fire was confined entirely to the second floor on which are stored the carpets, rugs, lace curtains, oil cloth and linoleum. The entire stock is considerably damaged, however, by water and smoke.

The value of the stock is in the neighborhood of $40,000, and is insured for $25,000, divided among all the local agencies. A force of men were put to work clearing away the debris on the second floor as soon as the fire had been extinguished, but it will be some time before the exact extent of the loss is known.

The damage to the W. & W. pharmacy will not exceed $200. It is all on merchandise stored in the basement that was reached by the smoke and water. They are fully insured.

The law offices of W. K. Gaston, on the second floor, which is situated nearest the elevator, were considerably damaged. The carpet was ruined by water and some valuable papers were damaged. The law offices of McGarry & McGarry and Brookes & Thompson escaped with very little damage.

The stock of the Wilson book store is badly damaged by water and smoke. The extent of the loss cannot be definitely stated today owing to the nature of the stock of goods damaged.

The building, owned by H. N. Harker, suffered to the extent of about $2,500. The elevator is almost entirely destroyed. The building is insured in Geo. H. Owen & Co's agency.

haste and anticipations of peril to the beloved boy. For a moment he was unable to grasp the situation, failing to see his child owing to dense smoke. The difficulty did not last long and he perceived flames leaping wildly upward from a library filled with books and the wall close beside it.

At this juncture Mr. Reinartz saw his child tossing to and fro on a bed, and after removing him to another room, began fighting the flames. He seized a blanket and first extinguished the fire on the walls. It was while attempting to smother the flames at the book case that he received his injuries. Thrusting his hands down behind the case they were quickly developed in fire and before he could free himself both were burned terribly. Forgetting the pain he bravely fought until the home was freed from danger. The exact loss by the fire Mr. Reinartz is unable to state, but it will be in the neighborhood of $50. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought the child started it in some way.

AT THE THEATER

"Are You a Mason?" will be seen at the Grand next Monday evening. It humorously satirizes the foibles and weaknesses of the husbands who make their "lodges" an excuse for evenings from home. In this instance the husbands simply pretend that they are Masons and through their deceptions manage to get themselves into a world of amusing complications. It is the most meritorious, as well as the most successful of comedy farces in years.

The scene showing Niagara Falls in the last act of "The Fast Mail" is the grandest piece of reality that mechanical ingenuity ever presented upon the stage. The actual scene was so impressive that Lincoln J. Carter immediately determined to produce it in his piece, and he has done so with such gratifying results that it is pronounced perfect by thousands who have seen and compared it to America's wonderfully natural waterfall.

The Great Northern Quartet, four vocal celebrities of note, which will be seen at the Grand on November 5, 1902, in Al W. Martin's big scenic revival of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," are said to be peers in their line of work. While they resort to comedy selections greatly, they have also introduced a novelty in the "Megaphone Solos" that has met with favor on this side of the water.

haste and anticipations of peril to the beloved boy. For a moment he was unable to grasp the situation, failing to see his child owing to dense smoke. The difficulty did not last long and he perceived flames leaping widly upward from a library filled with books and the wall close beside it.

At this juncture Mr. Reinartz saw his child tossing to and fro on a bed, and after removing him to another room, began fighting the flames. He seized a blanket and first extinguished the fire on the walls. It was while attempting to smother the flames at the book case that he received his injuries. Thrusting his hands down behind the case they were quickly developed in fire and before he could free himself both were burned terribly. Forgetting the pain he bravely fought until the home was freed from danger. The exact loss by the fire Mr. Reinartz is unable to state, but it will be in the neighborhood of $50. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought the child started it in some way.

AT THE THEATER

"Are You a Mason?" will be seen at the Grand next Monday evening. It humorously satirizes the foibles and weaknesses of the husbands who make their "lodges" an excuse for evenings from home. In this instance the husbands simply pretend that they are Masons and through their deceptions manage to get themselves into a world of amusing complications. It is the most meritorious, as well as the most successful of comedy farces in years.

The scene showing Niagara Falls in the last act of "The Fast Mail" is the grandest piece of reality that mechanical ingenuity ever presented upon the stage. The actual scene was so impressive that Lincoln J. Carter immediately determined to produce it in his piece, and he has done so with such gratifying results that it is pronounced perfect by thousands who have seen and compared it to America's wonderfully natural waterfall.

The Great Northern Quartet, four vocal celebrities of note, which will be seen at the Grand on November 5, 1902, in Al W. Martin's big scenic revival of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," are said to be peers in their line of work. While they resort to comedy selections greatly, they have also introduced a novelty in the "Megaphone Solos" that has met with favor on this side of the water.

DUFFY'S SPEECH

IN THE STREETS HEARD BY A VERY FAIR SIZED CROWD.

He Does Not Like Republicans And Pays His Respects to the News Review.

T. J. Duffy, labor candidate for congress, made a speech in the open air at the corner of Broadway and Sixth street last evening, the attendance being estimated at from 2,500 by his friends down to 350 by those allied with other parties.

Mr. Duffy devoted his entire address to an arraignment of the Republicans Democrats and trust promoters. The coal strike was reviewed, and some time was given to what he proposed to do in taking care of the potters—both manufacturers and operatives—if he is elected to congress.

Among other things Mr. Duffy stated that the News Review had conducted a very strong fight against him. He took exception to the manner in which this paper expressed itself editorially for and in behalf of the Republican party. He asserted that he was conducting his campaign entirely on the labor platform, and thought the fight should be made along that line.

The fact that he was a Democrat and that the News Review should say so was objected to by him and declared to be unfair. He congratulated the Morning Tribune, a Republican paper of this city, upon the easy manner in which it had let him down. Mr. Duffy also spoke kindly of the Crisis, characterized by the Democracy not long ago as being neither fish, flesh nor fowl.

COURT FINISHES AND ADJOURNS

PETER WOODWARD GETS $184 IN $10,000 DAMAGE SUIT.

All Day Taken Up By the Trial—Pugh-Ingram Case Under Advisement.

Lisbon, November 1.—(Special.)—Court adjourned last night until 9 a. m. Thursday, November 13, and the jury was excused until 1 p. m. on Monday, November 17.

The jury awarded the plaintiff $184 in the Kensington damage case in which Peter Woodward sued J. E. McAlister for $10,000. The case occupied the court's attention all of yesterday afternoon, and the jury was unable to agree on a verdict until 9 o'clock last night.

McAlister owns a livery stable in Kensington. The horses of McAlister got loose and trampled upon the lawn of Woodward, who objected to the nuisance. The men became involved in a fight in which Woodward was badly injured. A blow from a club in the hands of McAllister is said to have made Woodward the nervous wreck he now is. The costs of $20 will also be paid by defendant.

While the jury was out in the Woodward case, the controversy between Joseph Pugh, of Wellsville, and George Ingram, of Congo, W. Va., over the rental of jack screws, was given a hearing by Judge Hole, who has the case under advisement.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE SEES BRIGHT OUTLOOK.

Enthusiastic Gathering Hears Reports from Every Ward And Precinct.

The meeting of the Republican committee, held at city hall last night, was well attended, and while the session was not a lengthy one, there was no lack of enthusiasm.

Reports were made from every voting precinct in the city and all were most encouraging. There is every indication, provided the weather is favorable, that an extraordinary vote will be cast on Tuesday, and if every Republican voter does not turn out and do his duty, it will certainly not be the fault of the city committee.

Arrangements were made to have an extra man at every polling place in the city, who will be entrusted with the task of seeing to it that every voter in the precinct who is a known Republican is given an opportunity to cast his vote.

Carriages will be ordered, and it is likely they will be kept busy all day. Each rig will be provided with two banners bearing the inscription "Vote the Straight Republican Ticket." All aged persons and those who are disabled are urged to notify the poll workers in order that they may be gone after and hauled to the voting place.

The meeting was adjourned early in order to allow the members to hear the speaking.

was one of a family of six children, all of whom are living except one sister, who was the wife of Rev. B. C. Swan, D. D. Two of the Swan brothers married sisters, daughters of John Woolf, late of Carthage, Ill., long an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan were married at Oxford, O., on Nov. 2, by Rev. John M. Worrall, D. D., who is now living in Danville, Ky. Their first field of labor was in Columbia City, Ind. Mr. Swan was ordained to the full work of the ministry in October, 1852, and took charge of the Columbia City church the fall that he was married. After serving eight years he removed to Wellsville, and took charge of the Yellow Creek church, three miles from that city.

He remained at Yellow Creek 14 years, and was next called to a brief pastorate at Toronto, where he remained one year. Mr. Swan next removed to New Hagerstown, where he remained five years. He then became pastor of the Long's Run Presbyterian church, at Calcutta, remaining there from 1880 until 1894. In the latter year he retired from active pastoral work, engaging in evangelistic work, which he has continued until the present time. In all his ministry Mr. Swan has been a zealous and faithful worker and very successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan are the parents of ten children, two of whom died in early life. Of the sons, the eldest, Rev. W. L. Swan, has been pastor at Greenville, O., for some years; J. L. Swan is an insurance agent at Canton, O.; Rev. B. M. Swan has been a pastor at Newcomerstown for the past five years; Dr. John M. Swan has been a medical missionary at Canton, China, since 1885; Rev. C. W. Swan, at present Presbyterian pastor at Shreve, O., for seven years was a missionary in China, until the Boxer uprising drove him from the field. Of the daughters, Frances E. died in Indiana in 1855, and Eleanor Josephine died while her father was pastor at Yellow Creek, from disease contracted in Indiana; Anna J. is the wife of Major Newman, manager for Armour & Co., in East Liverpool; Mrs. M. B. Farrar resides with her parents and teaches music in this city; Bessie is the wife of Rev. J. P. Lyenberger, pastor of the Island Creek church, in Jefferson county. There are 11 grandchildren, of whom three are in China.

CAMERON'S PREDICTION AS TO REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

Librarian Galbreath Says Kennedy Will Have 6,000 Votes to Spare.

Columbus, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Hon. I. B. Camoron, treasurer of state, says that the weather will have much to do with the size of the Republican plurality in Ohio which he believes will be over 50,000. As to the congressional contest in the Eighteenth district he said: "From the best information obtainable Mr. Kennedy will be elected by a satisfactory plurarity." Mr. Cameron will go to Lisbon to vote.

Sate Librarian Galbreath leaves Sunday for his home in Columbiana county where he will stay till after election. He thinks the election will be about the same as it was when Coxey ran for congress against Tayler and that the opposition vote will be largely from the same source.

The Republicans expect to elect Huling for congress in the Columbus district and are certain of electing Nevin in the Dayton district which until two years ago was Democratic. Nevin was elected then by a few over a hundred. Dick will give out his statement tonight.

DUFFY'S SPEECH

He Does Not Like Republicans And Pays His Respects to the News Review.

T. J. Duffy, labor candidate for congress, made a speech in the open air at the corner of Broadway and Sixth street last evening, the attendance being estimated at from 2,500 by his friends down to 350 by those allied with other parties.

Mr. Duffy devoted his entire address to an arraignment of the Republicans Democrats and trust promoters. The coal strike was reviewed, and some time was given to what he proposed to do in taking care of the potters—both manufacturers and operatives—if he is elected to congress.

Among other things Mr. Duffy stated that the News Review had conducted a very strong fight against him. He took exception to the manner in which this paper expressed itself editorially for and in behalf of the Republican party. He asserted that he was conducting his campaign entirely on the labor platform, and thought the fight should be made along that line.

The fact that he was a Democrat and that the News Review should say so was objected to by him and declared to be unfair. He congratulated the Morning Tribune, a Republican paper of this city, upon the easy manner in which it had let him down. Mr. Duffy also spoke kindly of the Crisis, characterized by the Democracy not long ago as being neither fish, flesh nor fowl.

REV. JOSEPH CLARK,
Secretary of the Sunday School association of Ohio, who will speak at the First M. E. church Rally Day services tomorrow.

All Day Taken Up By the Trial—Pugh-Ingram Case Under Advisement.

Lisbon, November 1.—(Special.)—Court adjourned last night until 9 a. m. Thursday, November 13, and the jury was excused until 1 p. m. on Monday, November 17.

The jury awarded the plaintiff $184 in the Kensington damage case in which Peter Woodward sued J. E. McAllister for $10,000. The case occupied the court's attention all of yesterday afternoon, and the jury was unable to agree on a verdict until 9 o'clock last night.

McAllister owns a livery stable in Kensington. The horses of McAllister got loose and trampled upon the lawn of Woodward, who objected to the nuisance. The men became involved in a fight in which Woodward was badly injured. A blow from a club in the hands of McAllister is said to have made Woodward the nervous wreck he now is. The costs of $30 will also be paid by defendant.

While the jury was out in the Woodward case, the controversy between Joseph Pugh, of Wellsville, and George Ingram, of Congo, W. Va., over the rental of jack screws, was given a hearing by Judge Hole, who has the case under advisement.

Enthusiastic Gathering Hears Reports from Every Ward And Precinct.

The meeting of the Republican committee, held at city hall last night, was well attended, and while the session was not a lengthy one, there was no lack of enthusiasm.

Reports were made from every voting precinct in the city and all were most encouraging. There is every indication, provided the weather is favorable, that an extraordinary vote will be cast on Tuesday, and if every Republican voter does not turn out and do his duty, it will certainly not be the fault of the city committee.

Arrangements were made to have an extra man at every polling place in the city, who will be entrusted with the task of seeing to it that every voter in the precinct who is a known Republican is given an opportunity to cast his vote.

Carriages will be ordered, and it is likely they will be kept busy all day. Each rig will be provided with two banners bearing the inscription "Vote the Straight Republican Ticket." All aged persons and those who are disabled are urged to notify the poll workers in order that they may be gone after and hauled to the voting place.

The meeting was adjourned early in order to allow the members to hear the speaking.

was one of a family of six children, all of whom are living except one sister, who was the wife of Rev. B. C. Swan, D. D. Two of the Swan brothers married sisters, daughters of John Woolf, late of Carthage, Ill., long an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan were married at Oxford, O., on Nov. 2, by Rev. John M. Worrall, D. D., who is now living in Danville, Ky. Their first field of labor was in Columbia City, Ind. Mr. Swan was ordained to the full work of the ministry in October, 1852, and took charge of the Columbia City church the fall that he was married. After serving eight years he removed to Wellsville, and took charge of the Yellow Creek church, three miles from that city.

He remained at Yellow Creek 14 years, and was next called to a brief pastorate at Toronto, where he remained one year. Mr. Swan next removed to New Hagerstown, where he remained five years. He then became pastor of the Long's Run Presbyterian church, at Calcutta, remaining there from 1880 until 1894. In the latter year he retired from active pastoral work, engaging in evangelistic work, which he has continued until the present time. In all his ministry Mr. Swan has been a zealous and faithful worker and very successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan are the parents of ten children, two of whom died in early life. Of the sons, the eldest, Rev. W. L. Swan, has been pastor at Greenville, O., for some years; J. L. Swan is an insurance agent at Canton, O.; Rev. B. M. Swan has been a pastor at Newcomerstown for the past five years; Dr. John M. Swan has been a medical missionary at Canton, China, since 1885; Rev. C. W. Swan, at present Presbyterian pastor at Shreve, O., for seven years was a missionary in China, until the Boxer uprising drove him from the field. Of the daughters, Frances E. died in Indiana in 1855, and Eleanor Josephine died while her father was pastor at Yellow Creek, from disease contracted in Indiana; Anna J. is the wife of Major Newman, manager for Armour & Co., in East Liverpool; Mrs. M. B. Farrar resides with her parents and teaches music in this city; Bessie is the wife of Rev. J. P. Lyenberger, pastor of the Island Creek church, in Jefferson county. There are 11 grandchildren, of whom three are in China.

CAMERON'S PREDICTION AS TO REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

Librarian Galbreath Says Kennedy Will Have 6,000 Votes to Spare.

Columbus, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Hon. J. B. Camoron, treasurer of state, says that the weather will have much to do with the size of the Republican plurality in Ohio which he believes will be over 50,000. As to the congressional contest in the Eighteenth district he said: "From the best information obtainable Mr. Kennedy will be elected by a satisfactory plurarity." Mr. Cameron will go to Lisbon to vote.

Sate Librarian Galbreath leaves Sunday for his home in Columbiana county where he will stay till after election. He thinks the election will be about the same as it was when Coxey ran for congress against Tayler and that the opposition vote will be largely from the same source.

The Republicans expect to elect Huling for congress in the Columbus district and are certain of electing Nevin in the Dayton district which until two years ago was Democratic. Nevin was elected then by a few over a hundred. Dick will give out his statement tonight.

Life

Dr. Miles' Nervine Gave Me New Life.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Miles' Remedies quite extensively, especially the Restorative Nervine, which has done wonders for me. Six years ago I had nervous prostration and again three years ago, at which time I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I kept taking it for six months and have taken an occasional dose during the last two years. I am practically a new man and feel that I have been given a new lease of life. I used to have very bad attacks of stomach trouble but since using the Nervine I can eat most anything I want with impunity. I was examined in Omaha by a noted German doctor three years ago. He told me I was liable to a paralytic stroke any moment; that my whole left side was badly affected. That was just before I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. My work for two years and a half has been very trying on my nerves. I am a presiding elder, traveling my districts at the rate of ten thousand miles a year, preaching on an average of five times a week, besides many business meetings, and the multitudinous cares of my work in general. Thanks to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I have been gaining in flesh despite this hard work until now I weigh a hundred and ninety-six pounds, nearly twenty pounds more than in all my life. I preach Nervine wherever I go to those afflicted with nerve, heart or stomach trouble."—Rev. M. D. Myers, Presiding Elder, Free Methodist Church, Correctionville, Ia.

IN FULL OPERATION

Pope Tin Mill Running Full And Working Under the Amalgamated Scale.

The new Pope tin plate mill at Steubenville is now in full operation, every department being rushed with work and a number of workmen who were formerly employed in the tin plate mills in the Wheeling district are to be found there working under the Amalgamated scale.

It will be remembered that several days ago a report stated that the mill was not working under the union scale. After an investigation by the tin plate lodge at Steubenville it was found whence the report came. A workman came to the Pope plant from the Chester mill and for some reason left and returned to Chester, where the report seems to have started that the men were on strike and that an ironclad agreement was in force. The purpose to injure the Pope employes failed.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Gave Me New Life.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Miles' Remedies quite extensively, especially the Restorative Nervine, which has done wonders for me. Six years ago I had nervous prostration and again three years ago, at which time I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I kept taking it for six months and have taken an occasional dose during the last two years. I am practically a new man and feel that I have been given a new lease of life. I used to have very bad attacks of stomach trouble but since using the Nervine I can eat most anything I want with impunity. I was examined in Omaha by a noted German doctor three years ago. He told me I was liable to a paralytic stroke any moment; that my whole left side was badly affected. That was just before I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. My work for two years and a half has been very trying on my nerves. I am a presiding elder, traveling my districts at the rate of ten thousand miles a year, preaching on an average of five times a week, besides many business meetings, and the multitudinous cares of my work in general. Thanks to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I have been gaining in flesh despite this hard work until now I weigh a hundred and ninety-six pounds, nearly twenty pounds more than in all my life. I preach Nervine wherever I go to those afflicted with nerve, heart or stomach trouble."—Rev. M. D. Myers, Presiding Elder, Free Methodist Church, Correctionville, Ia.

IN FULL OPERATION

Pope Tin Mill Running Full And Working Under the Amalgamated Scale.

The new Pope tin plate mill at Steubenville is now in full operation, every department being rushed with work and a number of workmen who were formerly employed in the tin plate mills in the Wheeling district are to be found there working under the Amalgamated scale.

It will be remembered that several days ago a report stated that the mill was not working under the union scale. After an investigation by the tin plate lodge at Steubenville it was found whence the report came. A workman came to the Pope plant from the Chester mill and for some reason left and returned to Chester, where the report seems to have started that the men were on strike and that an ironclad agreement was in force. The purpose to injure the Pope employes failed.

The University Extension Lecture of Dr. Sparks an Excellent One.

THE PATRIOTS OF AMERICA

And Their Rising in 1776 the Theme of the Eloquent Speaker—the Parts Played By Washington, Adams And Jefferson.

Sparkling with humor, abounding with ideas, rich in historic facts and eloquent as well as scholarly in expression was the lecture delivered by Dr. E. E. Sparks last evening at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

"John Adams, the Promoter of Independence," was the subject of this third lecture in the University Extension course.

Dr. Sparks spoke in part as follows:

"The period covers from 1774 to 1776, during which time John Adams figured conspicuously in the important questions of the day. He never favored the Tory party or any other party which supported the king in his tyranny. At this time the delegates of the different states stood much divided, and Boston was the scene of many a debate.

"The delegates finally went from Boston to Philadelphia where they were received with pomp and splendor, much to their astonishment. The delegates had not been in Philadelphia long when a quarrel arose, for seven of the colonies now had representation in that city.

"On September 15, 1874, these delegates united with what is known in history as the First Continental Congress, and at this time it was that the historic events of Liberty Hall began. Of this first congress, George Washington, was known as 'the fighter,' but who was to be the speaker and orator of such an important body? It was then that Patrick Henry is stirring and patriotic speech declared, 'I'm no longer a Virginian. I'm an American.'

"This first congress sat for two months in Philadelphia, and did they make any laws? No, they only made resolutions not to obey English laws and supported the state of Massachusetts in her disobedience of those laws. But, were these resolutions the only and most important work of this first congress?

"Indeed it was here for the first time that there had been an exchange of ideas, and here it was that the seeds of unionism were deeply planted in each heart.

"While in Philadelphia the delegates were much entertained and George Washington was dined and wined continually.

"John Adams, the plain Quaker that he was, did not expect to be banqueted as he was. Why, before John Adams went to Philadelphia he never looked upon the Quakers as his friends, but called them the 'broad brims.' But when in the midst of a pouring rain he left this historic city he expressed warmest feeling for the hospitality shown him by these Quakers.

"The next important event following were the Lexington and Concord battles, when after ten years of rebellion against the English government, war was precipitated. Then came the second continental congress in the spring of 1775. This was a law-making body, which took its first great step when it put the troops under the command of George Washington, the 'squire of Virginia. This was the second union making element.

"The next and greatest event was the writing of the Declaration of Independence. Thomas Jefferson was chosen by unanimous vote to write this greatest of all historic manuscripts. Although this great Declaration of Independence received many criticisms, yet it embodied two great ideas, namely, that all men are equal, not in riches, not in social rank, but in the sight of the law and that government proceeds from the majority of votes of the governed."

A NEW RAILROAD TO THE WESTWARE

the outside of the doorway, leaning against the door facing with his left hand and grasping his revolver in his coat pocket with the right. The prisoners file out, turn, march down the corridor from him and into their respective cells.

It has been customary for the prisoners to carry blankets from their cells in the morning to place on the benches during the day. Their plan was on coming out some night to go to their bunks, the first two men were to throw one of these blankets over the turnkey's head, overpower and disarm him, and with the assistance of their confederates lock him in one of the cells, then make good their escape.

Besides the 15 prisoners in the basement, three youths from upstairs, Ray McCalmont, Alex Stoffel and Charles Nuby, were lodged there every day.

Another plan of escape suggested was that when these three were let out of the corridor to go upstairs, being always transferred first, they should trip the turnkey and pin him to the floor until the others could come out of the corridor to their assistance.

Still another suggestion was that they should fall upon him as he stooped to fasten the lower lock of the corridor door when their comrades would come to their assistance. The three youths refused to be drawn into the scheme, perceiving the perilous character and well nigh hopelessness of such a move, as did several of the basement prisoners who hung back every night until those bent on escaping had passed the guard to avoid danger should the dash be made. One of the younger prisoners said he saw two of the leaders make a move one night as if to carry out their plan and was so unnerved by the prospect that his knees gave way under him.

From the time suspicion was aroused Deputy Davidson or Sheriff Leonard assisted every night in the transfer of the prisoners and with a man at either end of the corridor the conspirators would have stood no show had they made a break.

By the exercise of some diplomacy among the prisoners Sheriff Leonard and his assistants managed to extort full confessions of the details of the plans to escape from several of them. They also learned that Charles Hutton had robbed Daniel Thomas, one of his fellow inmates, of his watch and some money. Thomas is the insane colored man from Salem who was detained a few days before his removal to the Massillon asylum. Hutton was searched the evening the sheriff learned of the theft and the watch and money were found on his person. These valuables were returned to Mrs. Thomas in Salem.

HOW THE INDIANS VOTE.

They Are Very Deliberate and Then Have a Simple Method.

The Chickasaw Indians cast their vote differently from the way the white man does it. They meet the day before the election, and none but Chickasaws by blood is allowed to vote. No white man or intermarried citizens have the right of suffrage. They go off to themselves and have a powwow. They decide for whom they will vote after considering the matter for twenty-four hours.

The polling place is quite unlike that of the white man. There is a great sheet of paper, white, yellow or brown as the case may be, about three feet square. Upon this sheet of paper are a vast number of cross lines, regularly ruled off with a pencil. Then down one side of the sheet of paper are placed the names of all candidates for office, beginning with the candidates for governor and running on down to precinct officers. At the top of the sheet are the number of blank spaces that will be required for the names of the voters. The judges of election sit by and pass on those entitled to vote, and there is a certainty that no illegal votes are cast.

The Indian is thoroughly deliberate. He takes his time when it comes to voting. He proceeds to the polling place, looks carefully over the poll sheet, and if he is ready to cast his ballot he calls out his name, and the clerk records it on the sheet. Then the clerk reads off the names of the candidates for governor. The voter deliberates awhile, calls out the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote, his vote is recorded, and the names of the candidates for the next office are called out, and so on through the list, till all the offices represented are voted for.

Thus it is that every voter knows exactly how every other voter has cast his ballot, and there are no remarks, no suggestions and no quarrels over differences of opinion.

DESERTED DEVORE SEEKS A DIVORCE

TORONTO MAN WHOSE WIFE ELOPED FILES A PETITION.

His Runaway Wife Came to East Liverpool Not Long Since With Another Man.

Daniel W. Devore, a well known resident of Toronto, has commenced suit for divorce from his wife, Thurza E. Devore.

At the same time he secured an injunction restraining her from disposing of his property, which appears on the county records in her name. The property, he says, consists of a house and lot in Toronto, which cost $1,400, and on which he still owes $600.

In his petition the plaintiff says they were married at Toronto on Christmas day, 1894, and have no children. He alleges that on the 7th of last December his wife deserted him without any just cause and has since refused to live with him; that on September 2, at the boarding house of J. H. Allison in East Liverpool, she and one William Lowery lived together as man and wife; that afterwards they lived together at the boarding house of F. F. Edwards in East Liverpool, and that since that time they have been living together in Cleveland. In addition to a divorce, the plaintiff asks the court to divest his wife of all right and title in his real estate, which is now in her name, and that the court may restore the real estate to him and decree to him the fee simple title in the property.

Lowery was formerly a boarder at the Devore home and is alleged to have run away with Mrs. Devore last September and come to East Liverpool, where he worked for some time for Harvey McHenry, the contractor. Devore is said to have run across the pair at a Cleveland boarding house lately, where he had a fight with Lowery and had him arrested. Mrs. Devore ran out while the men were wrangling and had not been found at last accounts.

The day was most agreeably spent. At 2 p. m., a fine dinner was served, after which a pleasing program was rendered, Mrs. G. A. Hill presiding. The program included a hymn by the society; prayer; paper by Mrs. P. W. Snyder on the history of Mormonism; remarks by Mrs. Geo. Miller on the dangers of Mormonism; papers on medical work and Mohammedanism in Persia by Mrs. C. Huston; and one on the same subject by Mrs. Saint; instructive remarks by Rev. P. W. Snyder and Mrs. E. D. Moore. Others who took part in the program were Mrs. C. L. Gonzales, Mrs. P. Saint, Miss Mary Fisher, Miss Adda Conkle and Mrs. J. C. Foltman.

The visitors present aside from the society were Mrs. L. V. Dawson, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Adda Conkle and daughter Helen, of Park, O.; and Mrs. E. D. Moore, of East Liverpool.

SALE OF LOTS

IN THE

EAST END

This company having purchased the estate of the late George D. McKinnon, will offer the lots for sale, beginning Saturday, Nov. 1, 1902, at prices from $200.00 up, and will be sold on easy terms, a small cash payment down and the balance in monthly installments, 5 per cent discount for cash.

Lots are located on both sides of Pennsylvania Avenue, which is a paved street leading from the East End to the Diamond; also on the level land adjoining the East End school building.

These are by far the most desirable lots in this part of the city, being convenient to the large factories, street cars, churches, schools and stores.

If you are considering the purchase of one or more lots, either for a home or an investment, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity, as these lots will be offered at from 25 to 50 per cent less than the price asked for other lots of equal value in this part of the city.

There is only a limited number of these lots, and the early buyer will get the choice.

Members of the company will be on the premises all day on Saturday, Nov. 1, 1902, in order to show lots and quote prices.

the outside of the doorway, leaning against the door facing with his left hand and grasping his revolver in his coat pocket with the right. The prisoners file out, turn, march down the corridor from him and into their respective cells.

It has been customary for the prisoners to carry blankets from their cells in the morning to place on the benches during the day. Their plan was on coming out some night to go to their bunks, the first two men were to throw one of these blankets over the turnkey's head, overpower and disarm him, and with the assistance of their confederates lock him in one of the cells, then make good their escape.

Besides the 15 prisoners in the basement, three youths from upstairs, Ray McCalmont, Alex Stoffel and Charles Nuby, were lodged there every day.

Another plan of escape suggested was that when these three were let out of the corridor to go upstairs, being always transferred first, they should trip the turnkey and pin him to the floor until the others could come out of the corridor to their assistance.

Still another suggestion was that they should fall upon him as he stooped to fasten the lower lock of the corridor door when their comrades would come to their assistance. The three youths refused to be drawn into the scheme, perceiving the perilous character and well nigh hopelessness of such a move, as did several of the basement prisoners who hung back every night until those bent on escaping had passed the guard to avoid danger should the dash be made. One of the younger prisoners said he saw two of the leaders make a move one night as if to carry out their plan and was so unnerved by the prospect that his knees gave way under him.

From the time suspicion was aroused Deputy Davidson or Sheriff Leonard assisted every night in the transfer of the prisoners and with a man at either end of the corridor the conspirators would have stood no show had they made a break.

By the exercise of some diplomacy among the prisoners Sheriff Leonard and his assistants managed to extort full confessions of the details of the plans to escape from several of them. They also learned that Charles Hutton had robbed Daniel Thomas, one of his fellow inmates, of his watch and some money. Thomas is the insane colored man from Salem who was detained a few days before his removal to the Massillon asylum. Hutton was searched the evening the sheriff learned of the theft and the watch and money were found on his person. These valuables were returned to Mrs. Thomas in Salem.

HOW THE INDIANS VOTE.

They Are Very Deliberate and Then Have a Simple Method.

The Chickasaw Indians cast their vote differently from the way the white man does it. They meet the day before the election, and none but Chickasaws by blood is allowed to vote. No white man or intermarried citizens have the right of suffrage. They go off to themselves and have a powwow. They decide for whom they will vote after considering the matter for twenty-four hours.

The polling place is quite unlike that of the white man. There is a great sheet of paper, white, yellow or brown as the case may be, about three feet square. Upon this sheet of paper are a vast number of cross lines, regularly ruled off with a pencil. Then down one side of the sheet of paper are placed the names of all candidates for office, beginning with the candidates for governor and running on down to precinct officers. At the top of the sheet are the number of blank spaces that will be required for the names of the voters. The judges of election sit by and pass on those entitled to vote, and there is a certainty that no illegal votes are cast.

The Indian is thoroughly deliberate. He takes his time when it comes to voting. He proceeds to the polling place, looks carefully over the poll sheet, and if he is ready to cast his ballot he calls out his name, and the clerk records it on the sheet. Then the clerk reads off the names of the candidates for governor. The voter deliberates awhile, calls out the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote, his vote is recorded, and the names of the candidates for the next office are called out, and so on through the list, till all the offices represented are voted for.

Thus it is that every voter knows exactly how every other voter has cast his ballot, and there are no remarks, no suggestions and no quarrels over differences of opinion.

DESERTED DEVORE SEEKS A DIVORCE

TORONTO MAN WHOSE WIFE ELOPED FILES A PETITION.

His Runaway Wife Came to East Liverpool Not Long Since With Another Man.

Daniel W. Devore, a well known resident of Toronto, has commenced suit for divorce from his wife, Thurza E. Devore.

At the same time he secured an injunction restraining her from disposing of his property, which appears on the county records in her name. The property, he says, consists of a house and lot in Toronto, which cost $1,400, and on which he still owes $600.

In his petition the plaintiff says they were married at Toronto on Christmas day, 1894, and have no children. He alleges that on the 7th of last December his wife deserted him without any just cause and has since refused to live with him; that on September 2, at the boarding house of J. H. Allison in East Liverpool, she and one William Lowery lived together as man and wife; that afterwards they lived together at the boarding house of F. F. Edwards in East Liverpool, and that since that time they have been living together in Cleveland. In addition to a divorce, the plaintiff asks the court to divest his wife of all right and title in his real estate, which is now in her name, and that the court may restore the real estate to him and decree to him the fee simple title in the property.

Lowery was formerly a boarder at the Devore home and is alleged to have run away with Mrs. Devore last September and come to East Liverpool, where he worked for some time for Harvey McHenry, the contractor. Devore is said to have run across the pair at a Cleveland boarding house lately, where he had a fight with Lowery and had him arrested. Mrs. Devore ran out while the men were wrangling and had not been found at last accounts.

BELMONT CLUB BALL

The Affair at Rock Springs Last Night Delightful In All Particulars.

The dance and reception given last evening at Rock Springs by the Belmont club to a large number of friends formed a successful event in every detail. Artistic programs had been selected, which consisted of twenty dances. The booklets were black, with printing in gold letters on the back, to which was attached a scarlet cord and tiny pencil. Throughout the evening the young people were delighted with the selections rendered by McGraw's orchestra. Special cars conveyed the guests to the city at 12:30 o'clock, after an evening spent which will long be remembered by the many friends of the Belmont club.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S PARTY

The Misses Peach Pleasantly Entertained 30 of Their Friends Last Night.

Misses Adelaide and Helen Peach, of Fifth street, very pleasantly entertained 30 of their young friends last evening. Pink and white were the chosen colors for the event, the pink carnation being the favorite flower. The early part of the evening was spent in Halloween games, after which a dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. Peach was assisted by Mrs. William Harris, Miss May Scragg and Mrs. William Erlanger. The out-of-town guests were Mr. Willis Duff, of Allegheny, and Miss Lois Kennedy, of the same city.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A Fine Entertainment By Mrs. Homer J. Taylor In Honor of Her Guests.

Mrs. Homer J. Taylor entertained in elegant manner a number of young girls in honor of Misses Ada Cassidy and Hazel Sebring, at her home on Fifth street. The appointments for the evening were perfect in every respect, and the home was uniquely decorated in strings of yellow corn and jack 'o lanterns. Amusements appropriate for the celebration of Halloween made the evening a festive one. An elaborate luncheon was served later in the evening, and it was with regret that the merry crowd dispersed.

Children's Pleasant Party.

A merry crowd of juveniles assembled last evening at the home of Miss Henrietta Harrison on Seventh street, to spend Halloween. Pink and white crepe paper was arranged in a manner effective throughout the home, and after playing games, the children were invited to the dining room where also ping and white were in evidence, and it was here that the children were most delighted with the dainty luncheon of which they partook.

Among those present from out of town were: Miss Jane Stewart, Chester; Miss Durflinger, London, O.; Miss Lucile Barr, Rochester, Pa.; Miss June Ault, Toronto; Miss Blyth, Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Miss Eva Riley, Crester; Misses Nelson, Wilcoxen, Donnelly, Moorehead, Given. Messrs. Jesse Wilcoxen, Will Jack and Cliff Laughlin, Wellsville; John Jevons, Rochester, Pa.; J. H. Stewart, New Cumberland; and L. Baxter, Chester.

Fifty Were Present.

The Young Girls' Friendly society of St. Stephen's church, on Fourth street, last evening spent a very pleasant time in the parish building. There were about fifty young girls present and the evening was spent in Halloween games and taffy pulling.

OTHER ENTERTAINMENTS.

Mrs. R. E. Rayman will entertain a number of friends at her home on Saturday, November 8, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

The Luther society observed Halloween last evening with a party at the home of Misses Minnie and Tillie Agner on Fourth street.

Misses Edith and Olive Zook entertained a number of their school friends Thursday afternoon at the home of their mother, Mrs. Daisy Zook, of Basil avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan McPherson pleasantly entertained a number of friends at their home north of the city last night, it being their 30th wedding anniversary. The affair was a most enjoyable one, nearly all of the guests being from this city.

Miss Emma Brooks, of Morton street, entertained her friends last evening with a taffy pull. About 20 were present and enjoyed the evening in the good old fashioned way.

Miss Florence Feutis gave a very pleasant party to a large number of friends at her home last night. Many enjoyable features were introduced for the entertainment of the guests.

A large party of young people were entertained last evening at the home of Miss Lucy Bowdler, of Prospect street. Music and games were enjoyed, and the evening was very pleasantly spent.

Miss Jessie Driscoll, of Hale street, was the hostess last evening at a Halloween party. Quite a number of her friends enjoyed a pleasant evening with the amusements incident to the occasion.

Miss Minnie Christy entertained a few of her intimate friends last evening with a Halloween party. Games and music served to amuse the guests and a tempting lunch was served at 10:30 o'clock.

An old-fashioned Halloween party was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. John Staley, at their home on Basil avenue. None of the pleasing features were omitted and the guests enjoyed cider, nuts, popcorn and ghost stories until a late hour.

One of the most pleasant of the many parties given in the city last night was that of Miss Maude Shive, who entertained a select party of friends at her Fifth street home. The evening was spent in music and games, and after the guests had tired of this form of amusement the entire party made a tour of the city, creating havoc wherever they went.

The Affair at Rock Springs Last Night Delightful In All Particulars.

The dance and reception given last evening at Rock Springs by the Belmont club to a large number of friends formed a successful event in every detail. Artistic programs had been selected, which consisted of twenty dances. The booklets were black, with printing in gold letters on the back, to which was attached a scarlet cord and tiny pencil. Throughout the evening the young people were delighted with the selections rendered by McGraw's orchestra. Special cars conveyed the guests to the city at 12:30 o'clock, after an evening spent which will long be remembered by the many friends of the Belmont club.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S PARTY

The Misses Peach Pleasantly Entertained 30 of Their Friends Last Night.

Misses Adelaide and Helen Peach, of Fifth street, very pleasantly entertained 30 of their young friends last evening. Pink and white were the chosen colors for the event, the pink carnation being the favorite flower. The early part of the evening was spent in Halloween games, after which a dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. Peach was assisted by Mrs. William Harris, Miss May Scragg, and Mrs. William Erlanger. The out-of-town guests were Mr. Willis Duff, of Allegheny, and Miss Lois Kennedy, of the same city.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A Fine Entertainment By Mrs. Homer J. Taylor In Honor of Her Guests.

Mrs. Homer J. Taylor entertained in elegant manner a number of young girls in honor of Misses Ada Cassidy and Hazel Sebring, at her home on Fifth street. The appointments for the evening were perfect in every respect, and the home was uniquely decorated in strings of yellow corn and jack 'o lanterns. Amusements appropriate for the celebration of Halloween made the evening a festive one. An elaborate luncheon was served later in the evening, and it was with regret that the merry crowd dispersed.

Children's Pleasant Party.

A merry crowd of juveniles assembled last evening at the home of Miss Henrietta Harrison on Seventh street, to spend Halloween. Pink and white crepe paper was arranged in a manner effective throughout the home, and after playing games, the children were invited to the dining room where also ping and white were in evidence, and it was here that the children were most delighted with the dainty luncheon of which they partook.

Among those present from out of town were: Miss Jane Stewart, Chester; Miss Durflinger, London, O.; Miss Lucile Barr, Rochester, Pa.; Miss June Ault, Toronto; Miss Blyth, Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Miss Eva Riley, Crester; Misses Nelson, Wilcoxen, Donnelly, Moorehead, Given. Messrs. Jesse Wilcoxen, Will Jack and Cliff Laughlin, Wellsville; John Jevons, Rochester, Pa.; J. H. Stewart, New Cumberland; and L. Baxter, Chester.

Fifty Were Present.

The Young Girls' Friendly society of St. Stephen's church, on Fourth street, last evening spent a very pleasant time in the parish building. There were about fifty young girls present and the evening was spent in Halloween games and taffy pulling.

OTHER ENTERTAINMENTS.

Mrs. R. E. Rayman will entertain a number of friends at her home on Saturday, November 8, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

The Luther society observed Halloween last evening with a party at the home of Misses Minnie and Tillie Agner on Fourth street.

Misses Edith and Olive Zook entertained a number of their school friends Thursday afternoon at the home of their mother, Mrs. Daisy Zook, of Basil avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan McPherson pleasantly entertained a number of friends at their home north of the city last night, it being their 30th wedding anniversary. The affair was a most enjoyable one, nearly all of the guests being from this city.

Miss Emma Brooks, of Morton street, entertained her friends last evening with a taffy pull. About 20 were present and enjoyed the evening in the good old fashioned way.

Miss Florence Fouts gave a very pleasant party to a large number of friends at her home last night. Many enjoyable features were introduced for the entertainment of the guests.

A large party of young people were entertained last evening at the home of Miss Lucy Bowdler, of Prospect street. Music and games were enjoyed, and the evening was very pleasantly spent.

Miss Jessie Driscoll, of Hale street, was the hostess last evening at a Halloween party. Quite a number of her friends enjoyed a pleasant evening with the amusements incident to the occasion.

Miss Minnie Christy entertained a few of her intimate friends last evening with a Halloween party. Games and music served to amuse the guests and a tempting lunch was served at 10:30 o'clock.

An old-fashioned Halloween party was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. John Staley, at their home on Basil avenue. None of the pleasing features were omitted and the guests enjoyed cider, nuts, popcorn and ghost stories until a late hour.

One of the most pleasant of the many parties given in the city last night was that of Miss Maude Shive, who entertained a select party of friends at her Fifth street home. The evening was spent in music and games, and after the guests had tired of this form of amusement the entire party made a tour of the city, creating havoc wherever they went.

Her Housework

Easily Performed After Taking Blood Wine

Women who find it difficult to do their housework, who drag about their home with hardly energy enough to lift a broom, who are all tired out; who ache, are lame, languid and distressed, will find in "Blood Wine" a medicine whose peculiar strength-giving properties make it impossible for these all too common ills to exist. A great many women neglect themselves, and disease follows. "Blood Wine" should be on the kitchen shelf of every home. If taken when one enjoys good health it will keep one from getting out of order. If taken after disease has fastened itself upon the system it will quickly throw it off. Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh of 22 Isabella St., Boston, Mass., owes her present good health to "Blood Wine," though she almost died before she got hold of the medicine. She says:

"I suffered for years with a general run-down condition, due to a bad condition of the blood, which produced a type of dyspepsia. I had at times pains that almost drove me wild, and that left me with scarcely strength enough to get around. A friend, one day, to whom I was telling my story, asked me to try 'Blood Wine,' as it had done her so much good. So I did. I began with small doses and increased as I improved. I soon got so I could eat bread and milk. I continued with the medicine until I had taken several bottles and was entirely cured. Now I eat anything, am strong, healthy and happy, and attribute it all to 'Blood Wine.'"

Womb afflictions, periodical sufferings, and the general lassitude resulting will quickly disappear when the blood is properly treated. It provides nourishment and strength and brings about a natural condition in all the organs. Mrs. Bertha Sanborn of 50 Germaine St., Boston, will testify to that. Her experiences are as follows:

"Your 'Blood Wine' has done more for me than I could express in a letter. I have been subject to womb trouble all my life, and have taken all sorts of treatment for it without getting permanent relief until I took 'Blood Wine.' I am only too glad to recommend it."

It also cured the mother of Mrs. Howard Warren of 143 Main St., Concord, N. H. She is a woman over ninety. The powerful action of "Blood Wine" in the blood creates normal action and drives off disease. Mrs. Warren's experience illustrates this. She says:

"I have used 'Blood Wine' for both myself and my mother, who is now quite old, and have found it an invaluable remedy for colds and coughs, as well as a phenomenal stimulant for the blood and nerves. It quickly overcomes any irritation of the throat or lungs, and seems to be the ideal medicine for aged people."

Nearly all diseases have their origin in the blood. It is foolish and a waste of time and money to try and cure them without removing the cause. If you want to be cured, to stay cured, to get your system in a thoroughly healthy condition, you can do it with "Blood Wine," because "Blood Wine" removes the cause. "Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.

FREE BLOOD TEST.

If you don't know what germs are in your blood, the surest way is to have your blood examined. Send your name to the Louis Daudelin Co., Worcester, Mass., for particulars. You can have an expert bacteriologist analyze your blood under a powerful microscope and send you a detailed report, without charge. Remember that nearly all diseases have their origin in the blood. You can learn your true condition through an examination of the blood. Take advantage of this offer today. It was never made before.

MUNICIPAL CODE.

The New One Obeys the Ohio Constitution.

POWER RIGHT WITH THE PEOPLE.

Fewer Changes From Existing Conditions and Closer to the Voters Than Any Other Plan Proposed. Governor Nash Narrates the Need For the New Law.

Columbus, O., Oct. 24.—A great Republican meeting filled the spacious Board of Trade auditorium tonight. The Columbus Glee club, with their songs, filled a large part of the time, although brief Republican speeches were interspersed. Secretary of State Laylin presided. Governor George K. Nash made the principal speech in response to requests for a statement about the new municipal code. He spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow-Citizens:

We have a constitution framed by our fathers, and under which the people of Ohio have lived for more than 50 years. This organic law permitted, or rather commanded the general assembly to provide by general laws for the organization of cities and incorporated villages. It further commanded that the general assembly should not pass any special act conferring corporate powers. Under these limitations we must have a uniform law for the organization of cities and uniform law for the organization of villages.

More than 30 years ago, the general assembly began the violation of these commands of the constitution by classifying cities—organizing some cities in one way and other cities in another. This happened because the general assembly were impressed with the idea that certain cities required certain provisions in their charters which were unnecessary in other cities. The evil grew. Matters went from bad to worse, until the time came when in Ohio scarcely two cities were organized in the same manner, or under the same law.

This continued violation of the law of the constitution could not go on forever. The time must come when a crisis would be reached. It did come in June of this year, when the supreme court practically declared all these laws to be unconstitutional and void. All our municipalities were left without law, without government, and in a state of chaos.

To ameliorate the evils of the situation, the court postponed the execution of its decree until the general assembly could provide some sort of constitutional government for our municipalities. This was a most perilous crisis, requiring extraordinary action. But one thing seemed to remain to be done, and that was to call an extra session of the legislature. Many good people feared this. Some suggested that it be postponed until after the November election. It seemed to me that this would not be a courageous thing to do. I reflected that a majority of the members in each branch of the assembly were Republicans. The one thing in the history of this party, in all its history, which is the boast of its lovers and adherents, and of which I am most proud, is its ability to seize hold of any great emergency whenever it arises and meet it with courage and solve the difficulty to the great benefit of all the people. Therefore, I called the general assembly of the state in extraordinary session on the 25th day of August.

The session continued until the 22nd of October. The result is that we now have a code for the government of our cities and villages uniform in its operation, and in strict compliance with the constitution. Under it we will have municipal government built upon the same principles which characterize the government of the United States. There will be three branches of government—the legislative, the executive and the judicial—each independent of the other, and each having its appropriate duties to perform, without interference by the other or others. These principles have been held sacred in the federal and state governments, and are just as essential to the success and well-being of municipal governments. It provides that all contracts made and rights granted under pre-existing laws shall stand. This was required by good faith and of honest men. It does not make radical changes. It permits our cities to have the same rights and privileges, and to do about the same things that they have done in the past. It gives to the people the right to elect all their principal executive, legislative and judicial officers, and does not give to any one man the power to construct a personal machine. That we may have model municipal government in Ohio but one thing remains to be done. That is for the people to take an interest in their own business, and to look after it as they do after their private affairs, and see that honest, efficient men are elected as municipal officers. Without such intelligent action by the people, no mere form of government will save their public business from disgrace and disaster.

The task accomplished by the general assembly was not an easy nor an idle one. It was confronted by the conflicting interests—real or imaginary—of seventy odd cities. These had to be compromised or reconciled. Then there were many differing theories of municipal government advocated by sincere and able men. There was an ever vigilant political enemy, constantly throwing blocks under the wheels for political effect alone. For what was accomplished under these circumstances the Seventy-fifth general assembly deserves the highest praise.

The self-assumed, self-appointed and temporary leader of the Democratic party attacks the new code. A demagogue who never in private life practiced what he now preaches, shouts as his battle-cry, "Home rule and just taxation."

"Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cleveland seems to mean Tom L. Johnson as mayor, elected by the people, with all the principal officers of the city appointed by him, and a rate of taxation increased in one year from $2.67 upon one hundred dollars to $3.05. "Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cincinnati means a competent, upright mayor, Julius Fleischmann, elected by the people, surrounded by faithful officials, also elected by the people, and a rate of taxation reduced in one year from $2.48 upon the one hundred dollars to $2.31, the lowest rate of taxation in any city in the state of Ohio. "Home rule and just taxation" in the state of Ohio means a governor and the principal state officials all elected by the people, and the rate of taxation upon real and personal property reduced in one year by more than one-half. As for me, I prefer "home rule and just taxation" as exemplified by the Republican party in the city of Cincinnati, and in the state of Ohio, to "home rule and just taxation" as practiced by Tom L. Johnson in the city of Cleveland. I sincerely hope that the people of Ohio by their votes on the fourth day of November will show that they are of the same opinion.

IMPORTANT POINTS ABOUT THE CODE.

In addition to what Governor Nash said, the following are among many strong points in favor of the code as now before the people for the test of its practical operation:

In addition to what the governor has said so clearly many other points of importance about the new municipal code might be made. Among these are the following:

It increases very considerably the power of the city council, elected by the people.

It brings home to the people, through the council, an enlarged power for prompt and thorough action for the public needs heretofore reserved for the legislature.

It makes the council represent the entire city by adding members at large.

It stops dickering for the organization of the council by making its president and clerk, or auditor, elective by the people.

It makes a larger proportion of the executive officers elected by the people. There are enough officers provided for the larger cities, while the smallest need incur no extra expense on account of any positions which it does not need as yet, but which are allotted to it in obedience to the supreme court and constitutional requirements of uniformity in all cities.

It gives the mayor the responsibility for naming every appointive officer. If he picks out strong, suitable men for the bi-partisan board of public safety the responsibility for any rejection rests with the council; only in that event can the governor intervene.

The mayor is the executive head of the police and fire departments, whose members are selected and protected in their positions by the merit system, administered by the bi-partisan board of public safety, thus ensuring capacity and stability in both departments.

Another reform is protection by statute against partisan gerrymander of councilmanic districts, or wards, and against ripper legislation.

In case of cities that are carrying debts the sinking fund commission provides a plan and protection for the payment of all debts. This will enhance municipal credit and save the taxpayers great sums annually.

A check, always needed, now provided for the first time, upon excessive local taxation is made by giving the sinking fund commission control of all local tax levies.

In case of public improvements new checks and safeguards are provided against excessive special taxation.

Another important new protection for the public interests is in giving the mayor the veto power, and requiring a two-thirds vote of council to overcome his objections.

The plan adopted comes closest in its general features to the system already in operation in most of the cities of the state, excepting the two that have had the so-called federal system. It differs from those in making the principal officers elected by the people, and not creatures of the mayor, and in putting the subordinate officers under a stringent merit system.

Other very vital objections to the federal plan have been that it gave the mayor a veto upon all proposed legislation in council, because the approval of the mayor and his cabinet was required before the submission of measures to the council, and after that the mayor and his cabinet had the right to oppose measures on the floor in open council, in the way practiced in the British parliament. This is a foreign and not a federal plan, and is not like anything American.

The new code limits the city levy to 10 mills on each dollar of taxable property, exclusive of levies for schools, libraries, university, hospital and interest purposes, and any higher rate must be approved by two-thirds of council and two-thirds of the electors before it can go into effect.

Temporary loans, secured by the council, can run only six months. Deficiency bonds may run for 50 years, to secure the lowest interest rate, but they must never exceed 1 per cent of the tax duplicate, and must be approved by two-thirds of the city council and two-thirds of the voters.

FREE TRADE TRUSTS.

Thousands of Them In Lands Without Protection.

Congressman Littlefield made a little speech the other day at Lewiston, Maine, which the Democrats have been studying carefully. They are not sure after all, that this is such a good year for "tariff reform." After ridiculing the Democracy for its hard luck in getting only criticism for its attacks upon the American army, he commented on the Democratic statement that the "tariff fosters the trusts." In the first place, he stated that there are thousands of corporations that are not fostered by the tariff, the biggest trust in the country, Standard Oil, leading them. Anthracite is a trust and there is no protection on that. Then go to free trade England, he said, and you will find the county honeycombed with trusts; they have been there since 1640. They are all over Europe and in countries that have never heard of a tariff. But, continued Mr. Littlefield, strike off the tariff, and who goes to the wall first? Why, it is the weaker party, the individual competitor.

SHORT, SHARP SAYINGS.

Many Newspapers Contribute to the Campaign.

It seems that everybody praises Roosevelt. Stop a moment and think what a vote of confidence a sweeping Republican victory in November would be.—Dayton Herald.

When the new code is in working order it will no doubt be found to be a much better way for the government of cities and towns than the old way, which it displaces.—Lancaster Gazette.

"When a street railroad magnate in Detroit, Tom Johnson fought the attempt of Pingree to reduce fares on his lines, going clear to the supreme court of the United States with the suit." Voters do not desire that kind of reformers.

Every Republican who stands firmly for Republican principles will vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom. It is the straight ticket that counts and is most easily counted by the election officers. Vote the full state and county ticket and see that your neighbor does the same.

There ought not to be any difficulty in arousing interest in the Ohio political campaign this year. If you believe in the continuance of good times, and we believe all do, you can surely take the time to go to the polls on election day and continue in power the party that brought the good times about.—Auglaize Republican.

Senator Hanna hit the nail on the head in his Logan speech when he said that no business man or laboring man should be so busy that he did not have time to go to the election and vote for the continuance of prosperity. We had a case of that kind in 1892, but the people of this country had a plenty of leisure for a good while afterwards.—Logan Journal-Gazette.

Johnson's Advice to Democrats.

If at any time you feel that you can not trust a Democratic candidate and feel that you can trust the Republican, vote for the Republican.—Tom L. Johnson in speech at Orrville.

The Real Test.

Hardup—I tried to sell those diamonds I bought of you and was told they were not genuine.

Jeweler—Did you sell them?

Hardup—Yes, for almost nothing.

Jeweler—Well, you go back and try to buy them, and you will find out that they are genuine.—New York Weekly.

An Impossible Condition.

"You say you can't afford to hire a clerk. Why don't you get your wife to do your typewriting?"

"Impossible! She wouldn't submit to any dictation."—Richmond Dispatch.

Fears Long Drawn Out.

Diggs—Rounder is quite ill.

Biggs—Indeed! His wife naturally has grave fears about him, I suppose?

Diggs—Yes. In fact, I think her fears extend beyond the grave.—Exchange.

A woman is not real old fashioned unless she makes a salve for neighborhood use for cuts, bruises and burns.—Atchison Globe.

Her Housework

Women who find it difficult to do their housework, who drag about their home with hardly energy enough to lift a broom, who are all tired out; who ache, are lame, languid and distressed, will find in "Blood Wine" a medicine whose peculiar strength-giving properties make it impossible for these all too common ills to exist. A great many women neglect themselves, and disease follows. "Blood Wine" should be on the kitchen shelf of every home. If taken when one enjoys good health it will keep one from getting out of order. If taken after disease has fastened itself upon the system it will quickly throw it off. Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh of 22 Isabella St., Boston, Mass., owes her present good health to "Blood Wine," though she almost died before she got hold of the medicine. She says:

"I suffered for years with a general run-down condition, due to a bad condition of the blood, which produced a type of dyspepsia. I had at times pains that almost drove me wild, and that left me with scarcely strength enough to get around. A friend, one day, to whom I was telling my story, asked me to try 'Blood Wine,' as it had done her so much good. So I did. I began with small doses and increased as I improved. I soon got so I could eat bread and milk. I continued with the medicine until I had taken several bottles and was entirely cured. Now I eat anything, am strong, healthy and happy, and attribute it all to 'Blood Wine.'"

Womb afflictions, periodical sufferings, and the general lassitude resulting will quickly disappear when the blood is properly treated. It provides nourishment and strength and brings about a natural condition in all the organs. Mrs. Bertha Sanborn of 50 Germaine St., Boston, will testify to that. Her experiences are as follows:

"Your 'Blood Wine' has done more for me than I could express in a letter. I have been subject to womb trouble all my life, and have taken all sorts of treatment for it without getting permanent relief until I took 'Blood Wine.' I am only too glad to recommend it."

It also cured the mother of Mrs. Howard Warren of 143 Main St., Concord, N. H. She is a woman over ninety. The powerful action of "Blood Wine" in the blood creates normal action and drives off disease. Mrs. Warren's experience illustrates this. She says:

"I have used 'Blood Wine' for both myself and my mother, who is now quite old, and have found it an invaluable remedy for colds and coughs, as well as a phenomenal stimulant for the blood and nerves. It quickly overcomes any irritation of the throat or lungs, and seems to be the ideal medicine for aged people."

Nearly all diseases have their origin in the blood. It is foolish and a waste of time and money to try and cure them without removing the cause. If you want to be cured, to stay cured, to get your system in a thoroughly healthy condition, you can do it with "Blood Wine," because "Blood Wine" removes the cause. "Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.

FREE BLOOD TEST.

If you don't know what germs are in your blood, the surest way is to have your blood examined. Send your name to the Louis Daude Bit Co., Worcester, Mass., for particulars. You can have an expert bacteriologist analyze your blood under a powerful microscope and send you a detailed report, without charge. Remember that nearly all diseases have their origin in the blood. You can learn your true condition through an examination of the blood. Take advantage of this offer today. It was never made before.

MUNICIPAL CODE.

The New One Obeys the Ohio Constitution.

POWER RIGHT WITH THE PEOPLE.

Fewer Changes From Existing Conditions and Closer to the Voters Than Any Other Plan Proposed. Governor Nash Narrates the Need For the New Law.

Columbus, O., Oct. 24.—A great Republican meeting filled the spacious Board of Trade auditorium tonight. The Columbus Glee club, with their songs, filled a large part of the time, although brief Republican speeches were interspersed. Secretary of State Laylin presided. Governor George K. Nash made the principal speech in response to requests for a statement about the new municipal code. He spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow-Citizens:

We have a constitution framed by our fathers, and under which the people of Ohio have lived for more than 50 years. This organic law permitted, or rather commanded the general assembly to provide by general laws for the organization of cities and incorporated villages. It further commanded that the general assembly should not pass any special act conferring corporate powers. Under these limitations we must have a uniform law for the organization of cities and uniform law for the organization of villages.

More than 30 years ago, the general assembly began the violation of these commands of the constitution by classifying cities—organizing some cities in one way and other cities in another. This happened because the general assembly were impressed with the idea that certain cities required certain provisions in their charters which were unnecessary in other cities. The evil grew. Matters went from bad to worse, until the time came when in Ohio scarcely two cities were organized in the same manner, or under the same law.

This continued violation of the law of the constitution could not go on forever. The time must come when a crisis would be reached. It did come in June of this year, when the supreme court practically declared all these laws to be unconstitutional and void. All our municipalities were left without law, without government, and in a state of chaos.

To ameliorate the evils of the situation, the court postponed the execution of its decree until the general assembly could provide some sort of constitutional government for our municipalities. This was a most perilous crisis, requiring extraordinary action. But one thing seemed to remain to be done, and that was to call an extra session of the legislature. Many good people feared this. Some suggested that it be postponed until after the November election. It seemed to me that this would not be a courageous thing to do. I reflected that a majority of the members in each branch of the assembly were Republicans. The one thing in the history of this party, in all its history, which is the boast of its lovers and adherents, and of which I am most proud, is its ability to seize hold of any great emergency whenever it arises and meet it with courage and solve the difficulty to the great benefit of all the people. Therefore, I called the general assembly of the state in extraordinary session on the 25th day of August.

The session continued until the 22nd of October. The result is that we now have a code for the government of our cities and villages uniform in its operation, and in strict compliance with the constitution. Under it we will have municipal government built upon the same principles which characterize the government of the United States. There will be three branches of government—the legislative, the executive and the judicial—each independent of the other, and each having its appropriate duties to perform, without interference by the other or others. These principles have been held sacred in the federal and state governments, and are just as essential to the success and well-being of municipal governments. It provides that all contracts made and rights granted under pre-existing laws shall stand. This was required by good faith and of honest men. It does not make radical changes. It permits our cities to have the same rights and privileges, and to do about the same things that they have done in the past. It gives to the people the right to elect all their principal executive, legislative and judicial officers, and does not give to any one man the power to construct a personal machine. That we may have model municipal government in Ohio but one thing remains to be done. That is for the people to take an interest in their own business, and to look after it as they do after their private affairs, and see that honest, efficient men are elected as municipal officers. Without such intelligent action by the people, no mere form of government will save their public business from disgrace and disaster.

The task accomplished by the general assembly was not an easy nor an idle one. It was confronted by the conflicting interests—real or imaginary—of seventy odd cities. These had to be compromised or reconciled. Then there were many differing theories of municipal government advocated by sincere and able men. There was an ever vigilant political enemy, constantly throwing blocks under the wheels for political effect alone. For what was accomplished under these circumstances the Seventy-fifth general assembly deserves the highest praise.

The self-assumed, self-appointed and temporary leader of the Democratic party attacks the new code. A demagogue who never in private life practiced what he now preaches, shouts as his battle-cry, "Home rule and just taxation."

"Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cleveland seems to mean Tom L. Johnson as mayor, elected by the people, with all the principal officers of the city appointed by him, and a rate of taxation increased in one year from $2.67 upon one hundred dollars to $3.05. "Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cincinnati means a competent, upright mayor, Julius Fleischmann, elected by the people, surrounded by faithful officials, also elected by the people, and a rate of taxation reduced in one year from $2.48 upon the one hundred dollars to $2.31, the lowest rate of taxation in any city in the state of Ohio. "Home rule and just taxation" in the state of Ohio means a governor and the principal state officials all elected by the people, and the rate of taxation upon real and personal property reduced in one year by more than one-half. As for me, I prefer "home rule and just taxation" as exemplified by the Republican party in the city of Cincinnati, and in the state of Ohio, to "home rule and just taxation" as practiced by Tom L. Johnson in the city of Cleveland. I sincerely hope that the people of Ohio by their votes on the fourth day of November will show that they are of the same opinion.

IMPORTANT POINTS ABOUT THE CODE.

In addition to what Governor Nash said, the following are among many strong points in favor of the code as now before the people for the test of its practical operation:

In addition to what the governor has said so clearly many other points of importance about the new municipal code might be made. Among these are the following:

It increases very considerably the power of the city council, elected by the people.

It brings home to the people, through the council, an enlarged power for prompt and thorough action for the public needs heretofore reserved for the legislature.

It makes the council represent the entire city by adding members at large.

It stops dickering for the organization of the council by making its president and clerk, or auditor, elective by the people.

It makes a larger proportion of the executive officers elected by the people. There are enough officers provided for the larger cities, while the smallest need incur no extra expense on account of any positions which it does not need as yet, but which are allotted to it in obedience to the supreme court and constitutional requirements of uniformity in all cities.

It gives the mayor the responsibility for naming every appointive officer. If he picks out strong, suitable men for the bi-partisan board of public safety the responsibility for any rejection rests with the council; only in that event can the governor intervene.

The mayor is the executive head of the police and fire departments, whose members are selected and protected in their positions by the merit system, administered by the bi-partisan board of public safety, thus ensuring capacity and stability in both departments.

Another reform is protection by statute against partisan gerrymander of councilmanic districts, or wards, and against ripper legislation.

In case of cities that are carrying debts the sinking fund commission provides a plan and protection for the payment of all debts. This will enhance municipal credit and save the taxpayers great sums annually.

A check, always needed, now provided for the first time, upon excessive local taxation is made by giving the sinking fund commission control of all local tax levies.

In case of public improvements new checks and safeguards are provided against excessive special taxation.

Another important new protection for the public interests is in giving the mayor the veto power, and requiring a two-thirds vote of council to overcome his objections.

The plan adopted comes closest in its general features to the system already in operation in most of the cities of the state, excepting the two that have had the so-called federal system. It differs from those in making the principal officers elected by the people, and not creatures of the mayor, and in putting the subordinate officers under a stringent merit system.

Other very vital objections to the federal plan have been that it gave the mayor a veto upon all proposed legislation in council, because the approval of the mayor and his cabinet was required before the submission of measures to the council, and after that the mayor and his cabinet had the right to oppose measures on the floor in open council, in the way practiced in the British parliament. This is a foreign and not a federal plan, and is not like anything American.

The new code limits the city levy to 10 mills on each dollar of taxable property, exclusive of levies for schools, libraries, university, hospital and interest purposes, and any higher rate must be approved by two-thirds of council and two-thirds of the electors before it can go into effect.

Temporary loans, secured by the council, can run only six months. Deficiency bonds may run for 50 years, to secure the lowest interest rate, but they must never exceed 1 per cent of the tax duplicate, and must be approved by two-thirds of the city council and two-thirds of the voters.

FREE TRADE TRUSTS.

Thousands of Them In Lands Without Protection.

Congressman Littlefield made a little speech the other day at Lewiston, Maine, which the Democrats have been studying carefully. They are not sure after all, that this is such a good year for "tariff reform." After ridiculing the Democracy for its hard luck in getting only criticism for its attacks upon the American army, he commented on the Democratic statement that the "tariff fosters the trusts." In the first place, he stated that there are thousands of corporations that are not fostered by the tariff, the biggest trust in the country, Standard Oil, leading them. Anthracite is a trust and there is no protection on that. Then go to free trade England, he said, and you will find the county honeycombed with trusts; they have been there since 1640. They are all over Europe and in countries that have never heard of a tariff. But, continued Mr. Littlefield, strike off the tariff, and who goes to the wall first? Why, it is the weaker party, the individual competitor.

SHORT, SHARP SAYINGS.

Many Newspapers Contribute to the Campaign.

It seems that everybody praises Roosevelt. Stop a moment and think what a vote of confidence a sweeping Republican victory in November would be.—Dayton Herald.

When the new code is in working order it will no doubt be found to be a much better way for the government of cities and towns than the old way, which it displaces.—Lancaster Gazette.

"When a street railroad magnate in Detroit, Tom Johnson fought the attempt of Pingree to reduce fares on his lines, going clear to the supreme court of the United States with the suit." Voters do not desire that kind of reformers.

Every Republican who stands firmly for Republican principles will vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom. It is the straight ticket that counts and is most easily counted by the election officers. Vote the full state and county ticket and see that your neighbor does the same.

There ought not to be any difficulty in arousing interest in the Ohio political campaign this year. If you believe in the continuance of good times, and we believe all do, you can surely take the time to go to the polls on election day and continue in power the party that brought the good times about.—Auglaize Republican.

Senator Hanna hit the nail on the head in his Logan speech when he said that no business man or laboring man should be so busy that he did not have time to go to the election and vote for the continuance of prosperity. We had a case of that kind in 1892, but the people of this country had a plenty of leisure for a good while afterwards.—Logan Journal-Gazette.

OUR NATIVE TREES

... By ...

THOMAS H. MACBRIDE, Ph. D.,

I.—What Is a Tree?

TREES in our country are fortunately so common as almost to pass without definition. Everybody knows a tree and knows all about it too. At least he thinks he does. He knows that a tree has an erect persistent stem, wide-spreading or deep descending roots, waving, far extending branches and abundant leaves, casting in summer a grateful shade, in autumn falling. He knows that trees, some of them at least, bear flowers and fruits and seed, reproducing the species "after their kind." This much everybody knows, and these indeed are some of the patent, obvious features of a tree. Nevertheless, as may be suspected, this is only an outside or surface view of the subject. When we come to inquire how the tree comes to be what it is, how it does all the things that we see it do, how it pushes the roots through the hard ground where a plow can hardly go, how the leaves elaborate its food, how it builds stem and bark and branch and carries pound after pound, ton after ton, away up into the air, how it endures while living summer's drought and winter's cold, not for a few years, but year after year, for centuries and centuries—when we begin to think of trees in this way, it is plain that all our surface knowledge counts but little. We are in the presence of a mechanism of wonderful efficiency, but also of great complexity, whose delicate adjustments may tax the cunning of the wisest.

Now, in a few short chapters which constitute this course a complete answer to the problem of the tree or even a complete statement of it is certainly not to be expected. We may perhaps study the problem in some of its simpler aspects, learn a little of the structure of a tree, of its history, and more of its utility and exceeding value to enlightened men and nations.

Perhaps the most striking peculiarity of the tree is its persistence. Other plants grow, send up stems and leaves and flowers, begin many of the things done by the tree, but these presently perish, survive a few months or years at most and are gone. Only plants of the tree type seem able to accumulate, to carry forward the work of life and make each year contributory to life's perennial triumph. Fortunately this particular property of the tree, taking things as they are, admits of comparatively simple explanation. We find the explanation in so far in the tree's structure, just as in the case of any mechanism we may study the parts and find out how they work and so understand the machine. If we make a thin cross section of the stem of a small tree and lay the section under the lens of a microscope, we shall see something like that shown in the accompanying illustration, which is indeed from a photograph of such a section.

Here the whole section seems made up of little rings. The early observers thought these rings looked like a section of a honeycomb and accordingly called them cells. At a glance we perceive that the rings or cells are not alike. They differ greatly in size and shape. A second glance shows us that the cells fall easily into groups which form together a circle around within the margin. The cells which make up this band or circle are in the growing tree, all living cells and all active, each in its own way. Within the limits assigned us here we may not consider them all, but must pay attention to the very smallest only, those that make up a narrow band, marked C in the figure. It is to these tiniest but ever living cells that the tree of the forest owes it character, its long enduring vigor. Being living cells, these can grow, and by their peculiar way of growing they accomplish three things—they lie between bark and wood, and all the time in the growing season those on the outside become transformed into cells that make up the cortex, ultimately the bark, and are added to its inner surface; those on the inside are in a similar way passing over into the form of the cells of ordinary wood, either to form wood de novo or to be added to the wood already in position; the middle cells of the band simply divide and divide and so keep up a perennial supply of cells of such plastic sort. Here is the secret of the tree's endurance and of its increase in thickness, for we must remember we are studying a cross section of the tree, taken anywhere, and we must therefore conceive these tiny cells to form a living sheath covering the whole tree, lying between bark and wood. In spring we very easily pull the bark from a living tree—a willow, for instance—the separation occurring in the plane of this living but proportionately delicate cell layer. This living, active layer has long been named the cambium. We shall refer to it again.

But let us look at our section again. We may discover still another peculiarity. The border cells arrange themselves in groups, with slight intervals between. The cells of these intervals are continuous with the large cells of the middle, with the pith, or medulla. They may be regarded as at first part of the medulla. They form the medullary rays. They build as they grow vertical plates radiating outwardly from the center of the tree. At first the plates are comparatively few, but as growth proceeds the primary rays are continually re-enforced by others, originating indeed in the persistent cambium and intercalated between those already formed until their number, as may be seen in any bit of wood, as oak, becomes very great. Split a piece of such wood, and the medullary plates appear and shine, called by the artisan "silver grain."

Let us now recapitulate the structures of the stem as we have studied them. In the center of our section lies the medulla, or pith, bounded on the outer side by a ring of forming wood. Next to this outwardly lies the cambium, beyond which, again, is the cortex, the forming structures of the bark. The elements of bark and wood are gathered plainly into groups, and intervening between these several groups, intercepting what would be otherwise a continuous arc, occur the medullary rays.

Trees as Air Purifiers.

P. Schuyler Mathews in a recently issued work on "Familiar Trees and Their Leaves" says: "The greatest sphere of usefulness which a tree occupies is connected with its life. It is a great air purifier. It absorbs from the atmosphere the carbonic acid gas which is poisonous to us, it holds and slowly dispenses moisture which the parched air needs, it gives out the ozone (or oxygen in an active electro negative condition) which is particularly conducive to our health and it modifies heat which would otherwise be overpowering. Step into the thick woods from an open space on a very hot day, and immediately relief is experienced from the intense heat. This is not wholly the result of shade furnished by the trees. Much of it proceeds from the modification of the air through the breathing of the tree leaves.

"I have estimated that a certain sugar maple of large proportions which grows near my cottage puts forth in one season about 432,000 leaves. These leaves combined present a surface to sunlight of about 21,600 square feet, or an area equal to pretty nearly half an acre. Every inch of this expanse breathes in life for the tree and out health for man, while it absorbs in the aggregate an enormous amount of heat and sunlight."

Washington Beautified.

The city of Washington has set a good example to American municipalities in the matter of tree planting. Within its limits there are now no less than 80,000 shade trees, and it is unnecessary to dwell on the added beauty they lend to the place. Paris has an even greater number, and it is said that $60,000 is expended annually by the latter city in the care of them and in the setting out of new ones. Every street of a certain width is entitled to a row of trees on either side and every street of a certain greater width to a double row.

IS HE A DEMOCRAT?

The Head of the Ohio Democratic Ticket.

HOW HE MALIGNED M'KINLEY.

Bigelow Active In Two National Conventions, Neither of Them the Democratic, Only Two Years Ago—Why Did Johnson Nominate Him?

An Open Letter to Hon. Tom L. Johnson.

Sir: Was Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, now head of the Ohio Democratic ticket by your own selection, a Democrat two short years ago? If he was a Democrat in August, 1900, of which there is no evidence, had he become one a month after going to the Silver Republican party's national convention in Kansas City, July 4, 5 and 6, 1900? "The Rev. Dr. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, O.," say the reports, offered prayer at the opening of the sessions. Is that your Bigelow? A Silver Republican then; when did he become a Democrat, if ever? You say that you do not favor the free silver, 16 to 1 idea. Does Bigelow? The convention that he attended endorsed that doctrine, as the New York World Almanac shows, and went further by demanding the issue of all paper money by the government, and at. of it "a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private without exception." Bigelow believed he believed that in 1900. Does he stil in 1902? Do you? If you do not believe in the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1" by the United States alone, or in making limitless fiat money with a printing press, why have you put their supporter upon your ticket? Did you tell the Ohio Democrats of this man's record on these grea. questions?

He took full part in the cruel abuse of McKinley. Did you advise them of that? Did you explain how recently he did not even call himself a Democrat? Was there not among all the Democrats of Ohio one real Democrat that you would trust at the top of your ticket? Or was there no Democrat of character and repute in his party who would trust himself on the ticket you should dictate, with the platform of departures from Democracy that you might demand?

Didn't you know Bigelow better, or his bitterness against McKinley, and his free silver, rag paper money record? Or did you know it all and approve? Or did you condone his offense? Or was there one real reason, and that is that Bigelow is a single taxer? While you got the Democrats to nominate him, was not your underlying reason for favoring him as against every Democrat, the fact that he is a follower of Henry George's plan for taking away all private property in land, confiscating it by taxation, to make it public property?

Do you think the single tax so much greater in consequence than all other questions that Bigelow's professed belief in it outbalanced all beside, even the slump to silver, the repudiation by flat money, and worst of all his part in the maligning that cost the nation McKinley's precious life?

William McKinley, the martyred president, was murdered as an echo of the abuse heaped upon him for doing the right as God gave him to see the right, to quote Aoraham Lincoln's words. Back of the bullet and the assassin stood the men who denounced our beloved chief magistrate with the utmost vehemence. Pre-eminent among these were the Anti-Imperialists, who lasned themselves into fury over the imagined but impossible proposition that President McKinley planned an empire with himself on its throne.

The National Anti-Imperialist league held a liberty congress, as they called it, at Indianapolis, Aug. 15 and 16, 1900. The elaborate platform adopted as quoted in the New York World Almanac (1901, p149) denounces the president all through, for undertaking "to rule by despotic power," and "without constitutional restraint." They declared that McKinley "prosecuted a war of conquest," that he governed "by arbitrary power; this is imperialism." They demanded that the people stamp upon McKinley's "attempt to grasp imperial power," "to subvert the character of their government and to destroy their national ideals." To oppose, to crush "imperialism," was their solemn purpose. The resolutions were mild compared with their speeches.

Not many months later the grief of the country and of the world beside the murdered McKinley answered all those atrocious accusations. What did you think of them when they were uttered? What did your man Bigelow think of them? The record reads that his name stood second on the committee that drafted these dastardly slanders upon President McKinley, and that he was one of the speech makers of this convention of haranguers against that gentle lover of peace. Did you not know that about Bigelow? If you knew so little about Bigelow, why did you put him on the Ohio Democratic ticket? If you did know of his prominence as an Anti-Imperialist, does your dictating his nomination mean that you still endorse that bitter and false arraignment of McKinley? Respectfully,

CHARLES DICK.

This Year's Work With Republican Laws by Republicans.

The farmers got the good of the anti-trust law enforcement of the present year at Chicago, Kansas City and in Texas, by the United States department of justice, as reported by Attorney General Knox. Six suits at Chicago and eight at Kansas City against offending railroads secured injunctions that broke up the elevator discriminations, restored uniform rates, gave small grain buyers a chance again, and through them opened wide markets for the producers. Mr. Knox also threatens to indict offending officials. Similar suits in behalf of the cotton growers of the South, stopped their troubles and brought the railroads to time. The suits against the beef trust are moving right ahead.

All this is the work of Republican officials enforcing laws enacted by Republicans against Democratic opposition. The only Democratic president, in four years under these same laws never did a thing. Roosevelt is making them count, and Attorney General Knox is preparing still more stringent statutes. By your vote stand by Roosevelt.

Regular Democrats Out of the Johnson Campaign.

The chairman of the Republican state committee may be wasting a good deal of time in calling attention to the inconsistencies and radicalisms of Tom Johnson, but he certainly is not impertinent in doing so. It is the literal truth that Mr. Johnson is about all there is visible of the Ohio Democracy this year. At the state convention of the party in September Johnson not only named the ticket but wrote the platform and dictated the organization. The chairman of the Democratic state committee gets his orders from the fat man from Cleveland and the latter's automobile and circus tent have made up the entire Democratic campaign. The old wheelhorses of Democracy have either not been called to the stump or have not been disposed to promote the new order of things by responding. The significance of their absence is not less in one case than in the other. Johnson and his single tax satellite, the Rev. Bigelow, have been "the whole thing."—Toledo Times.

The Democrats in the Ohio legislature marked the close of the session by singing blasphemous songs. They evidently found their level.—Steubenville Herald-Star.

... By ...
THOMAS H. MACBRIDE, Ph. D.,

I.—What Is a Tree?

TREES in our country are fortunately so common as almost to pass without definition. Everybody knows a tree and knows all about it too. At least he thinks he does. He knows that a tree has an erect persistent stem, widespreading or deep descending roots, waving, far extending branches and abundant leaves, casting in summer a grateful shade, in autumn falling. He knows that trees, some of them at least, bear flowers and fruits and seed, reproducing the species "after their kind." This much everybody knows, and these indeed are some of the patent, obvious features of a tree. Nevertheless, as may be suspected, this is only an outside or surface view of the subject. When we come to inquire how the tree comes to be what it is, how it does all the things that we see it do, how it pushes the roots through the hard ground where a plow can hardly go, how the leaves elaborate its food, how it builds stem and bark and branch and carries pound after pound, ton after ton, away up into the air, how it endures while living summer's drought and winter's cold, not for a few years, but year after year, for centuries and centuries—when we begin to think of trees in this way, it is plain that all our surface knowledge counts but little. We are in the presence of a mechanism of wonderful efficiency, but also of great complexity, whose delicate adjustments may tax the cunning of the wisest.

Now, in a few short chapters which constitute this course a complete answer to the problem of the tree or even a complete statement of it is certainly not to be expected. We may perhaps study the problem in some of its simpler aspects, learn a little of the structure of a tree, of its history, and more of its utility and exceeding value to enlightened men and nations.

Perhaps the most striking peculiarity of the tree is its persistence. Other plants grow, send up stems and leaves and flowers, begin many of the things done by the tree, but these presently perish, survive a few months or years at most and are gone. Only plants of the tree type seem able to accumulate, to carry forward the work of life and make each year contributory to life's perennial triumph. Fortunately this particular property of the tree, taking things as they are, admits of comparatively simple explanation. We find the explanation in so far in the tree's structure, just as in the case of any mechanism we may study the parts and find out how they work and so understand the machine. If we make a thin cross section of the stem of a small tree and lay the section under the lens of a microscope, we shall see something like that shown in the accompanying illustration, which is indeed from a photograph of such a section.

Here the whole section seems made up of little rings. The early observers thought these rings looked like a section of a honeycomb and accordingly called them cells. At a glance we perceive that the rings or cells are not alike. They differ greatly in size and shape. A second glance shows us that the cells fall easily into groups which form together a circle around within the margin. The cells which make up this band or circle are in the growing tree, all living cells and all active, each in its own way. Within the limits assigned us here we may not consider them all, but must pay attention to the very smallest only, those that make up a narrow band, marked C in the figure. It is to these tiniest but ever living cells that the tree of the forest owes it character, its long enduring vigor. Being living cells, these can grow, and by their peculiar way of growing they accomplish three things—they lie between bark and wood, and all the time in the growing season those on the outside become transformed into cells that make up the cortex, ultimately the bark, and are added to its inner surface; those on the inside are in a similar way passing over into the form of the cells of ordinary wood, either to form wood de novo or to be added to the wood already in position; the middle cells of the band simply divide and divide and so keep up a perennial supply of cells of such plastic sort. Here is the secret of the tree's endurance and of its increase in thickness, for we must remember we are studying a cross section of the tree, taken anywhere, and we must therefore conceive these tiny cells to form a living sheath covering the whole tree, lying between bark and wood. In spring we very easily pull the bark from a living tree—a willow, for instance—the separation occurring in the plane of this living but proportionately delicate cell layer. This living, active layer has long been named the cambium. We shall refer to it again.

But let us look at our section again. We may discover still another peculiarity. The border cells arrange themselves in groups, with slight intervals between. The cells of these intervals are continuous with the large cells of the middle, with the pith, or medulla. They may be regarded as at first part of the medulla. They form the medullary rays. They build as they grow vertical plates radiating outwardly from the center of the tree. At first the plates are comparatively few, but as growth proceeds the primary rays are continually re-enforced by others, originating indeed in the persistent cambium and intercalated between those already formed until their number, as may be seen in any bit of wood, as oak, becomes very great. Split a piece of such wood, and the medullary plates appear and shine, called by the artisan "silver grain."

Let us now recapitulate the structures of the stem as we have studied them. In the center of our section lies the medulla, or pith, bounded on the outer side by a ring of forming wood. Next to this outwardly lies the cambium, beyond which, again, is the cortex, the forming structures of the bark. The elements of bark and wood are gathered plainly into groups, and intervening between these several groups, intercepting what would be otherwise a continuous arc, occur the medullary rays.

Trees as Air Purifiers.

P. Schuyler Mathews in a recently issued work on "Familiar Trees and Their Leaves" says: "The greatest sphere of usefulness which a tree occupies is connected with its life. It is a great air purifier. It absorbs from the atmosphere the carbonic acid gas which is poisonous to us, it holds and slowly dispenses moisture which the parched air needs, it gives out the ozone (or oxygen in an active electro negative condition) which is particularly conducive to our health and it modifies heat which would otherwise be overpowering. Step into the thick woods from an open space on a very hot day, and immediately relief is experienced from the intense heat. This is not wholly the result of shade furnished by the trees. Much of it proceeds from the modification of the air through the breathing of the tree leaves.

"I have estimated that a certain sugar maple of large proportions which grows near my cottage puts forth in one season about 432,000 leaves. These leaves combined present a surface to sunlight of about 21,000 square feet, or an area equal to pretty nearly half an acre. Every inch of this expanse breathes in life for the tree and out health for man, while it absorbs in the aggregate an enormous amount of heat and sunlight."

Washington Beautified.

The city of Washington has set a good example to American municipalities in the matter of tree planting. Within its limits there are now no less than 80,000 shade trees, and it is unnecessary to dwell on the added beauty they lend to the place. Paris has an even greater number, and it is said that $60,000 is expended annually by the latter city in the care of them and in the setting out of new ones. Every street of a certain width is entitled to a row of trees on either side and every street of a certain greater width to a double row.

IS HE A DEMOCRAT?

The Head of the Ohio Democratic Ticket.

HOW HE MALIGNED M'KINLEY.

Bigelow Active In Two National Conventions, Neither of Them the Democratic, Only Two Years Ago—Why Did Johnson Nominate Him?

An Open Letter to Hon. Tom L. Johnson.

Sir: Was Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, now head of the Ohio Democratic ticket by your own selection, a Democrat two short years ago? If he was a Democrat in August, 1900, of which there is no evidence, had he become one a month after going to the Silver Republican party's national convention in Kansas City, July 4, 5 and 6, 1900? "The Rev. Dr. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, O.," say the reports, offered prayer at the opening of the sessions. Is that your Bigelow? A Silver Republican then; when did he become a Democrat, if ever? You say that you do not favor the free silver, 16 to 1 idea. Does Bigelow? The convention that he attended endorsed that doctrine, as the New York World Almanac shows, and went further by demanding the issue of all paper money by the government, and all of it "a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private without exception." Bigelow believed he believed that in 1900. Does he still in 1902? Do you? If you do not believe in the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1" by the United States alone, or in making limitless fiat money with a printing press, why have you put their supporter upon your ticket? Did you tell the Ohio Democrats of this man's record on these great questions?

He took full part in the cruel abuse of McKinley. Did you advise them of that? Did you explain how recently he did not even call himself a Democrat? Was there not among all the Democrats of Ohio one real Democrat that you would trust at the top of your ticket? Or was there no Democrat of character and repute in his party who would trust himself on the ticket you should dictate, with the platform of departures from Democracy that you might demand?

Didn't you know Bigelow better, or his bitterness against McKinley, and his free silver, rag paper money record? Or did you know it all and approve? Or did you condone his offense? Or was there one real reason, and that is that Bigelow is a single taxer? While you got the Democrats to nominate him, was not your underlying reason for favoring him as against every Democrat, the fact that he is a follower of Henry George's plan for taking away all private property in land, confiscating it by taxation, to make it public property?

Do you think the single tax so much greater in consequence than all other questions that Bigelow's professed belief in it outbalanced all beside, even the slump to silver, the repudiation by fiat money, and worst of all his part in the maligning that cost the nation McKinley's precious life?

William McKinley, the martyred president, was murdered as an echo of the abuse heaped upon him for doing the right as God gave him to see the right, to quote Aoraham Lincoln's words. Back of the bullet and the assassin stood the men who denounced our beloved chief magistrate with the utmost vehemence. Pre-eminent among these were the Anti-Imperialists, who lashed themselves into fury over the imagined but impossible proposition that President McKinley planned an empire with himself on its throne.

The National Anti-Imperialist league held a liberty congress, as they called it, at Indianapolis, Aug. 15 and 16, 1900. The elaborate platform adopted as quoted in the New York World Almanac (1901, p149) denounces the president all through, for undertaking "to rule by despotic power," and "without constitutional restraint." They declared that McKinley "prosecuted a war of conquest," that he governed "by arbitrary power; this is imperialism." They demanded that the people stamp upon McKinley's "attempt to grasp imperial power," "to subvert the character of their government and to destroy their national ideals." To oppose, to crush "imperialism," was their solemn purpose. The resolutions were mild compared with their speeches.

Not many months later the grief of the country and of the world beside the murdered McKinley answered all those atrocious accusations. What did you think of them when they were uttered? What did your man Bigelow think of them? The record reads that his name stood second on the committee that drafted these dastardly slanders upon President McKinley, and that he was one of the speech makers of this convention of haranguers against that gentle lover of peace. Did you not know that about Bigelow? If you knew so little about Bigelow, why did you put him on the Ohio Democratic ticket? If you did know of his prominence as an Anti-Imperialist, does your dictating his nomination mean that you still endorse that bitter and false arraignment of McKinley? Respectfully,

CHARLES DICK.

This Year's Work With Republican Laws by Republicans.

The farmers got the good of the anti-trust law enforcement of the present year at Chicago, Kansas City and in Texas, by the United States department of justice, as reported by Attorney General Knox. Six suits at Chicago and eight at Kansas City against offending railroads secured injunctions that broke up the elevator discriminations, restored uniform rates, gave small grain buyers a chance again, and through them opened wide markets for the producers. Mr. Knox also threatens to indict offending officials. Similar suits in behalf of the cotton growers of the South, stopped their troubles and brought the railroads to time. The suits against the beef trust are moving right ahead.

All this is the work of Republican officials enforcing laws enacted by Republicans against Democratic opposition. The only Democratic president, in four years under these same laws never did a thing. Roosevelt is making them count, and Attorney General Knox is preparing still more stringent statutes. By your vote stand by Roosevelt.

Regular Democrats Out of the Johnson Campaign.

The chairman of the Republican state committee may be wasting a good deal of time in calling attention to the inconsistencies and radicalisms of Tom Johnson, but he certainly is not impertinent in doing so. It is the literal truth that Mr. Johnson is about all there is visible of the Ohio Democracy this year. At the state convention of the party in September Johnson not only named the ticket but wrote the platform and dictated the organization. The chairman of the Democratic state committee gets his orders from the fat man from Cleveland and the latter's automobile and circus tent have made up the entire Democratic campaign. The old wheelhorses of Democracy have either not been called to the stump or have not been disposed to promote the new order of things by responding. The significance of their absence is not less in one case than in the other. Johnson and his single tax satellite, the Rev Bigelow, have been "the whole thing."—Toledo Times.

The Democrats in the Ohio legislature marked the close of the session by singing blasphemous songs. They evidently found their level.—Steubenville Herald-Star.

GROVER AGAIN.

Cleveland Calls the Democracy Together.

All Opposed to Free Trade and the Single Land Tax Should Be Warned by This to Get Out Their Full Vote.

When Grover Cleveland, after all that has happened, writes to Tammany Hall, it is time for Republicans to go to work. The former president tells the organization within his party that has opposed him most strenuously, that the chances of a Democratic victory were never better and urging Democrats of every stripe to loyally support the candidates. He does this upon the New York platform of the public ownership of mines to be operated by the United States government, an idea heretofore intolerable to him. His present action, therefore, means that for purposes of his own, Grover is getting the Democrats together again.

Republicans need to be warned by this fact that the enemy is awake and alert. This is no time to take anything for granted. The pending election will be decided above all, by the presence, or absence of Republicans from the polls. In Ohio Republican victory is a sure thing all along the line, provided only those who believe in the present prosperity and profit by it attend to their political duties. No negligence will avail anything the day after election, and all the vain regrets in the world on the 5th of November can never do the work for which the day before has alone been reserved.

More than Republicans are interested. Every man who shares in the least in the work and wages, and opportunity for employment, in these busy times has a stake of his own in this result. Grover Cleveland's object is to undo the existing conditions. He calls attention to tariff reform as a paramount issue of the campaign. Here in Ohio that is in the Democratic platform, and the Democratic leader is an out and out free trader, who would wipe out protection completely. Every vote against him ought to be got out in force. It is the duty of every Republican, not only to vote early himself, but to see that his neighbor gets to the polls and votes on the side of prosperity and real "just taxation."

TARIFF REVISION.

Republicans Always Did So as to Build Business

There is an honest difference of opinion even between the friends of a fair protective tariff, on the question of whether immediate changes should be attempted, or to wait a little, rather than disturb business with agitation; but there is no difference of opinion among friends of the American protective system, as to who should be intrusted with revision

Shall it be a Cleveland, Tom Johnson, free trade, paralyzing destruction, or a careful revision of schedules, where changed conditions render reduction necessary?

Can the Republican party be trusted to revise the tariff?

It did revise the tariff four times since the war.

Twice it revised the tariff to reduce a redundant revenue, once under Grant, and once under Arthur. The third revision was the McKinley act, a revision made necessary by the condition of the treasury and the far worse condition of the great body of the people after the last four years of Cleveland.

The fourth Republican revision of the tariff was the Dingley bill, a revision essential to correct the paralyzing effects of the Cleveland-Wilson bill.

On the other hand the Democrats revised the tariff once since the civil war, by the Wilson bill under Cleveland.

Experience is a dear school. Will you not trust the party that gave the whole people a chance to recover prosperity, that Democratic tariff tinkering had destroyed?

DOWN IN A SALT MINE.

An Occasion When One's Dignity Must Be Set Aside.

It is only the elect among travelers who find their way to Berchtesgaden, in Bavaria, not very far from Salzburg, writes a correspondent of the London Tatler. If you drive in a carriage from thence by road, you are stopped midway at a customs house and find yourself leaving Austrian territory for Bavarian. Berchtesgaden is beautifully situated, and it has two noteworthy attractions, one of them the Konigsee, thought by many the most beautiful lake in the world, and the other the salt mines. A visit to the salt mines gives one an exciting hour.

Many tourists take tickets at the top, but many of the fair sex are deterred from using them when they see the costume that is rendered essential to the visit. In other words, they have to abandon skirts and adopt a special "rig out." One may frequently observe that ladies, torn between what they consider modesty and curiosity, go two or three times to the mines before they screw up their courage sufficiently to don the attire and pay the visit.

The necessity for women to abandon the usual garment arises from the fact that a portion of the mine can only be visited through the medium of a kind of slide. This slide is, however, the best thing in the whole visit. It is a great deal better than tobogganing, and, as one is in the dark and with only a candle fastened to one's dress, it is not a little exciting.

The strangest incident in the trip is that of the illumination of what is called "the salt lake." You are rowed across this lake in almost absolute darkness, the illumination being provided by a number of miners' lamps round the lake, and the journey has a very considerable weirdness. The next best experience in the trip is the final ride into daylight on the trucks. This is a journey through absolute darkness for a very considerable way, until finally one sees a little gleam of light in the distance. Altogether, as I have said, between the toboggan slide, the car ride and the boat journey across the salt lake the visitor to the Berchtesgaden salt mine has plenty for his money. But, curiously enough, he sees very little salt. At any rate, the prepared salt that one uses on one's breakfast table is not at all in evidence.

Mackay and Florence.

On one occasion William J. Florence at the end of a not very prosperous engagement in San Francisco announced a benefit for himself and his wife. John W. Mackay happened to be in town at the time and wrote to Florence for one orchestra seat. It was duly sent, as a matter of course, and Mrs. Florence remarked to her husband that, considering the friendship existing between the two men, he thought Mr. Mackay might have taken a private box at least. "Wait," said Florence, "he has not paid yet, and I am in no hurry." The benefit took place, Mr. Mackay came from Virginia City to occupy the seat he had taken, and a day later he sent Florence a check for $1,000.

Jewels, candy, flowers, men—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous effort to make or save the money to purchase them. FOE TO UNIONISM.

Iron and Steel Workers Know Tom Johnson.

Amalgamated Association Journal Shows How His Lorain and Johnstown Mills Could Never Be Organized by the Association.

Mayor Johnson, the Democratic party, was at one time a large employer of labor, in a trade that was strongly unionized. This brought him in contact with union men, and they learned something of his attitude toward them. The record of his dealings with unions is of interest and should influence every union man in Ohio.

The Amalgamated Journal is the official organ of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and anything that appears in its columns has the sanction of the officers of that great organization, and is pretty nearly authentic. In the issue of October 23 correspondents at Findlay and Youngstown contribute to the public knowledge of his record in dealing with trades unions.

Extracts from the Youngstown letter are quoted as follows:

"I could not keep my mind from running along the lines of his labor record, and naturally, as a steel worker, I thought of Lorain, O. I remembered that the A. A. never was successful in organizing these men, and I thought of the time and money spent by the A. A. in trying to induce these men to organize. I remembered the fact that his honor owned the mill at Johnstown, Pa., and that this was also a non-union mill. I asked myself the question, 'Why did the A. A. fail in its efforts to organize these mills?'"

"I remembered how hard it always was to organize the east, and gave Tom L. the benefit of the doubt so far as Johnstown was concerned. But it was different with Lorain. It was the popular thing to organize, and I well remember that the officers and members of the A. A. looked with pleasure at the prospect of organizing the Lorain steel workers. I think that Tom L. Johnson is responsible, because he owned and controlled the mill, and the policy pursued was by his direction. As my mind ran along these lines, I thought what a hypocrite Tom L. must be, and made up my mind to say so through these columns.

"It is true, Tom L. is not a candidate, but he made the ticket and has made the real issue 'Johnsonism.' About the only thing he has permanently clung to is his determination that his mills should not be governed by labor organizations.

"I hope the A. A. members and all other union men throughout Ohio will remember Tom L. when they go to the polls. Give him such a dose of unionism that he will never forget, and this will also give the workingmen of Cleveland encouragement, and cause them to realize that they have been unmindful of their duties as union men when they allowed him to become the mayor of the great city by the lakes. I believe the union men of that city will awaken from their slumbers and next spring will elect a mayor who has been and is a friend of labor unions.

"I am reminded of the cry 'Stop thief!' and think Tom L. has succeeded in raising the cry so loud that we have neglected to look at him and his inconsistencies."

The Findlay correspondent also knows the Clevelander, as shown by these extracts:

"That an unseen power was at war among these men is plain to all fair-minded people. Mr. Johnson did not want to deal with mill committees or labor organizations, for by so doing the workmen would receive higher wages and better conditions, which would reduce his dividends and profits. He has piled up his millions at the expense of the welfare of those in his employ, and yet he has the gall to stand before the people in this campaign and preach about the Golden Rule and the sufferings of the working people. 'Consistency, thou art a jewel.'

"Workingmen of Ohio, remember that Mr. Johnson owned and controlled the steel mills at Lorain and Johnstown. Do not forget that they were always nonunion mills during his management. Do not think these steel workers were different from others. If free to act according to their own desires and convictions, they would gladly have joined the Amalgamated Association and would now be enjoying the benefits of organization.

"Remember the unseen power and influence that intimidated these men and kept them out of the A. A. was Hon. Tom L. Johnson."

Stand by Roosevelt, the Strike Settler.

When all the wide world praises President Roosevelt for his manly making of a new precedent, that settled the great anthracite miners' strike, will the American voters withhold their recognition by returning a congress hostile to him, that will harass and hinder the progress of his policies? When even in the French deputies, cheers for Roosevelt resound in recognition of what he has done, shall not the people of the United States show their esteem in the most practical way, by their ballots for the men and measures who will most surely help him?

Jackson's Self Control.

On the morning of the first battle of Winchester Dr. Hunter McGuire, Stonewall Jackson's medical director, said to him: "General, I have some very fine brandy. Will you take a drink?"

Jackson replied, "No; I thank you."

McGuire answered, "Don't you like it?"

"Yes," replied Jackson; "I like it too well. That is the reason I do not drink it."

An impressive exhibition of his self control that was Puritan in its self abnegation.

Vaccinated Before Wedded.

In Brazil parents and guardians before consenting to the marriage of their charges require a medical certificate from the bride or bridegroom certifying that he or she has been vaccinated.

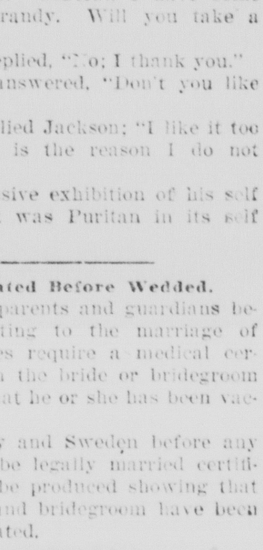

In Norway and Sweden before any couple can be legally married certificates must be produced showing that both bride and bridegroom have been duly vaccinated.

GROVER AGAIN.

Cleveland Calls the Democracy Together.

All Opposed to Free Trade and the Single Land Tax Should Be Warned by This to Get Out Their Full Vote.

When Grover Cleveland, after all that has happened, writes to Tammany Hall, it is time for Republicans to go to work. The former president tells the organization within his party that has opposed him most strenuously, that the chances of a Democratic victory were never better and urging Democrats of every stripe to loyally support the candidates. He does this upon the New York platform of the public ownership of mines to be operated by the United States government, an idea heretofore intolerable to him. His present action, therefore, means that for purposes of his own, Grover is getting the Democrats together again.

Republicans need to be warned by this fact that the enemy is awake and alert. This is no time to take anything for granted. The pending election will be decided above all, by the presence, or absence of Republicans from the polls. In Ohio Republican victory is a sure thing all along the line, provided only those who believe in the present prosperity and profit by it attend to their political duties. No negligence will avail anything the day after election, and all the vain regrets in the world on the 5th of November can never do the work for which the day before has alone been reserved.

More than Republicans are interested. Every man who shares in the least in the work and wages, and opportunity for employment, in these busy times has a stake of his own in this result. Grover Cleveland's object is to undo the existing conditions. He calls attention to tariff reform as a paramount issue of the campaign. Here in Ohio that is in the Democratic platform, and the Democratic leader is an out and out free trader, who would wipe out protection completely. Every vote against him ought to be got out in force. It is the duty of every Republican, not only to vote early himself, but to see that his neighbor gets to the polls and votes on the side of prosperity and real "just taxation."

As my mind ran along these lines, I thought what a hypocrite Tom L. must be, and made up my mind to say so through these columns.

"It is true, Tom L. is not a candidate, but he made the ticket and has made the real issue 'Johnsonism.' About the only thing he has permanently clung to is his determination that his mills should not be governed by labor organizations.

"I hope the A. A. members and all other union men throughout Ohio will remember Tom L. when they go to the polls. Give him such a dose of unionism that he will never forget, and this will also give the workingmen of Cleveland encouragement, and cause them to realize that they have been unmindful of their duties as union men when they allowed him to become the mayor of the great city by the lakes. I believe the union men of that city will awaken from their slumbers and next spring will elect a mayor who has been and is a friend of labor unions.

"I am reminded of the cry 'Stop thief!' and think Tom L. has succeeded in raising the cry so loud that we have neglected to look at him and his inconsistencies."

The Findlay correspondent also knows the Clevelander, as shown by these extracts:

"That an unseen power was at war among these men is plain to all fair-minded people. Mr. Johnson did not want to deal with mill committees or labor organizations, for by so doing the workmen would receive higher wages and better conditions, which would reduce his dividends and profits. He has piled up his millions at the expense of the welfare of those in his employ, and yet he has the gall to stand before the people in this campaign and preach about the Golden Rule and the sufferings of the working people. 'Consistency, thou art a jewel.'

"Workingmen of Ohio, remember that Mr. Johnson owned and controlled the steel mills at Lorain and Johnstown. Do not forget that they were always nonunion mills during his management. Do not think these steel workers were different from others. If free to act according to their own desires and convictions, they would gladly have joined the Amalgamated Association and would now be enjoying the benefits of organization.

Stand by Roosevelt, the Strike Settler.

When all the wide world praises President Roosevelt for his manly making of a new precedent, that settled the great anthracite miners' strike, will the American voters withhold their recognition by returning a congress hostile to him, that will harass and hinder the progress of his policies? When even in the French deputies, cheers for Roosevelt resound in recognition of what he has done, shall not the people of the United States show their esteem in the most practical way, by their ballots for the men and measures who will most surely help him?

Jackson's Self Control.

On the morning of the first battle of Winchester Dr. Hunter McGuire, Stonewall Jackson's medical director, said to him: "General, I have some very fine brandy. Will you take a drink?"

Jackson replied, "No; I thank you."

McGuire answered, "Don't you like it?"

"Yes," replied Jackson; "I like it too well. That is the reason I do not drink it."

An impressive exhibition of his self control that was Puritan in its self abnegation.

Vaccinated Before Wedded.

In Brazil parents and guardians before consenting to the marriage of their charges require a medical certificate from the bride or bridegroom certifying that he or she has been vaccinated.

In Norway and Sweden before any couple can be legally married certificates must be produced showing that both bride and bridegroom have been duly vaccinated.

In 1901 total balance.....	1,683,923.54

ADDED REVENUE RAISED BY REPUBLICAN LAWS.

The following is a statement of revenues accruing to the state other than upon general levy, and almost all from corporations, for the year 1902, under laws enacted by the Republican legislatures, thus relieving the general taxpayer to that extent:

From what source derived.	Tax.
Railroad companies, steam..	$1,034,810
Electric light companies....	25,293
Artificial gas companies....	55,767
Natural gas companies.....	49,993
Water works companies....	5,316
Pipe line companies	61,443
Messenger & signal companies	2,170
Street railway companies...	154,409
Telephone companies	40,307
Telegraph companies	4,687
Express companies	12,340
Freight line and sleeping car companies (Est.)	12,000
Domestic corporations	428,270
Foreign corporations (Est.).	200,000
Insurance companies (Est.).	525,000
Cigarette	13,036

In addition to the above there was collected from the liquor traffic for the year 1902, $3,811,535, of which amount there went to the general revenue fund of the state 1,143,460

Total $3,768,301

Such of the above revenue producing laws, as were in force in 1901, yielded the state $1,765,558, showing an increase for this year, owing to the additional legislation by the present Republican legislature, amounting to $2,002,743, thus enabling a reduction of the state levy from 2.89 mills to 1.35 mills for the current year.

TAXES PAID BY OHIO RAILROADS.

The following is a statement of the amount of taxes levied upon the steam railroads of the state:

General tax levy, valuation 1902, $119,665,677; tax, $2,991,642.

Excise tax, gross earnings 1902, $101,731,037; tax, $1,017,310.

Total tax, $4,026,452.

REPUBLICAN REDUCTION OF TAXES TO THE PEOPLE IN GENERAL.

Upon the basis of a grand duplicate valuation of $1,990,000,000, these corporations will relieve the general taxpayers of the state to the extent of $3,064,600 or more each year.

As the direct result the tax levy for all state purposes upon private property has been reduced from $2.99 on each $1,000 of assessed value to $1.35, a reduction of $1.54 per $1,000, or over one-half.

HOW REPULBLICANS RAISED THE STATE'S INCOME FOR ITS INSTITUTIONS.

In 1891, the last year of Democratic administration in Ohio, the total receipts of the general revenue fund amounted to $3,751,402. It is out of this general revenue fund that all of the expense of conducting the state departments, institutions, etc., is paid. In 1901, after the direction of the state's affairs had been for 10 years in the hands of the Republican party, the general revenue fund had grown from $3,751,402 to $5,686,249 a year.

In other words, 10 years of Republican rule had increased the receipts of this one fund $1,934,847 for the fiscal year just ending, and about all of the increase from corporations, as the figures above given show plainly. In the coming year and every year after this over $3,000,000 more will be saved in this way to the general taxpayers of the state, by enlarged corporation payments.

HOW THESE REPUBLICAN RESULTS HAVE AIDED THE STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Great institutions have been added to the benevolent and helpful work of the state in the past 10 years, from this increased income without any addition to the taxes of the people. Among the most important new establishments are the addition to the state capitol building at Columbus; the new State hospital at Massillon; the Hospital for Epileptic at Galipolis; the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield; the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

Existing institutions also have been greatly improved and increased to accommodate and care for the increasing number of the wards of the state. All in turn, by their growth, have added to the current expenses, but all of this increase has been taken care of by these Republican laws, without any increase in the state taxation rate upon the people; more than cut in two by the act of the present general assembly, keeping the Republican promises of a year ago.

The grand aggregate paid out upon that account for state institutions from 1852 to Nov. 15, 1901, was $16,513,125.89, for the statehouse and everything else, while in the past Republican decade nearly $4,000,000 has been added to the permanent grounds and buildings owned by the state, as follows:

Year.	Amount.
1900	423,560.85

Total $3,884,703.59

The Republican party can well claim the approval of the people at the pending election for these splendid results, achieved by it in legislation and administration against persistent Democratic opposition. The Republicans of Ohio can confidently submit the record of these results to the verdict of the voters on the 4th of November.

Condemn Their Comrades.

The Johnson Democratic platform of this year, specifically endorses the Kansas City platform doctrines, "fully," and adds:

"We condemn every effort to repudiate or ignore them." This is from a plank of Johnson's platform, "condemns" last year's Ohio Democratic platform, and this year's Democratic platforms of New York and many other states. Rather a wholesale anathema even for the present "receiver" of the Ohio Democracy.

Has Johnson a patent on that?

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are perfectly cured by "Favorite Prescription."

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicans and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

THE LEAP IN THE DARK.

It Wrought Ruin In 1892—Will It Not Again In 1902?

Well, gentlemen, what do you want? A change? Nominate your poison. State the remedy for a general condition of prosperity probably unexampled in this or any other country. How to introduce paralysis in the commercial world, how to stop the hum of machinery, how to reduce the demand for products of all sorts, how to increase wants and diminish the means of satisfying them, how to kill industry, to grow paupers, to fill charitable institutions and empty workshops—these are some of the questions to which the massive minds of "statesmen out of a job" are now exclusively devoted.

The leap in the dark has been tried before. The man who tries it knows when he strikes the solid earth. In proportion to the distance he has to fall is the jar when he stops going down. Prudent men don't leap in the dark. They don't leap at all after they have reached a certain age. Old bones are brittle. It is easy to jump down. It is terribly hard to jump up.—Chicago Tribune.

Every Bigelow Vote Claimed by the Single Taxers.

Henry George's followers all over the world are watching the contest in Ohio, ready to claim to the credit of their cause every ballot for Bigelow. The Democratic ticket carries his name, but he is not a real Democrat. It was as a single taxer that Tom Johnson picked him up for the place, and every vote for him will be considered as a single land tax endorsement of the plan to take all lands from their owners and make them public property. This is the meaning of the "crusade for righteousness," as Johnson and Bigelow call it. Can they dupe the Democrats into being used for such a boost for doctrines not Democratic?

"It's a Good Thing, Push It Along."

Prosperity has been so great, so continuous and all-pervading since Bryan was voted down that even his supporters have to own up to its existence. Their very explanations of it admit it. Its existence contradicts their theories, but here it is and the way to keep it is to maintain and sustain the McKinley Republican policies that have brought it in and have kept it going. That means, VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET. TAKE NO CHANCES, but get out and vote.

Republicans, remember that it is not only your duty to vote right, and early, but to be sure your friends help to repudiate the masquerade of the Democracy and to sustain President Roosevelt.

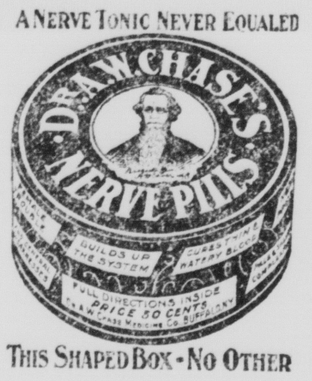

Nerves All Unstrung.

That describes the condition exactly. Children's noise, street sounds, little things that usually pass unnoticed annoy. A sudden sound, a call, you jump; a harsh word, a crying spell. The sleep is full of jerks and starts; trouble fills your dreams; you do not rest. Tired you go to bed, weary you rise. It's the unstrung nerves, weak, shattered, over sensitive, on edge. They need rest, quiet, strength, steadiness. Well-known people in your own city give you the cure in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—the most remarkably successful nerve medicine ever produced.

TORONTO, OHIO.

Mrs. W. C. Sine, of River street, Toronto, O., says: "As a medicine to quiet the nerves and give rest and sleep at night I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. When I began to use them I was nervous, sleepless and consequently debilitated. The medicine gave me strength, vitality, steady nerves and natural sleep. I am, as a matter of course, pleased with the result of the medicine."

A NERVE TONIC NEVER EQUALED

SALEM, OHIO.

Mrs. Etta Wise, of No. 91 Howard street, Salem, Ohio, says:—"Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are all they claim to be. I used a box that I got with splendid results for neuralgia of the head. It is the only medicine that touched it, and it has affected me for six years. It certainly made a hit with me and gave me restful sleep. A neighbor recently moved to Pittsburg, Pa., tells me the medicine in her case was a grand nerve tonic, steadying her nerves, giving her strength and sleep—something she needed badly, and at the same time curing a growing disposition to nervous headaches."

ADDED REVENUE RAISED BY REPUBLICAN LAWS.

The following is a statement of revenues accruing to the state other than upon general levy, and almost all from corporations, for the year 1902, under laws enacted by the Republican legislatures, thus relieving the general taxpayer to that extent:

From what source derived.	Tax.
Electric light companies....	25,293
Artificial gas companies....	55,767
Natural gas companies.....	49,993
Pipe line companies	61,443
Messenger & signal companies	2,170
Street railway companies...	154,409
Express companies	12,340
Freight line and sleeping car companies (Est.)	12,000
Domestic corporations	428,270
Foreign corporations (Est.).	200,000
Cigarette	13,036

In addition to the above there was collected from the liquor traffic for the year 1902, $3,811,535, of which amount there went to the general revenue fund of the state 1,143,460

Total $3,768,301

Such of the above revenue producing laws, as were in force in 1901, yielded the state $1,765,558, showing an increase for this year, owing to the additional legislation by the present Republican legislature, amounting to $2,002,743, thus enabling a reduction of the state levy from 2.89 mills to 1.35 mills for the current year.

TAXES PAID BY OHIO RAILROADS.

The following is a statement of the amount of taxes levied upon the steam railroads of the state:

General tax levy, valuation 1902, $119,665,677; tax, $2,991,642.

Excise tax, gross earnings 1902, $101,731,037; tax, $1,017,310.

Total tax, $4,026,452.

REPUBLICAN REDUCTION OF TAXES TO THE PEOPLE IN GENERAL.

Upon the basis of a grand duplicate valuation of $1,990,000,000, these corporations will relieve the general taxpayers of the state to the extent of $3,064,600 or more each year.

As the direct result the tax levy for all state purposes upon private property has been reduced from $2.89 on each $1,000 of assessed value to $1.35, a reduction of $1.54 per $1,000, or over one-half.

HOW REPUBLICANS RAISED THE STATE'S INCOME FOR ITS INSTITUTIONS.

In 1891, the last year of Democratic administration in Ohio, the total receipts of the general revenue fund amounted to $3,751,402. It is out of this general revenue fund that all of the expense of conducting the state departments, institutions, etc., is paid. In 1901, after the direction of the state's affairs had been for 10 years in the hands of the Republican party, the general revenue fund had grown from $3,751,402 to $5,686,249 a year.

In other words, 10 years of Republican rule had increased the receipts of this one fund $1,934,847 for the fiscal year just ending, and about all of the increase from corporations, as the figures above given show plainly. In the coming year and every year after this over $3,000,000 more will be saved in this way to the general taxpayers of the state, by enlarged corporation payments.

HOW THESE REPUBLICAN RESULTS HAVE AIDED THE STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Great institutions have been added to the benevolent and helpful work of the state in the past 10 years, from this increased income without any addition to the taxes of the people. Among the most important new establishments are the addition to the state capitol building at Columbus; the new State hospital at Massillon; the Hospital for Epileptic at Galipolis; the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield; the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

Existing institutions also have been greatly improved and increased to accommodate and care for the increasing number of the wards of the state. All in turn, by their growth, have added to the current expenses, but all of this increase has been taken care of by these Republican laws, without any increase in the state taxation rate upon the people; more than cut in two by the act of the present general assembly, keeping the Republican promises of a year ago.

The grand aggregate paid out upon that account for state institutions from 1852 to Nov. 15, 1901, was $16,513,125.89, for the statehouse and everything else, while in the past Republican decade nearly $4,000,000 has been added to the permanent grounds and buildings owned by the state, as follows:

Year.	Amount.
1900	423,560.85

Total $3,884,703.59

The Republican party can well claim the approval of the people at the pending election for these splendid results, achieved by it in legislation and administration against persistent Democratic opposition. The Republicans of Ohio can confidently submit the record of these results to the verdict of the voters on the 4th of November.

Condemn Their Comrades.

The Johnson Democratic platform of this year, specifically endorses the Kansas City platform doctrines, "fully," and adds:

"We condemn every effort to repudiate or ignore them." This [illegible] from a plank of Johnson's platform, "condemns" last year's Ohio Democratic platform, and this year's Democratic platforms of New York and many other states. Rather a wholesale anathema even for the present "receiver" of the Ohio Democracy.

Has Johnson a patent on that?

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are perfectly cured by "Favorite Prescription."

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

THE LEAP IN THE DARK.

It Wrought Ruin In 1852—Will It Not Again In 1902?

Well, gentlemen, what do you want? A change? Nominate your poison. State the remedy for a general condition of prosperity probably unexampled in this or any other country. How to introduce paralysis in the commercial world, how to stop the hum of machinery, how to reduce the demand for products of all sorts, how to increase wants and diminish the means of satisfying them, how to kill industry, to grow paupers, to fill charitable institutions and empty workshops—these are some of the questions to which the massive minds of "statesmen out of a job" are now exclusively devoted.

The leap in the dark has been tried before. The man who tries it knows when he strikes the solid earth. In proportion to the distance he has to fall is the jar when he stops going down. Prudent men don't leap in the dark. They don't leap at all after they have reached a certain age. Old bones are brittle. It is easy to jump down. It is terribly hard to jump up.—Chicago Tribune.

Every Bigelow Vote Claimed by the Single Taxers.

Henry George's followers all over the world are watching the contest in Ohio, ready to claim to the credit of their cause every ballot for Bigelow. The Democratic ticket carries his name, but he is not a real Democrat. It was as a single taxer that Tom Johnson picked him up for the place, and every vote for him will be considered as a single land tax endorsement of the plan to take all lands from their owners and make them public property. This is the meaning of the "crusade for righteousness," as Johnson and Bigelow call it. Can they dupe the Democrats into being used for such a boost for doctrines not Democratic?

"It's a Good Thing, Push It Along."

Prosperity has been so great, so continuous and all-pervading since Bryan was voted down that even his supporters have to own up to its existence. Their very explanations of it admit it. Its existence contradicts their theories, but here it is and the way to keep it is to maintain and sustain the McKinley Republican policies that have brought it in and have kept it going. That means, VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET. TAKE NO CHANCES, but get out and vote.

Republicans, remember that it is not only your duty to vote right, and early, but to be sure your friends help to repudiate the masquerade of the Democracy and to sustain President Roosevelt.

Nerves All Unstrung.

That describes the condition exactly. Children's noise, street sounds, little things that usually pass unnoticed annoy. A sudden sound, a call, you jump; a harsh word, a crying spell. The sleep is full of jerks and starts; trouble fills your dreams; you do not rest. Tired you go to bed, weary you rise. It's the unstrung nerves, weak, shattered, over sensitive, on edge. They need rest, quiet, strength, steadiness. Well-known people in your own city give you the cure in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—the most remarkably successful nerve medicine ever produced.

TORONTO, OHIO.

Mrs. W. C. Sine, of River street, Toronto, O., says: "As a medicine to quiet the nerves and give rest and sleep at night I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. When I began to use them I was nervous, sleepless and consequently debilitated. The medicine gave me strength, vitality, steady nerves and natural sleep. I am, as a matter of course, pleased with the result of the medicine."

SALEM, OHIO.

Mrs. Etta Wise, of No. 91 Howard street, Salem, Ohio, says:—"Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are all they claim to be. I used a box that I got with splendid results for neuralgia of the head. It is the only medicine that touched it, and it has affected me for six years. It certainly made a hit with me and gave me restful sleep. A neighbor recently moved to Pittsburg, Pa., tells me the medicine in her case was a grand nerve tonic, steadying her nerves, giving her strength and sleep—something she needed badly, and at the same time curing a growing disposition to nervous headaches."

Beware of imitations.—Signature and portrait of Dr. A. W. Chase on each box of the genuine. For sale by dealers, 50c a box, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., 257 Washington street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Terrible Blaze in the H. N. Harker Building This Forenoon, Frank Crook's Store Suffering Most.

PERSONS CAME VERY NEAR BEING OVERCOME

THE ORIGIN OF THE BLAZE IS AS YET UNDETERMINED

Fire, unrelenting in its fierceness and destructiveness, swept underneath and through the H. N. Harker building, at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, known as the old Laughlin building, today between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, causing damage, amounting to many thousands of dollars and abject fear to the owners of business blocks surrounding.

The fire started in the basement under Frank Crook's furniture store, and it was first discovered by J. W. Moore, who, upon passing through the rear end of the first floor, saw a red glare, and investigating further was horrified at seeing flames darting wildly around and through the basement and up through the elevator shaft which leads to the third story.

Mr. Moore ran with all haste to a telephone and sent in the alarm to central station. The firemen quickly responded, and within five minutes they were fighting the angry flames with desperation. Two lines of hose were inserted in the basement, and turned on the fire, which was then centered at the middle of the building, apparently defeating it in a moment's time. But when all were confident that the fire was out and that all danger was past some one discovered another burst of the demon at the rear. Then for several minutes, do all they could, no control could be gained and every hose and hook and ladder wagon at central station and the firemen with their paraphernalia of the East End station were summoned to the scene by Chief Morley.

Hundreds of excited men, but all extremely willing to tender services soon congregated, and they in many ways lent valuable assistance to the firemen. The flames coursing madly up the elevator, were for a few moments allowed to eat in and gut the passageway and rooms adjoining, the firemen being absolutely at a loss as to where to station themselves to make their work effective. While on a hunt for the desired location the Wilson book and stationery store was discovered on fire, and a line of hose was hurriedly placed into execution at the rear of the room. There the firemen battled until the flames altered their course, darting again upward into the stock room of the furniture store.

Another change of operation in fighting was then necessary and for the first time the firemen began work on the right spot.

Through Chief Morley's orders hose was put into use then in the basement, first, second and third floors. With such a deluge of water against it the fire began to relax and very soon there was no flame in evidence, but without an exception every room in the building was filled with smoke so dense that they were almost impassable.

A most peculiar fact in relation to the damaging affair was that although fire was raging with terrific fierceness for almost an hour within the walls of the building at but very few times could a flame be seen by the crowd which thronged the streets. It was due to the flames being confined to the central part.

When the fire was surging onward in its work of destruction, smoke in immense volumes poured from every floor, and there was not a witness to the scene that did not confidently expect to watch the entire building fall into a smouldering ruin, everything in-

GOLDEN WEDDING TO BE OBSERVED

Rev. James N. Swan and Wife Have Been Married Fifty Years Tomorrow.

PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

Include a Reunion of the Large Family—Three of the Sons Ministers And One a Medical Missionary. Sketch of the Venerable Couple.

with the exception of one son, Dr. John M. Swan, who is in Canton, China, as a medical missionary, are expected to be in attendance. Almost all the grandchildren and other relatives will be present. The guests are expected to arrive today and Monday, and all will be guests at the Swan home. Tuesday morning is the time set for the family reunion and Rev. and Mrs. Swan are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure for the time when almost all the loved ones of their family will be together under one roof. At noon they will all sit down to a sumptuous dinner, over which the venerable couple will preside and after the good things to eat have been discussed a photographer will be called to make a picture of the family.

There will be a public reception for the many friends from 3 to 5 in the afternoon.

Although the occasion is to commemorate the fiftieth year of their married life, Rev. and Mrs. Swan are hale and hearty and in the best of health. The years have dealt kindly with them and it is the autumn rather than the twilight of their lives.

Mr. Swan is a native of Preble county, Ohio. He was educated at Miami university from which he was graduated in 1849. He finished his theological course in New Albany seminary, now the McCormick theological seminary, Chicago. In 1852 he married Miss Amanda M. Woolf, a

The Center of Authority for the City Administration Under the New Code.

For the Position to Be Filled Next Spring—Numerous Appointments to Be Made By Him—The New Law on the Mayor's Duties.

The mayor of East Liverpool for the two years succeeding May 1, 1903, will be the most powerful individual in the municipality. He will make appointments galore and the importance of some cannot be calculated at this time. in placing the new code in effect the coming spring nearly every executive officer will have the mayor to thank for his position, and his authority will be almost entirely dependent upon the will of the mayor.

As every one knows the officials now holding office to a man will have to make a fresh start at the spring election. No matter how unimportant the position nor how meager the recompense for his services, the men now holding city jobs will be in the scramble on the date fixed for the municipal election in 1903.

Probably half of the city officials now in power were chosen for two years at the election held last spring. This was in accord with the provisions of the statutes then in force. To some it would look like injustice to oust these men when only one-half of their term has been completed, but when it is considered that the new code bill will do away with irregularities and abuses without number, it will be conceded that the sacrifice is made in a good cause.

There will be a merry battle for the enviable position of mayor next spring, and no less than five prospective candidates have already loomed up. It is yet many months before the citizens will be called upon to state their preference for the men who aspire to hold the responsible position, and it is likely there will be many more to announce themselves before the time expires in which entries may be made.

To give some idea of the authority which will be vested in the mayor for the first two years of his reign under the new code a few extracts are given:

"The mayor shall be elected for a term of two years, and shall serve until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be an elector of the corporation. The mayor shall be the chief conservator of the peace within the corporation and shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as are conferred and required in sections 1746, 1747 and 1748 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio; such as are provided in this act, and all other acts or parts of acts applying to all cities of the state and not inconsistent herewith.

"The directors and officers provided in this act shall have the exclusive right, subject to the limitations herein prescribed to appoint all officers, clerks and employes in their several respective departments or offices, and shall likewise, subject to the limitations herein prescribed, have sole power to remove or suspend any of such officers, clerks or employes.

"In case of death, resignation, removal or other disability of any director or officer provided for in this act, it shall be the duty of the mayor to appoint the successor of such director or officer, who shall hold such office until such disability is removed, or until the next regular municipal election, at which time said office shall be filled in the manner provided for in this act.

"Whenever the mayor shall deem necessary, the directors of the several departments of the city shall meet with him at the time and place designated by said mayor, for consultation and advice upon the affairs of the city.

"It shall be the duty of the mayor, the directors and of the several officers provided for in this act, to attend the meetings of council when specifically requested by council so to do, and to answer at such time such questions relative to the affairs of the

VIGILANCE OF THE OFFICERS THWARTED THEM

Lisbon, November 1.—(Special.)—Since the removal of several of the worst characters from the crowded old jail, some of whom have been rapidly landed in the penitentiary and the Canton workhouse, Sheriff Leonard and his deputies have divulged the details of a conspiracy for a jail delivery in which a number of the inmates were implicated. The scheme was frustrated only by the vigilance of the officers.

For some weeks the men confined in the basement, where the conspiracy was hatched, had been manifesting much interest in things spiritual, but their assumed religious zeal was too transparent to the officers. That finally led to their detection. Full confession from several of the prisoners within the last few days substantiated the conclusions of the officers and confirmed the wisdom of the extra precautions which had been taken since suspicion was aroused.

The unusually large number of accused persons who have crowded the jail to the limit for some time has included some of the worst and most desperate toughs ever within its walls, judging from the reckless nature of their plan to overpower an armed guard and make their escape. While their plans did not include the murder of the turnkey this would have been an exceedingly probable incident to successful execution of the enterprise. The turnkey always held a loaded pistol in his pocket when an outbreak was possible, ready to fire at the slightest suspicious movement, which doubtless would have occasioned a fatal struggle.

The ring leaders in the contemplated delivery were William Roberts, of Salem; George R. Tate, of Wellsville; Charles Hutton and John Brown, of East Liverpool, and Charles Garwood, of Columbiana. Two or three methods of escape were discussed, but the one finally decided upon was that the turnkey, W. S. Porter, of Lisbon, should be overpowered while transferring the prisoners from the lounging corridor at night to their sleeping places in the cells. The manner in which the guard is handicapped in doing this was demonstrated to the grand jury at the recent inspection.

The lounging corridor stands along the rear of the cells and a passageway connects it with the front corridor, the door opening into just by and beside the outside entrance. In making the transfer the turnkey always stands on

WALKING HOME FROM CHURCH

Frightened so badly that she could hardly speak, pretty Edna Broadbent, aged 15 years, employed at the Potters' Supply company works, daughter of Samuel Broadbent, a kilnman at Burford's, had a most terrifying experience with a young ruffian, whose name cannot be learned, while en route to her home in California hollow last Sunday evening.

The girl had been to the central part of the city attending church and was traveling the road alone. When a short distance out the hollow two boys, of about 16 years of age, accosted her. They being entire strangers she readily resented this and started on toward her home at a quickened pace. But one of them followed. He dogged along after her, keeping for a time about 50 feet to the rear. Every time she would go more slowly he would do likewise. Not until she had nearly reached home did he make any attempt at violence. When she finally began to hasten again, he apparently thought she would distance him and dashed after her on a fast run. At a small bridge which crosses a creek he caught up with her and first asked if he could walk home with her. She quickly replied in the negative and he then seized her rudely by the arm and said he would see whether or not he could.

The girl, although frightened all the while, at this juncture became so nervous and worked up that she for a moment felt as if she would faint. However, she did not, but commenced battling with the tough character. Using the qualities so common to the sex she scratched at his eyes and with her teeth bit his arms and hands most viciously. When she regained enough self-possession she warned the brute that if he did not let her alone, and immediately, too, she would scream for assistance.

This and her display of grit had the desired effect. The youth weakened and started to retreat, but as a parting remembrance he said: "All right; you have beaten me this time, but I will catch you some other time."

The child nearly collapsed after the awful ordeal was over and when she arrived home she was suffering very much from the over excitement.

When seen yesterday by a News Review reporter she stated that she was confident who the degraded wretch was, but not certain enough to cause his arrest.

She gives inside facts in regard to polygamy which are not ordinarily given out, and insists that the laws in regard to the same are evaded and violated.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz Badly Hurt In Extinguishing a Blaze in His Library.

PLUCK CONQUERED THE FLAME

As the result of receiving terrible burns about his hands and arms while extinguishing a fire that had started in his study, the Rev. J. G. Reinartz, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, is suffering excruciating pain at his home on Third street.

The dreadful accident happened the minister on Thursday afternoon and since that time he has had a most painful experience, having been compelled to hold his hands in an upright position at all times to prevent blood from rushing to them and unnecessarily causing more distress. Following the unfortunate occurrence it is said that Mr. Reinartz, from pain and nervousness, writhed on the floor for more than two hours.

Loud and terrifying screams coming from the flame engulfed room caused the minister to dash quickly up the stairs from the parlor with wonderful agility. Knowing that the appealing voice was that of his four-year-old child he sprang into the room with

MR. McDOLE INDIGNANT.

John McDole, the well known jiggermen employed at the Thompson, is very indignant over an article that appeared in an afternoon paper Thursday, stating that assistance was to be rendered to his family during the illness of his daughter, with scarlet fever. "My daughter has not been seriously ill, as stated in the paper, and I am not prohibited from visiting my home." Mr. McDole is denouncing the careless manner in which some reporters handle the truth.

city, under the respective management and control, as may be put to any of them by any member of the council.

"In case of the death, resignation or removal of the mayor, the president of council shall become the mayor, and serve for the unexpired term, and until the successor is elected and qualified; and the president pro tem of council shall thereupon become president thereof, and shall have the same rights, duties and powers as his predecessor, and the vacancy thus created in council shall be filled as other vacancies, and council shall elect another president pro tem. Provided, further, that while the president of the city council is acting as mayor he shall not serve as president of council."

The sections just quoted include but a small portion of the responsibilities and powers of the mayor. He will control one of the two executive boards of the city—that of the directors of public safety. This board is bi-partisan and consists of two or four members, as the council may determine. He appoints every member of the police and fire departments, subject to the confirmation of the directors of public safety. The directors and officers provided for in the new law will make reports to the mayor at regular intervals. These officers will, on or before the first Monday in March make out and file with the mayor a carefully itemized estimate of the amount of money it will be necessary to appropriate to carry on the work of the respective department. It will be the duty of the mayor to furnish council on the first day of April of each year a budget of current expenses of the municipality. In the making of said budget the mayor will have power to revise and change any and all issues in the annual estimates furnished to him by the directors and officers of the city. He can increase the total of any such estimate. The council, of course, may revise these estimates if it chooses to do so, but it is not likely this will often occur.

A score or more or the officeholders are appointed by the mayor, and they are responsible to him for their action and conduct in office. The salary of the mayor will not aggregate an amount equal to that which the office pays at the present, but it is thought the duties and responsibilities of the position will be greater than under the old rule.

Mayor W. C. Davidson will not be a candidate for the place, though he has served but one year of his second term. Those who are said to be candidates, however, are: Justice H. P. McCarron, T. V. Thompson, Justice Daniel McLane, Thomas Pickal and O. O. Nice.

QUICK WORK WITH A SHARK

Three Kanakas Went Down and Got Him While He Was Asleep.

"The Kanakas of the Hawaiian Islands have about as much fear of the huge sharks that infest the Hawaiian waters as we have of one-month-old fox terrier pups," said a naval officer who recently returned from the Asiatic station by way of the islands. "One morning a couple of months ago, when our ship was lying in Honolulu harbor, a big banana barge, propelled by three muscular, fine looking, nearly nude Kanakas, pulled alongside of us to peddle the fruit among the men forward. Just as they got the barge close to the ship the three Kanakas began to jabber excitedly in their queer, musical language and to feel of the edges of the knives suspended by lanyards around their necks.

"The eyes of those Kanakas were keener than ours, and they had seen a big shark asleep directly beneath the lighter, the water being so clear down that way that objects can be seen through it to a great depth. It didn't take those three giant muscled Kanakas more than ten seconds to shuffle out of their few clothes. Then they removed the strings from their long knives, grasped the knives in their right hands, stepped gently over the side of the lighter, hung to the gunwales of the lighter with their left hands for a moment or so, and then, altogether, they gave that queer diving wriggle to their legs in which they are so expert and disappeared from the surface. We couldn't see them going down on account of the commotion and consequent bubbles they made in the water.

"Within about ten seconds after they disappeared the bubbles that came to the surface began to take on the hue of blood.

"'That about settles one Kanaka, if not the whole three of them,' said we on the gangway. The next thing we saw was a gigantic shark thrashing the water crazily on the port side of the lighter and incarnadining the sea within a radius of fifty feet with its blood. Then the three Kanakas came up, all in a bunch, like a trio of jacks-in-the-box, with contented smiles on their faces. The shark thrashed around for five or ten minutes, and at the end of that time he was as dead as any salted mackerel in a barrel, the entire length of him. The three Kanakas had tackled him altogether as he slept, had driven their knives into his vulnerable parts, and before he had a chance to pull himself together he was as good as dead. It was as workmanlike a job of going after big sea game as ever I saw."—Philadelphia Times.

The Old Lady and the Incubator.

An old lady visiting an exhibition went to see some incubators which were on show and, complaining of the expense of keeping fowls, said that if they were cheaper she would buy an egg hatching machine. After she had asked various questions the gentleman in attendance proceeded to show her the drawers in which were deposited the eggs in different stages. On these the old lady looked in astonishment. "What!" she exclaimed indignantly. "Do you use eggs?" "Certainly," was the attendant's astonished answer. "Well," said she, "I consider it a perfect swindle to pick the pockets of honest, hardworking folks by selling them those frauds! Why, anybody can hatch chickens with eggs! I can do it myself!"—London Globe.

A NEW RAILROAD TO THE WESTWARD

Trenton Potters Eager to See a Projected Line Built to Pittsburg.

Form a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., November 1.—Trenton manufacturing potters have interested themselves in the construction of the proposed railroad trunk line between Trenton and Pittsburg. For several weeks there have been persistent rumors that the Trenton and New Brunswick railroad which was recently put into operation was a part of the Gould scheme for reaching the Atlantic seaboard. Potters want cheaper freight rates to the west.

Lack of competition has practically given the Pennsylvania Railroad company a monopoly over the western trade, and the result has been that ware is shipped west of the Mississippi with but a small margin of profit. Several Trenton manufacturers have addressed communications to the brokerage firm of Klein & Silverman, at Philadelphia, who are buying up rights of way for the new road, offering their co-operation in advancing the scheme.

The Goulds have been fighting for several years for an eastern terminal and have reached Pittsburg, or soon will, the road being under construction. For months a corps of engineers have been at work in Chester county, Pa., and are gradually forcing their way toward the sea coast. The other day some railroad men discovered that a charter had been granted to the Philadelphia and Western Railroad company by the state department at Harrisburg. The incorporators were men closely allied with all the Gould interests and the belief is general that the family of the dead financier is behind the scheme.

Shipments of general ware from this city to the west have been falling short each year. While sanitary ware has been in good demand, the general ware lines are being furnished largely by the patterns of East Liverpool and throughout Ohio. This condition is attributable solely to the excessive freight rates. In spite of the fact that the National Manufacturing Potters' association has resolved to remedy the evil and appointed representatives for the purpose, who gave testimony before several federal industrial commissions, the condition still exists and is likely to until warmer railroad competition is established.

Since the recent agitation of the child labor question by the New Jersey Federation of Trades unions there has been a material falling off in the number of boys employed in the Trenton potteries. The scarcity has reached such a degree that the nurses of the jiggermen are sorely taxed. Shortly after the federation appointed a committee to ask Governor Murphy for the removal of Factory Inspector Ward, he installed a weeding out process in all the factories in the section of the state to rid them of child labor. Nearly 100 boys were sent home from the local plants and now it is difficult to find those who will work at the prices which the jiggermen have offered. The scarcity of batters-out and mould-runners is another problem. In many instances jiggermen are known to have been off duty for days at a time because of the scarcity of help. The jiggermen who are nearly all affiliated with the Knights of Labor have already considered the matter and are trying to devise a scale establishing more uniformity in a day's work by endeavoring to get the approval of the Trenton Manufacturing Potters' association to a uniform price list which was submitted nearly a year ago. It is believed now that the scheme has fallen through and the result has been that the jiggermen's organization is about on its last legs. The idea of the uniform list was to make more uniform the wages of helpers. Under present conditions there is a great tendency on the part of the jiggermen to offer temporary wages in order to secure steady help.

Trade conditions have not for years been more gratifying. Scarcely a feature of the pottery line which is not being liberally supported by the buying fraternity. All the lines offered by the local potteries this fall have been good sellers. In point of quantity of the orders and the character of the sales this season is without a precedent in the history of the local pottery industry. Hotel china maintains its popularity, having enough calls for late delivery to insure work for the men throughout the winter.

EAST END

Ghosts And Masqueraders Have a Nice Time at Larkins & Ferguson's Hall.

The ghost and masquerade dances last evening at Larkins & Ferguson's hall were the most thoroughly enjoyable events of the kind so far this season. The weird costumes affected by the dancers served to provoke a great deal of merriment and the spirit of the occasion was entered into by all. The ghost dance was given by the young ladies of the East End and in the neighborhood of 80 couples were present. After an hour of dancing the masks and ghost-like shrouds were laid aside. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruits were served.

The masquerade dance of the Philos club was one of the most pleasant of its functions of the year. Costumes were both comical and stately and served to completely conceal the identity of the wearers until discared at midnight. Enticing refreshments were served.

ONLY INNOCENT FUN

Those citizens of the East End to whom Halloween is but a memory of the halcyon days of youth and who are now staid and steady heads of families were surprised this morning when they realized how considerately they had been treated by the coming generation. In fact the fun was all of a very innocent nature and there were no collisions with the police. Small bridges, gates, boxes, signs were the principal objects of the marauders and the porches of most of the houses were so covered with "grog" that they could have been easily mistaken for feed stores. Everything was restored to the usual order at an early hour this morning, however.

A window was broken at Varrandi's fruit store on Mulberry street and the glass of fire alarm box No. was smashed, but no alarm was turned in.

Victim of Halloween Prank.

Conrad Goodballet, Sr., aged about 80 years, was a victim of a Halloween prank last evening. He was en route to his home on Martin street when he came in contact with a wire stretched across the side walk and was thrown to the ground. The thumb of his left hand was badly sprained and the hand was cut and bruised.

Mail Bag Was Missing.

The 3:55 train did not stop at the East End station but went whirling past at a high rate of speed. When the dust it raised had cleared away Robert Baird, who usually takes the sack to the postoffice, made a search for it, but it could not be found. Later he walked up the track as far as the Laughlin pottery and it was handed to him by W. C. Smith, who had found it in a patch of weeds.

Continued to Next Saturday.

The case of L. O. Conant vs. Thomas Miles, set for hearing in 'Squire Carman's court at 9 o'clock this morning was continued until next Saturday on motion of the plaintiff. The suit, which is on a promissory note, will likely be settled out of court.

Pension Increased.

Samuel Pugh, an old soldier living with his daughter, Mrs. M. C. Flick, on St. George street, has been notified by the pension office at Washington that his pension has been increased from $12 to $17 per month. His many friends will be pleased to hear of his good fortune.

First to Arrive.

Miss Augusta Swan, of Metropolis, Ill., a niece of Rev. and Mrs. James N. Swan, was the first of the guests from out of town to arrive for the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Swan's golden wedding. She arrived last evening and will remain for about a week.

Had a Fine Time.

About 30 couples, most of whom were from Laughlin No. 2, were at Wellsville last evening to attend a Halloween party at the home of Miss Cad Wiseman. They report a pleasant evening.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Harry Bennett's five-months-old son is reported very ill.

Charley Whealdon, of the kiln crew at Laughlin No. 2, is among the sick.

Miss Lida Hill gave a Halloween party last evening at her home in Helena for about 40 of her young friends.

C. H. Salyers has moved to the East End from Wellsburg, W. Va., and has purchased property on Pennsylvania avenue.

Misses Eva Whitney and Myrtle Harris, of Laughlin No. 2, will go to Bellaire this evening to spend Sunday with friends.

A roll of wire was carried away from a hardware store and uncoiled along several blocks, twisted around telephone poles and trees.

The dance at Columbian park last evening was one of the most enjoyable of the season. There was a large attendance and the festivities were continued until an early hour this morning.

WRIT OF REPLEVIN

Used to Recover the Goods of a Girl Who Had Quit Her Position.

Steadfastly believing that the rule which prevails among the work shops of the city—that a person upon wishing to change his location of employment is duty bound to give a two weeks' notice—Mrs. Lillian Heckathorn, according to an affidavit made in 'Squire McCarron's court yesterday morning, was much angered when a young girl, Dessie Fetty, who had been in her employ as a house girl, wanted to leave without working out a notice. So angry was she when the girl persisted in going that she took possession of the girl's clothing and would not give it up.

As a result Miss Fetty appeared in court and had a writ of replevin issued for the goods and with the writ in his possession Constable Powell made a trip to the home of Mrs. Heckathorn in the East End yesterday. The officer had no trouble in securing the clothing for her, though Mrs. Heckathorn was very angry when she saw Miss Fetty, and the constable states that an exciting scene was narrowly averted. Mrs. Heckathorn averred that she would have the girl arrested upon several charges and may do so.

Steubenville's Former Wharfmaster Sues J. A. Brown, Asking $5,000 Damages.

Steubenville, Nov. 1.—Ex-Wharfmaster George W. Uselton has commenced suit against Jerry A. Brown, who recently had charge of the wharfboat, to recover $5,000 damages for alleged false arrest.

In the petition the plaintiff says he always sustained a good character and has never been suspected of the crime of larceny or any other crime, yet the defendant maliciously intending to injure his good name did on May 23 go before Robert Love, a justice of the peace, and falsely, maliciously and without any probable cause charge him in writing and under oath with stealing one steamboat line, valued at $35, and another line, valued at $15, belonging to J. A. Brown.

The plaintiff further states that he was then arrested and taken along the public streets in custody of an officer of the law to the office of Justice Love, being deprived of his liberty, to enter into a recognizance for his appearance at a hearing. He was afterwards, he says, compelled to give bond in the sum of $300 for his appearance in the court of common pleas to answer said false charge. The grand jury, however, after investigating the charge, ignored the case and the plaintiff was discharged and released.

Marvelous Medicine.

A patent medicine vender in a country village was dilating to a crowd upon the wonderful efficiency of his iron bitters.

"Why," said he, "Steve Jenkins had only taken the bitters one week when he was shoved into the prison for murder, and what does Steve do but open a vein in his arm and take iron enough out of his blood to make a crowbar, with which he pried the doors open and let himself out. Fact!"

CLEAN, STRONG AND ABLE.

Republicans who go to the poles and vote the straight ticket on Tuesday, as they will do almost to a man, will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are supporting one of the cleanest, ablest and strongest tickets ever put forward for the approval of Columbiana county electors. The state ticket bears the names of men of state reputation. It is headed by Lewis C. Laylin, the present efficient incumbent of the office of secretary of state—a capable, conscientious and faithful official if Ohio ever had one. The other men on the ticket are of well-known ability and of the highest character. Especially is the candidate for the most important office to be filled a man of the highest qualifications. Judge William B. Craw, if McConnelsville, now filling a vacancy on the bench of the supreme court and nominated for a full term in that office, is one of the ablest jurists in southeastern Ohio or in the state, for that matter. His practice has been extensive, and since he became a judge some ten years ago his reputation for impartiality sound judgment and thorough knowledge of the law has become widespread. The Democrat who is seeking the same honor has pursued a course that renders it probable that he cannot receive the support of his own county, usually strongly Democratic. Of the congressional ticket of the Republicans, it can be said that he who votes for James Kennedy will vote for a strong man, an earnest protectionist, and a thorough Republican with all the qualities required to fill with credit the exalted position to which he will be elected.

The county ticket is an exceptionally good one. J. A. Martin, the next probate judge, is an able lawyer and a perfect gentleman. J. N. Hanley, of this city, candidate for clerk of courts, is no stranger to public life, a genial and popular man, thoroughly capable, assiduous and faithful to every duty. C. A. White, the nominee for recorder has had a hard struggle in fighting life's battles, and is a cripple. He has won his way in the world in spite of all obstacles, and is today one of the county's most prominent educators and most respected citizens. M. P. Carnes, for county commissioner; J. C. Kelly, for county surveyor; J. L. Straughn, for coroner and A. E. Swearingen, for infirmary director, are all well-known men, of excellent capability, good sense and a high reputation. The whole ticket merits the triumphant endorsement it will receive at the polls next Tuesday.

POLITICS, NOT PERSONALITIES.

As we have stated before, Thomas J. Duffy is young in politics. If he were more experienced he would neither expect support for his candidacy from Republican newspapers, nor complain because a Republican newspaper had opposed him on political and not on personal grounds. The News Review is a Republican spaper. It has never yet advocated the election of a Democrat to office, and it has made no exception in the case of Mr. Duffy. It has fought him by fair and honorable means, raising no objection to him as a man but raising every possible reasonable objection to his political belief, and exposing the baselessness of the attacks upon the Republican candidate for congress—attacks made by those working in Mr. Duffy's interests and even reproduced in the columns of the paper which Mr. Duffy edits. A party newspaper which would not defend its candidates against baseless calumny would be weak and timid, and the News Review is neither.

We consider it a compliment to be told that the News Review's course has not met with Mr. Duffy's entire approval. When our editorial policy becomes such as to receive the praise of Democrats, it will be when the Democratic party has undergone the long-promised but still distant regeneration which its leaders talk of. We are not courting Democratic favor. That the course of the other papers in this city is praised by Mr. Duffy is their own affair, not ours. One of them is a Democratic organ as often as once a year, anyway, and we are glad that it has had enough of a policy this fall that Mr. Duffy can discover its existence. The laudation of the Tribune, a supposedly Republican paper, is a different matter. It may know the reason for it; we do not. At all events, we consider Democratic praise a very poor recommendation for a paper which assumes to speak for Republicans.

Morris Whalen, of Youngstown, who was at the head of the executive committee during the greater part of the street railway strike in that city in 1894, will vote for Kennedy for congress. So will hundreds of other laboring men of Youngstown, who fought the traction corporation at that time. They know Kennedy as a friend and are indignant at the silly charge that he was against the workingmen. Had he been, they certainly would have known it, and would not support him now. Is not this a sufficient answer to the campaign canard put forth by the would-be leader of the opposition who "wanted to get in touch with millionaires" and who found out that Kennedy was a "labor crusher" only after he discovered that he himself was unable to procure $2,500 from Kennedy's brother?

If you believe prosperity a myth, you will vote for one of the two Democratic candidates for congress. If you have a good position and desire neither to lose it nor to have your wages reduced to a free trade basis you will vote for Kennedy, who realizes that prosperity is a fact and wants it to continue.

The News Review has the highest respect for Thomas J. Duffy as a man but it has no respect whatever for his politics. He is mistaken when he asserts that this paper has been warring on him. But we have waged, and will continue to wage, unrelenting warfare on the political principles he represents.

Assistant Democrats is a term applicable to men who call themselve Republicans and yet stay at home on election day, thereby aiding their political foemen. It is a term of reproach. If you do not wish to merit it get out and vote on Tuesday.

Labor's hope lies in going forward not backward. Voting for a Democrat is aiding Labor's enemies.

John B. Kennedy.

John B. Kennedy died at his home in Wheeler avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was born in Hanoverton, O., July 22, 1822, and went to Pittsburg when quite young. As a newspaper man he was associated in the publishing of the Alleghenian, with his brother, James W. Kennedy. He afterward published with his brother the Bank Note Review. He owned and started the Chronicle, subsequently disposing of his interests to Charles McKnight. Later he alone started the Free Press, which was bought and merged into the Pittsburg Gazette. Then followed his connection with the Gazette as editor-in-chief. He remained identified with various city newspapers until he became owner and editor of the Alleghenian, which he published from 1887 to 1897. He was one of the original incorporators of the Pittsburg, Allegheny & Manchester Street railway in 1857. He will be buried from his late residence on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Kennedy is survived by six children.

dicating that result. "Doomed!" was the expression of all and many were the words of sympathy that escaped from the spectators. So apparent was ruin to the men having offices in the building that they employed the services of willing hands and had every movable article taken to nearby store rooms. In doing this work the men were greatly handicapped by the density of the smoke. It was not an uncommon thing to see a man come running down the stairs, coughing and sneezing, his throat and lungs being stifled by the hot waves of smoke.

At one time, near the outbreak of the fire, all eyes were centered on a window in the office of the McGarry Bros. Gasping for breath James McGarry in desperation threw open the window and beckoned for help. His lungs were so filled with smoke that he could not utter a word, and had he been confined in the room a moment longer he would undoubtedly have succumbed. A ladder was placed within his reach and he descended to the street amid the loud cheering of the crowd.

An unknown man heedlessly walking underneath a ladder placed against the building was badly hurt as a result of the ladder unexpectedly toppling over. His head was cut and blood flowed profusely.

Street car traffic on Market street was discontinued from the very start of the fire until all danger was eliminated. Instead of going down Market street they continued out Sixth street and down Washington, passing at the Second street bridge.

An estimate of the total loss, hurriedly made, places it at $20,000. The heaviest loser is Frank Crook, his stock of furniture, carpets, etc., suffering to the extent of about $15,000. The damage by fire was confined entirely to the second floor on which are stored the carpets, rugs, lace curtains, oil cloth and linoleum. The entire stock is considerably damaged, however, by water and smoke.

The value of the stock is in the neighborhood of $40,000, and is insured for $25,000, divided among all the local agencies. A force of men were put to work clearing away the debris on the second floor as soon as the fire had been extinguished, but it will be some time before the exact extent of the loss is known.

The damage to the W. & W. pharmacy will not exceed $200. It is all on merchandise stored in the basement that was reached by the smoke and water. They are fully insured.

The law offices of W. K. Gaston, on the second floor, which is situated nearest the elevator, were considerably damaged. The carpet was ruined by water and some valuable papers were damaged. The law offices of McGarry & McGarry and Brookes & Thompson escaped with very little damage.

The stock of the Wilson book store is badly damaged by water and smoke. The extent of the loss cannot be definitely stated today owing to the nature of the stock of goods damaged.

The building, owned by H. N. Harker, suffered to the extent of about $2,500. The elevator is almost entirely destroyed. The building is insured in Geo. H. Owen & Co's agency.

haste and anticipations of peril to the beloved boy. For a moment he was unable to grasp the situation, failing to see his child owing to dense smoke. The difficulty did not last long and he perceived flames leaping widly upward from a library filled with books and the wall close beside it.

At this juncture Mr. Reinartz saw his child tossing to and fro on a bed, and after removing him to another room, began fighting the flames. He seized a blanket and first extinguished the fire on the walls. It was while attempting to smother the flames at the book case that he received his injuries. Thrusting his hands down behind the case they were quickly developed in fire and before he could free himself both were burned terribly. Forgetting the pain he bravely fought until the home was freed from danger. The exact loss by the fire Mr. Reinartz is unable to state, but it will be in the neighborhood of $50. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought the child started it in some way.

AT THE THEATER

"Are You a Mason?" will be seen at the Grand next Monday evening. It humorously satirizes the foibles and weaknesses of the husbands who make their "lodges" an excuse for evenings from home. In this instance the husbands simply pretend that they are Masons and through their deceptions manage to get themselves into a world of amusing complications. It is the most meritorious, as well as the most successful of comedy farces in years.

The scene showing Niagara Falls in the last act of "The Fast Mail" is the grandest piece of reality that mechanical ingenuity ever presented upon the stage. The actual scene was so impressive that Lincoln J. Carter immediately determined to produce it in his piece, and he has done so with such gratifying results that it is pronounced perfect by thousands who have seen and compared it to America's wonderfully natural waterfall.

The Great Northern Quartet, four vocal celebrities of note, which will be seen at the Grand on November 5, 1902, in Al W. Martin's big scenic revival of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," are said to be peers in their line of work. While they resort to comedy selections greatly, they have also introduced a novelty in the "Megaphone Solos" that has met with favor on this side of the water.

WELLSVILLE

Halloween Was Celebrated With Enthusiasm And Much Enjoyment.

Pranks and parties marked the Halloween celebration. Many a window was pelted with corn or had a tick-tack hammered upon it until one of the occupants of the house would make an investigation. Many doors were dashed with cabbage heads or small pumpkins until they resembled the appearance of a crushed tragedian.

One of the best pranks was practiced upon an unsuspecting couple in the western part of town. When they opened their front door this morning they were confronted with a large-sized wood pile which blocked the doorway. The wood had been piled clear to the top of the door and caused the man of the house no end of trouble to clear it away.

The "Bumble Bee" club, one of Wellsville's society organizations, were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Mary Bruner during the early part of the evening. They were joined by their young gentlemen friends later in the evening and also went out to celebrate. None of the force nor of the six extra policemen appointed by Mayor Fogo interfered.

A phenomenal party was held in the West End at the home of Mrs. Charles Clyde which will long be remembered. Two or three of the women who attended appeared in male attire, but were so well disguised that they were not known.

The six extra officers and all of the balance of the police force did not experience much difficulty in keeping all of the celebrators within the bounds of the law. No arrests were made.

MUNICIPAL PLANT

For Electric Lighting Purposes Is Being Discussed By Wellsville People.

The topic of general conversation at the present time throughout the city is that of the advantages offered the city in the event that a municipal light plant is built. Many citizens have studied this matter and have secured accurate figures as to just what it will cost the city to erect a light plant.

The plant is a matter that will have to be attended to soon by the city council, as the contract now existing between the city and the company now furnishing the electric light for the city will expire in less than one year. If the city is going to erect a municipal plant it is time for action. It is understood that the figures on the cost of a plant of this kind will be presented at the council meeting on Monday evening.

DUFFY'S SPEECH

He Does Not Like Republicans And Pays His Respects to the News Review.

T. J. Duffy, labor candidate for congress, made a speech in the open air at the corner of Broadway and Sixth street last evening, the attendance being estimated at from 2,500 by his friends down to 350 by those allied with other parties.

Mr. Duffy devoted his entire address to an arraignment of the Republicans Democrats and trust promoters. The coal strike was reviewed, and some time was given to what he proposed to do in taking care of the potters—both manufacturers and operatives—if he is elected to congress.

Among other things Mr. Duffy stated that the News Review had conducted a very strong fight against him. He took exception to the manner in which this paper expressed itself editorially for and in behalf of the Republican party. He asserted that he was conducting his campaign entirely on the labor platform, and thought t he fight should be made along that line.

The fact that he was a Democrat and that the News Review should say so was objected to by him and declared to be unfair. He congratulated the Morning Tribune, a Republican paper of this city, upon the easy manner in which it had let him down. Mr. Duffy also spoke kindly of the Crisis, characterized by the Democracy not long ago as being neither fish, flesh nor fowl.

REV. JOSEPH CLARK,
Secretary of the Sunday School association of Ohio, who will speak at the First M. E. church Rally Day services tomorrow.

All Day Taken Up By the Trial—Pugh-Ingram Case Under Advisement.

Lisbon, November 1.—(Special.)—Court adjourned last night until 9 a. m. Thursday, November 13, and the jury was excused until 1 p. m. on Monday, November 17.

The jury awarded the plaintiff $184 in the Kensington damage case in which Peter Woodward sued J. E. McAllister for $10,000. The case occupied the court's attention all of yesterday afternoon, and the jury was unable to agree on a verdict until 9 o'clock last night.

McAllister owns a livery stable in Kensington. The horses of McAllister got loose and trampled upon the lawn of Woodward, who objected to the nuisance. The men became involved in a fight in which Woodward was badly injured. A blow from a club in the hands of McAllister is said to have made Woodward the nervous wreck he now is. The costs of $30 will also be paid by defendant.

While the jury was out in the Woodward case, the controversy between Joseph Pugh, of Wellsville, and George Ingram, of Congo, W. Va., over the rental of jack screws, was given a hearing by Judge Hole, who has the case under advisement.

MOST ENCOURACING REPORTS WERE MADE

Enthusiastic Gathering Hears Reports from Every Ward And Precinct.

The meeting of the Republican committee, held at city hall last night, was well attended, and while the session was not a lengthy one, there was no lack of enthusiasm.

Reports were made from every voting precinct in the city and all were most encouraging. There is every indication, provided the weather is favorable, that an extraordinary vote will be cast on Tuesday, and if every Republican voter does not turn out and do his duty, it will certainly not be the fault of the city committee.

Arrangements were made to have an extra man at every polling place in the city, who will be entrusted with the task of seeing to it that every voter in the precinct who is a known Republican is given an opportunity to cast his vote.

Carriages will be ordered, and it is likely they will be kept busy all day. Each rig will be provided with two banners bearing the inscription "Vote the Straight Republican Ticket." All aged persons and those who are disabled are urged to notify the poll workers in order that they may be gone after and hauled to the voting place.

The meeting was adjourned early in order to allow the members to hear the speaking.

was one of a family of six children, all of whom are living except one sister, who was the wife of Rev. B. C. Swan, D. D. Two of the Swan brothers married sisters, daughters of John Woolf, late of Carthage, Ill., long an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan were married at Oxford, O., on Nov. 2, by Rev. John M. Worrall, D. D., who is now living in Danville, Ky. Their first field of labor was in Columbia City, Ind. Mr. Swan was ordained to the full work of the ministry in October, 1852, and took charge of the Columbia City church the fall that he was married. After serving eight years he removed to Wellsville, and took charge of the Yellow Creek church, three miles from that city.

He remained at Yellow Creek 14 years, and was next called to a brief pastorate at Toronto, where he remained one year. Mr. Swan next removed to New Hagerstown, where he remained five years. He then became pastor of the Long's Run Presbyterian church, at Calcutta, remaining there from 1880 until 1894. In the latter year he retired from active pastoral work, engaging in evangelistic work, which he has continued until the present time. In all his ministry Mr. Swan has been a zealous and faithful worker and very successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan are the parents of ten children, two of whom died in early life. Of the sons, the eldest, Rev. W. L. Swan, has been pastor at Greenville, O., for some years; J. L. Swan is an insurance agent at Canton, O.; Rev. B. M. Swan has been a pastor at Newcomerstown for the past five years; Dr. John M. Swan has been a medical missionary at Canton, China, since 1885; Rev. C. W. Swan, at present Presbyterian pastor at Shreve, O., for seven years was a missionary in China, until the Boxer uprising drove him from the field. Of the daughters, Frances E. died in Indiana in 1855, and Eleanor Josephine died while her father was pastor at Yellow Creek, from disease contracted in Indiana; Anna J. is the wife of Major Newman, manager for Armour & Co., in East Liverpool; Mrs. M. B. Farrar resides with her parents and teaches music in this city; Bessie is the wife of Rev. J. P. Lyenberger, pastor of the Island Creek church, in Jefferson county. There are 11 grandchildren, of whom three are in China.

CAMERON'S PREDICTION AS TO REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

Librarian Galbreath Says Kennedy Will Have 6,000 Votes to Spare.

Columbus, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Hon. I. B. Camoron, treasurer of state, says that the weather will have much to do with the size of the Republican plurality in Ohio which he believes will be over 50,000. As to the congressional contest in the Eighteenth district he said: "From the best information obtainable Mr. Kennedy will be elected by a satisfactory plurarity." Mr. Cameron will go to Lisbon to vote.

Sate Librarian Galbreath leaves Sunday for his home in Columbiana county where he will stay till after election. He thinks the election will be about the same as it was when Coxey ran for congress against Tayler and that the opposition vote will be largely from the same source.

The Republicans expect to elect Huling for congress in the Columbus district and are certain of electing Nevin in the Dayton district which until two years ago was Democratic. Nevin was elected then by a few over a hundred. Dick will give out his statement tonight.

Life

Dr. Miles' Nervine Gave Me New Life.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Miles' Remedies quite extensively, especially the Restorative Nervine, which has done wonders for me. Six years ago I had nervous prostration and again three years ago, at which time I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I kept taking it for six months and have taken an occasional dose during the last two years. I am practically a new man and feel that I have been given a new lease of life. I used to have very bad attacks of stomach trouble but since using the Nervine I can eat most anything I want with impunity. I was examined in Omaha by a noted German doctor three years ago. He told me I was liable to a paralytic stroke any moment; that my whole left side was badly affected. That was just before I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. My work for two years and a half has been very trying on my nerves. I am a presiding elder, traveling my districts at the rate of ten thousand miles a year, preaching on an average of five times a week, besides many business meetings, and the multitudinous cares of my work in general. Thanks to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I have been gaining in flesh despite this hard work until now I weigh a hundred and ninety-six pounds, nearly twenty pounds more than in all my life. I preach Nervine wherever I go to those afflicted with nerve, heart or stomach trouble."—Rev. M. D. Myers, Presiding Elder, Free Methodist Church, Correctionville, Ia.

IN FULL OPERATION

Pope Tin Mill Running Full And Working Under the Amalgamated Scale.

The new Pope tin plate mill at Steubenville is now in full operation, every department being rushed with work and a number of workmen who were formerly employed in the tin plate mills in the Wheeling district are to be found there working under the Amalgamated scale.

It will be remembered that several days ago a report stated that the mill was not working under the union scale. After an investigation by the tin plate lodge at Steubenville it was found whence the report came. A workman came to the Pope plant from the Chester mill and for some reason left and returned to Chester, where the report seems to have started that the men were on strike and that an ironclad agreement was in force. The purpose to injure the Pope employes failed.

ABLE, SCHOLARLY AND ENTERTAINING

THE PATRIOTS OF AMERICA

And Their Rising in 1776 the Theme of the Eloquent Speaker—the Parts Played By Washington, Adams And Jefferson.

Sparkling with humor, abounding with ideas, rich in historic facts and eloquent as well as scholarly in expression was the lecture delivered by Dr. E. E. Sparks last evening at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

"John Adams, the Promoter of Independence," was the subject of this third lecture in the University Extension course.

Dr. Sparks spoke in part as follows:

"The period covers from 1774 to 1776, during which time John Adams figured conspicuously in the important questions of the day. He never favored the Tory party or any other party which supported the king in his tyranny. At this time the delegates of the different states stood much divided, and Boston was the scene of many a debate.

"The delegates finally went from Boston to Philadelphia where they were received with pomp and splendor, much to their astonishment. The delegates had not been in Philadelphia long when a quarrel arose, for seven of the colonies now had representation in that city.

"On September 15, 1874, these delegates united with what is known in history as the First Continental Congress, and at this time it was that the historic events of Liberty Hall began. Of this first congress, George Washington, was known as 'the fighter,' but who was to be the speaker and orator of such an important body? It was then that Patrick Henry is stirring and patriotic speech declared, 'I'm no longer a Virginian. I'm an American.'

"This first congress sat for two months in Philadelphia, and did they make any laws? No, they only made resolutions not to obey English laws and supported the state of Massachusetts in her disobedience of those laws. But, were these resolutions the only and most important work of this first congress?

"Indeed it was here for the first time that there had been an exchange of ideas, and here it was that the seeds of unionism were deeply planted in each heart.

"While in Philadelphia the delegates were much entertained and George Washington was dined and wined continually.

"John Adams, the plain Quaker that he was, did not expect to be banqueted as he was. Why, before John Adams went to Philadelphia he never looked upon the Quakers as his friends, but called them the 'broad brims.' But when in the midst of a pouring rain he left this historic city he expressed warmest feeling for the hospitality shown him by these Quakers.

"The next important event following were the Lexington and Concord battles, when after ten years of rebellion against the English government, war was precipitated. Then came the second continental congress in the spring of 1775. This was a law-making body, which took its first great step when it put the troops under the command of George Washington, the 'squire of Virginia. This was the second union making element.

"The next and greatest event was the writing of the Declaration of Independence. Thomas Jefferson was chosen by unanimous vote to write this greatest of all historic manuscripts. Although this great Declaration of Independence received many criticisms, yet it embodied two great ideas, namely, that all men are equal, not in riches, not in social rank, but in the sight of the law and that government proceeds from the majority of votes of the governed."

EAST END

This company having purchased the estate of the late George D. McKinnon, will offer the lots for sale, beginning Saturday, Nov. 1, 1902, at prices from $200.00 up, and will be sold on easy terms, a small cash payment down and the balance in monthly installments, 5 per cent discount for cash.

Lots are located on both sides of Pennsylvania Avenue, which is a paved street leading from the East End to the Diamond; also on the level land adjoining the East End school building.

These are by far the most desirable lots in this part of the city, being convenient to the large factories, street cars, churches, schools and stores.

If you are considering the purchase of one or more lots, either for a home or an investment, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity, as these lots will be offered at from 25 to 50 per cent less than the price asked for other lots of equal value in this part of the city.

There is only a limited number of these lots, and the early buyer will get the choice.

Members of the company will be on the premises all day on Saturday, Nov. 1, 1902, in order to show lots and quote prices.

the outside of the doorway, leaning against the door facing with his left hand and grasping his revolver in his coat pocket with the right. The prisoners file out, turn, march down the corridor from him and into their respective cells.

It has been customary for the prisoners to carry blankets from their cells in the morning to place on the benches during the day. Their plan was on coming out some night to go to their bunks, the first two men were to throw one of these blankets over the turnkey's head, overpower and disarm him, and with the assistance of their confederates lock him in one of the cells, then make good their escape.

Besides the 15 prisoners in the basement, three youths from upstairs, Ray McCalmont, Alex Stoffel and Charles Nuby, were lodged there every day.

Another plan of escape suggested was that when these three were let out of the corridor to go upstairs, being always transferred first, they should trip the turnkey and pin him to the floor until the others could come out of the corridor to their assistance.

Still another suggestion was that they should fall upon him as he stooped to fasten the lower lock of the corridor door when their comrades would come to their assistance. The three youths refused to be drawn into the scheme, perceiving the perilous character and well nigh hopelessness of such a move, as did several of the basement prisoners who hung back every night until those bent on escaping had passed the guard to avoid danger should the dash be made. One of the younger prisoners said he saw two of the leaders make a move one night as if to carry out their plan and was so unnerved by the prospect that his knees gave way under him.

From the time suspicion was aroused Deputy Davidson or Sheriff Leonard assisted every night in the transfer of the prisoners and with a man at either end of the corridor the conspirators would have stood no show had they made a break.

By the exercise of some diplomacy among the prisoners Sheriff Leonard and his assistants managed to extort full confessions of the details of the plans to escape from several of them. They also learned that Charles Hutton had robbed Daniel Thomas, one of his fellow inmates, of his watch and some money. Thomas is the insane colored man from Salem who was detained a few days before his removal to the Massillon asylum. Hutton was searched the evening the sheriff learned of the theft and the watch and money were found on his person. These valuables were returned to Mrs. Thomas in Salem.

HOW THE INDIANS VOTE.

They Are Very Deliberate and Then Have a Simple Method.

The Chickasaw Indians cast their vote differently from the way the white man does it. They meet the day before the election, and none but Chickasaws by blood is allowed to vote. No white man or intermarried citizens have the right of suffrage. They go off to themselves and have a powwow. They decide for whom they will vote after considering the matter for twenty-four hours.

The polling place is quite unlike that of the white man. There is a great sheet of paper, white, yellow or brown as the case may be, about three feet square. Upon this sheet of paper are a vast number of cross lines, regularly ruled off with a pencil. Then down one side of the sheet of paper are placed the names of all candidates for office, beginning with the candidates for governor and running on down to precinct officers. At the top of the sheet are the number of blank spaces that will be required for the names of the voters. The judges of election sit by and pass on those entitled to vote, and there is a certainty that no illegal votes are cast.

The Indian is thoroughly deliberate. He takes his time when it comes to voting. He proceeds to the polling place, looks carefully over the poll sheet, and if he is ready to cast his ballot he calls out his name, and the clerk records it on the sheet. Then the clerk reads off the names of the candidates for governor. The voter deliberates awhile, calls out the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote, his vote is recorded, and the names of the candidates for the next office are called out, and so on through the list, till all the offices represented are voted for.

Thus it is that every voter knows exactly how every other voter has cast his ballot, and there are no remarks, no suggestions and no quarrels over differences of opinion.

DESERTED DEVORE SEEKS A DIVORCE

TORONTO MAN WHOSE WIFE ELOPED FILES A PETITION.

His Runaway Wife Came to East Liverpool Not Long Since With Another Man.

Daniel W. Devore, a well known resident of Toronto, has commenced suit for divorce from his wife, Thurza E. Devore.

At the same time he secured an injunction restraining her from disposing of his property, which appears on the county records in her name. The property, he says, consists of a house and lot in Toronto, which cost $1,400, and on which he still owes $600.

In his petition the plaintiff says they were married at Toronto on Christmas day, 1894, and have no children. He alleges that on the 7th of last December his wife deserted him without any just cause and has since refused to live with him; that on September 2, at the boarding house of J. H. Allison in East Liverpool, she and one William Lowery lived together as man and wife; that afterwards they lived together at the boarding house of F. F. Edwards in East Liverpool, and that since that time they have been living together in Cleveland. In addition to a divorce, the plaintiff asks the court to divest his wife of all right and title in his real estate, which is now in her name, and that the court may restore the real estate to him and decree to him the fee simple title in the property.

Lowery was formerly a boarder at the Devore home and is alleged to have run away with Mrs. Devore last September and come to East Liverpool, where he worked for some time for Harvey McHenry, the contractor. Devore is said to have run across the pair at a Cleveland boarding house lately, where he had a fight with Lowery and had him arrested. Mrs. Devore ran out while the men were wrangling and had not been found at last accounts.

Improved In Sanitarium.

Columbus, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Word has been received here that James R. Sloane, of Hanoverton, who was taken to a sanitarium at Painesville, for treatment for a stroke of paralysis, is much improved and the attending physicians are of the opinion that he will soon be able to return home. Mr. Sloane is well known in Columbiana county. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. Fawcett, now of Chicago, formerly of Salem.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BELMONT CLUB BALL

The Affair at Rock Springs Last Night Delightful In All Particulars.

The dance and reception given last evening at Rock Springs by the Belmont club to a large number of friends formed a successful event in every detail. Artistic programs had been selected, which consisted of twenty dances. The booklets were black, with printing in gold letters on the back, to which was attached a scarlet cord and tiny pencil. Throughout the evening the young people were delighted with the selections rendered by McGraw's orchestra. Special cars conveyed the guests to the city at 12:30 o'clock, after an evening spent which will long be remembered by the many friends of the Belmont club.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S PARTY

The Misses Peach Pleasantly Entertained 30 of Their Friends Last Night.

Misses Adelaide and Helen Peach, of Fifth street, very pleasantly entertained 30 of their young friends last evening. Pink and white were the chosen colors for the event, the pink carnation being the favorite flower. The early part of the evening was spent in Halloween games, after which a dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. Peach was assisted by Mrs. William Harris, Miss May Scragg, and Mrs. William Erlanger. The out-of-town guests were Mr. Willis Duff, of Allegheny, and Miss Lois Kennedy, of the same city.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A Fine Entertainment By Mrs. Homer J. Taylor In Honor of Her Guests.

Mrs. Homer J. Taylor entertained in elegant manner a number of young girls in honor of Misses Ada Cassidy and Hazel Sebring, at her home on Fifth street. The appointments for the evening were perfect in every respect, and the home was uniquely decorated in strings of yellow corn and jack 'o lanterns. Amusements appropriate for the celebration of Halloween made the evening a festive one. An elaborate luncheon was served later in the evening, and it was with regret that the merry crowd dispersed.

Children's Pleasant Party.

A merry crowd of juveniles assembled last evening at the home of Miss Henrietta Harrison on Seventh street, to spend Halloween. Pink and white crepe paper was arranged in a manner effective throughout the home, and after playing games, the children were invited to the dining room where also ping and white were in evidence, and it was here that the children were most delighted with the dainty luncheon of which they partook.

Among those present from out of town were: Miss Jane Stewart, Chester; Miss Durflinger, London, O.; Miss Lucile Barr, Rochester, Pa.; Miss June Ault, Toronto; Miss Blyth, Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Miss Eva Riley, Crester; Misses Nelson, Wilcoxen, Donnelly, Moorehead, Given. Messrs. Jesse Wilcoxen, Will Jack and Cliff Laughlin, Wellsville; John Jevons, Rochester, Pa.; J. H. Stewart, New Cumberland; and L. Baxter, Chester.

Fifty Were Present.

The Young Girls' Friendly society of St. Stephen's church, on Fourth street, last evening spent a very pleasant time in the parish building. There were about fifty young girls present and the evening was spent in Halloween games and taffy pulling.

OTHER ENTERTAINMENTS.

Mrs. R. E. Rayman will entertain a number of friends at her home on Saturday, November 8, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

The Luther society observed Halloween last evening with a party at the home of Misses Minnie and Tillie Agner on Fourth street.

Misses Edith and Olive Zook entertained a number of their school friends Thursday afternoon at the home of their mother, Mrs. Daisy Zook, of Basil avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan McPherson pleasantly entertained a number of friends at their home north of the city last night, it being their 30th wedding anniversary. The affair was a most enjoyable one, nearly all of the guests being from this city.

Miss Emma Brooks, of Morton street, entertained her friends last evening with a taffy pull. About 20 were present and enjoyed the evening in the good old fashioned way.

Miss Florence Foutis gave a very pleasant party to a large number of friends at her home last night. Many enjoyable features were introduced for the entertainment of the guests.

A large party of young people were entertained last evening at the home of Miss Lucy Bowdler, of Prospect street. Music and games were enjoyed, and the evening was very pleasantly spent.

Miss Jessie Driscoll, of Hale street, was the hostess last evening at a Halloween party. Quite a number of her friends enjoyed a pleasant evening with the amusements incident to the occasion.

Miss Minnie Christy entertained a few of her intimate friends last evening with a Halloween party. Games and music served to amuse the guests and a tempting lunch was served at 10:30 o'clock.

An old-fashioned Halloween party was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. John Staley, at their home on Basil avenue. None of the pleasing features were omitted and the guests enjoyed cider, nuts, popcorn and ghost stories until a late hour.

One of the most pleasant of the many parties given in the city last night was that of Miss Maude Shive, who entertained a select party of friends at her Fifth street home. The evening was spent in music and games, and after the guests had tired of this form of amusement the entire party made a tour of the city, creating havoc wherever they went.

Her Housework

Women who find it difficult to do their housework, who drag about their home with hardly energy enough to lift a broom, who are all tired out; who ache, are lame, languid and distressed, will find in "Blood Wine" a medicine whose peculiar strength-giving properties make it impossible for these all too common ills to exist. A great many women neglect themselves, and disease follows. "Blood Wine" should be on the kitchen shelf of every home. If taken when one enjoys good health it will keep one from getting out of order. If taken after disease has fastened itself upon the system it will quickly throw it off. Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh of 22 Isabella St., Boston, Mass., owes her present good health to "Blood Wine," though she almost died before she got hold of the medicine. She says:

"I suffered for years with a general run-down condition, due to a bad condition of the blood, which produced a type of dyspepsia. I had at times pains that almost drove me wild, and that left me with scarcely strength enough to get around. A friend, one day, to whom I was telling my story, asked me to try 'Blood Wine,' as it had done her so much good. So I did. I began with small doses and increased as I improved. I soon got so I could eat bread and milk. I continued with the medicine until I had taken several bottles and was entirely cured. Now I eat anything, am strong, healthy and happy, and attribute it all to 'Blood Wine.'"

Womb afflictions, periodical sufferings, and the general lassitude resulting will quickly disappear when the blood is properly treated. It provides nourishment and strength and brings about a natural condition in all the organs. Mrs. Bertha Sanborn of 50 Germaine St., Boston, will testify to that. Her experiences are as follows:

"Your 'Blood Wine' has done more for me than I could express in a letter. I have been subject to womb trouble all my life, and have taken all sorts of treatment for it without getting permanent relief until I took 'Blood Wine.' I am only too glad to recommend it."

It also cured the mother of Mrs. Howard Warren of 143 Main St., Concord, N. H. She is a woman over ninety. The powerful action of "Blood Wine" in the blood creates normal action and drives off disease. Mrs. Warren's experience illustrates this. She says:

"I have used 'Blood Wine' for both myself and my mother, who is now quite old, and have found it an invaluable remedy for colds and coughs, as well as a phenomenal stimulant for the blood and nerves. It quickly overcomes any irritation of the throat or lungs, and seems to be the ideal medicine for aged people."

Nearly all diseases have their origin in the blood. It is foolish and a waste of time and money to try and cure them without removing the cause. If you want to be cured, to stay cured, to get your system in a thoroughly healthy condition, you can do it with "Blood Wine," because "Blood Wine" removes the cause. "Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.

MUNICIPAL CODE.

The New One Obeys the Ohio Constitution.

POWER RIGHT WITH THE PEOPLE.

Fewer Changes From Existing Conditions and Closer to the Voters Than Any Other Plan Proposed. Governor Nash Narrates the Need For the New Law.

Columbus, O., Oct. 24.—A great Republican meeting filled the spacious Board of Trade auditorium tonight. The Columbus Glee club, with their songs, filled a large part of the time, although brief Republican speeches were interspersed. Secretary of State Laylin presided. Governor George K. Nash made the principal speech in response to requests for a statement about the new municipal code. He spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow-Citizens:

We have a constitution framed by our fathers, and under which the people of Ohio have lived for more than 50 years. This organic law permitted, or rather commanded the general assembly to provide by general laws for the organization of cities and incorporated villages. It further commanded that the general assembly should not pass any special act conferring corporate powers. Under these limitations we must have a uniform law for the organization of cities and uniform law for the organization of villages.

More than 30 years ago, the general assembly began the violation of these commands of the constitution by classifying cities—organizing some cities in one way and other cities in another. This happened because the general assembly were impressed with the idea that certain cities required certain provisions in their charters which were unnecessary in other cities. The evil grew. Matters went from bad to worse, until the time came when in Ohio scarcely two cities were organized in the same manner, or under the same law.

This continued violation of the law of the constitution could not go on forever. The time must come when a crisis would be reached. It did come in June of this year, when the supreme court practically declared all these laws to be unconstitutional and void. All our municipalities were left without law, without government, and in a state of chaos.

To ameliorate the evils of the situation, the court postponed the execution of its decree until the general assembly could provide some sort of constitutional government for our municipalities. This was a most perilous crisis, requiring extraordinary action. But one thing seemed to remain to be done, and that was to call an extra session of the legislature. Many good people feared this. Some suggested that it be postponed until after the November election. It seemed to me that this would not be a courageous thing to do. I reflected that a majority of the members in each branch of the assembly were Republicans. The one thing in the history of this party, in all its history, which is the boast of its lovers and adherents, and of which I am most proud, is its ability to seize hold of any great emergency whenever it arises and meet it with courage and solve the difficulty to the great benefit of all the people. Therefore, I called the general assembly of the state in extraordinary session on the 25th day of August.

The session continued until the 22nd of October. The result is that we now have a code for the government of our cities and villages uniform in its operation, and in strict compliance with the constitution. Under it we will have municipal government built upon the same principles which characterize the government of the United States. There will be three branches of government—the legislative, the executive and the judicial—each independent of the other, and each having its appropriate duties to perform, without interference by the other or others. These principles have been held sacred in the federal and state governments, and are just as essential to the success and well-being of municipal governments. It provides that all contracts made and rights granted under pre-existing laws shall stand. This was required by good faith and of honest men. It does not make radical changes. It permits our cities to have the same rights and privileges, and to do about the same things that they have done in the past. It gives to the people the right to elect all their principal executive, legislative and judicial officers, and does not give to any one man the power to construct a personal machine. That we may have model municipal government in Ohio but one thing remains to be done. That is for the people to take an interest in their own business, and to look after it as they do after their private affairs, and see that honest, efficient men are elected as municipal officers. Without such intelligent action by the people, no mere form of government will save their public business from disgrace and disaster.

The task accomplished by the general assembly was not an easy nor an idle one. It was confronted by the conflicting interests—real or imaginary—of seventy odd cities. These had to be compromised or reconciled. Then there were many differing theories of municipal government advocated by sincere and able men. There was an ever vigilant political enemy, constantly throwing blocks under the wheels for political effect alone. For what was accomplished under these circumstances the Seventy-fifth general assembly deserves the highest praise.

The self-assumed, self-appointed and temporary leader of the Democratic party attacks the new code. A demagogue who never in private life practiced what he now preaches, shouts as his battle-cry, "Home rule and just taxation."

"Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cleveland seems to mean Tom L. Johnson as mayor, elected by the people, with all the principal officers of the city appointed by him, and a rate of taxation increased in one year from $2.67 upon one hundred dollars to $3.05. "Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cincinnati means a competent, upright mayor, Julius Fleischmann, elected by the people, surrounded by faithful officials, also elected by the people, and a rate of taxation reduced in one year from $2.48 upon the one hundred dollars to $2.31, the lowest rate of taxation in any city in the state of Ohio. "Home rule and just taxation" in the state of Ohio means a governor and the principal state officials all elected by the people, and the rate of taxation upon real and personal property reduced in one year by more than one-half. As for me, I prefer "home rule and just taxation" as exemplified by the Republican party in the city of Cincinnati, and in the state of Ohio, to "home rule and just taxation" as practiced by Tom L. Johnson in the city of Cleveland. I sincerely hope that the people of Ohio by their votes on the fourth day of November will show that they are of the same opinion.

IMPORTANT POINTS ABOUT THE CODE.

In addition to what Governor Nash said, the following are among many strong points in favor of the code as now before the people for the test of its practical operation:

In addition to what the governor has said so clearly many other points of importance about the new municipal code might be made. Among these are the following:

It increases very considerably the power of the city council, elected by the people.

It brings home to the people, through the council, an enlarged power for prompt and thorough action for the public needs heretofore reserved for the legislature.

It makes the council represent the entire city by adding members at large.

It stops dickering for the organization of the council by making its president and clerk, or auditor, elective by the people.

It makes a larger proportion of the executive officers elected by the people. There are enough officers provided for the larger cities, while the smallest need incur no extra expense on account of any positions which it does not need as yet, but which are allotted to it in obedience to the supreme court and constitutional requirements of uniformity in all cities.

It gives the mayor the responsibility for naming every appointive officer. If he picks out strong, suitable men for the bi-partisan board of public safety the responsibility for any rejection rests with the council; only in that event can the governor intervene.

The mayor is the executive head of the police and fire departments, whose members are selected and protected in their positions by the merit system, administered by the bi-partisan board of public safety, thus ensuring capacity and stability in both departments.

Another reform is protection by statute against partisan gerrymander of councilmanic districts, or wards, and against ripper legislation.

In case of cities that are carrying debts the sinking fund commission provides a plan and protection for the payment of all debts. This will enhance municipal credit and save the taxpayers great sums annually.

A check, always needed, now provided for the first time, upon excessive local taxation is made by giving the sinking fund commission control of all local tax levies.

In case of public improvements new checks and safeguards are provided against excessive special taxation.

Another important new protection for the public interests is in giving the mayor the veto power, and requiring a two-thirds vote of council to overcome his objections.

The plan adopted comes closest in its general features to the system already in operation in most of the cities of the state, excepting the two that have had the so-called federal system. It differs from those in making the principal officers elected by the people, and not creatures of the mayor, and in putting the subordinate officers under a stringent merit system.

Other very vital objections to the federal plan have been that it gave the mayor a veto upon all proposed legislation in council, because the approval of the mayor and his cabinet was required before the submission of measures to the council, and after that the mayor and his cabinet had the right to oppose measures on the floor in open council, in the way practiced in the British parliament. This is a foreign and not a federal plan, and is not like anything American.

The new code limits the city levy to 10 mills on each dollar of taxable property, exclusive of levies for schools, libraries, university, hospital and interest purposes, and any higher rate must be approved by two-thirds of the electors before it can go into effect.

Temporary loans, secured by the council, can run only six months. Deficiency bonds may run for 50 years, to secure the lowest interest rate, but they must never exceed 1 per cent of the tax duplicate, and must be approved by two-thirds of the city council and two-thirds of the voters.

FREE TRADE TRUSTS.

Thousands of Them In Lands Without Protection.

Congressman Littlefield made a little speech the other day at Lewiston, Maine, which the Democrats have been studying carefully. They are not sure after all, that this is such a good year for "tariff reform." After ridiculing the Democracy for its hard luck in getting only criticism for its attacks upon the American army, he commented on the Democratic statement that the "tariff fosters the trusts." In the first place, he stated that there are thousands of corporations that are not fostered by the tariff, the biggest trust in the country, Standard Oil, leading them. Anthracite is a trust and there is no protection on that. Then go to free trade England, he said, and you will find the county honeycombed with trusts; they have been there since 1640. They are all over Europe and in countries that have never heard of a tariff. But, continued Mr. Littlefield, strike off the tariff, and who goes to the wall first? Why, it is the weaker party, the individual competitor.

SHORT, SHARP SAYINGS.

Many Newspapers Contribute to the Campaign.

It seems that everybody praises Roosevelt. Stop a moment and think what a vote of confidence a sweeping Republican victory in November would be.—Dayton Herald.

When the new code is in working order it will no doubt be found to be a much better way for the government of cities and towns than the old way, which it displaces.—Lancaster Gazette.

"When a street railroad magnate in Detroit, Tom Johnson fought the attempt of Pingree to reduce fares on his lines, going clear to the supreme court of the United States with the suit." Voters do not desire that kind of reformers.

Every Republican who stands firmly for Republican principles will vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom. It is the straight ticket that counts and is most easily counted by the election officers. Vote the full state and county ticket and see that your neighbor does the same.

There ought not to be any difficulty in arousing interest in the Ohio political campaign this year. If you believe in the continuance of good times, and we believe all do, you can surely take the time to go to the polls on election day and continue in power the party that brought the good times about.—Auglaize Republican.

Senator Hanna hit the nail on the head in his Logan speech when he said that no business man or laboring man should be so busy that he did not have time to go to the election and vote for the continuance of prosperity. We had a case of that kind in 1892, but the people of this country had a plenty of leisure for a good while afterwards.—Logan Journal-Gazette.

OUR NATIVE TREES

... By ...

THOMAS H. MACBRIDE, Ph. D.,

I.—What Is a Tree?

TREES in our country are fortunately so common as almost to pass without definition. Everybody knows a tree and knows all about it too. At least he thinks he does. He knows that a tree has an erect persistent stem, widespreading or deep descending roots, waving, far extending branches and abundant leaves, casting in summer a grateful shade, in autumn falling. He knows that trees, some of them at least, bear flowers and fruits and seed, reproducing the species "after their kind." This much everybody knows, and these indeed are some of the patent, obvious features of a tree. Nevertheless, as may be suspected, this is only an outside or surface view of the subject. When we come to inquire how the tree comes to be what it is, how it does all the things that we see it do, how it pushes the roots through the hard ground where a plow can hardly go, how the leaves elaborate its food, how it builds stem and bark and branch and carries pound after pound, ton after ton, away up into the air, how it endures while living summer's drought and winter's cold, not for a few years, but year after year, for centuries and centuries—when we begin to think of trees in this way, it is plain that all our surface knowledge counts but little. We are in the presence of a mechanism of wonderful efficiency, but also of great complexity, whose delicate adjustments may tax the cunning of the wisest.

Now, in a few short chapters which constitute this course a complete answer to the problem of the tree or even a complete statement of it is certainly not to be expected. We may perhaps study the problem in some of its simpler aspects, learn a little of the structure of a tree, of its history, and more of its utility and exceeding value to enlightened men and nations.

Perhaps the most striking peculiarity of the tree is its persistence. Other plants grow, send up stems and leaves and flowers, begin many of the things done by the tree, but these presently perish, survive a few months or years at most and are gone. Only plants of the tree type seem able to accumulate, to carry forward the work of life and make each year contributory to life's perennial triumph. Fortunately this particular property of the tree, taking things as they are, admits of comparatively simple explanation. We find the explanation in so far in the tree's structure, just as in the case of any mechanism we may study the parts and find out how they work and so understand the machine. If we make a thin cross section of the stem of a small tree and lay the section under the lens of a microscope, we shall see something like that shown in the accompanying illustration, which is indeed from a photograph of such a section.

Here the whole section seems made up of little rings. The early observers thought these rings looked like a section of a honeycomb and accordingly called them cells. At a glance we perceive that the rings or cells are not alike. They differ greatly in size and shape. A second glance shows us that the cells fall easily into groups which form together a circle around within the margin. The cells which make up this band or circle are in the growing tree, all living cells and all active, each in its own way. Within the limits assigned us here we may not consider them all, but must pay attention to the very smallest only, those that make up a narrow band, marked C in the figure. It is to these tiniest but ever living cells that the tree of the forest owes it character, its long enduring vigor. Being living cells, these can grow, and by their peculiar way of growing they accomplish three things—they lie between bark and wood, and all the time in the growing season those on the outside become transformed into cells that make up the cortex, ultimately the bark, and are added to its inner surface; those on the inside are in a similar way passing over into the form of the cells of ordinary wood, either to form wood de novo or to be added to the wood already in position; the middle cells of the band simply divide and divide and so keep up a perennial supply of cells of such plastic sort. Here is the secret of the tree's endurance and of its increase in thickness, for we must remember we are studying a cross section of the tree, taken anywhere, and we must therefore conceive these tiny cells to form a living sheath covering the whole tree, lying between bark and wood. In spring we very easily pull the bark from a living tree—a willow, for instance—the separation occurring in the plane of this living but proportionately delicate cell layer. This living, active layer has long been named the cambium. We shall refer to it again.

But let us look at our section again. We may discover still another peculiarity. The border cells arrange themselves in groups, with slight intervals between. The cells of these intervals are continuous with the large cells of the middle, with the pith, or medulla. They may be regarded as at first part of the medulla. They form the medullary rays. They build as they grow vertical plates radiating outwardly from the center of the tree. At first the plates are comparatively few, but as growth proceeds the primary rays are continually re-enforced by others, originating indeed in the persistent cambium and intercalated between those already formed until their number, as may be seen in any bit of wood, as oak, becomes very great. Split a piece of such wood, and the medullary plates appear and shine, called by the artisan "silver grain."

Let us now recapitulate the structures of the stem as we have studied them. In the center of our section lies the medulla, or pith, bounded on the outer side by a ring of forming wood. Next to this outwardly lies the cambium, beyond which, again, is the cortex, the forming structures of the bark. The elements of bark and wood are gathered plainly into groups, and intervening between these several groups, intercepting what would be otherwise a continuous arc, occur the medullary rays.

Trees as Air Purifiers.

F. Schuyler Mathews in a recently issued work on "Familiar Trees and Their Leaves" says: "The greatest sphere of usefulness which a tree occupies is connected with its life. It is a great air purifier. It absorbs from the atmosphere the carbonic acid gas which is poisonous to us, it holds and slowly dispenses moisture which the parched air needs, it gives out the ozone (or oxygen in an active electro negative condition) which is particularly conducive to our health and it modifies heat which would otherwise be overpowering. Step into the thick woods from an open space on a very hot day, and immediately relief is experienced from the intense heat. This is not wholly the result of shade furnished by the trees. Much of it proceeds from the modification of the air through the breathing of the tree leaves.

"I have estimated that a certain sugar maple of large proportions which grows near my cottage puts forth in one season about 432,000 leaves. These leaves combined present a surface to sunlight of about 21,000 square feet, or an area equal to pretty nearly half an acre. Every inch of this expanse breathes in life for the tree and out health for man, while it absorbs in the aggregate an enormous amount of heat and sunlight."

Washington Beautified.

The city of Washington has set a good example to American municipalities in the matter of tree planting. Within its limits there are now no less than 80,000 shade trees, and it is unnecessary to dwell on the added beauty they lend to the place. Paris has an even greater number, and it is said that $60,000 is expended annually by the latter city in the care of them and in the setting out of new ones. Every street of a certain width is entitled to a row of trees on either side and every street of a certain greater width to a double row.

IS HE A DEMOCRAT?

The Head of the Ohio Democratic Ticket.

HOW HE MALIGNED M'KINLEY.

Bigelow Active In Two National Conventions, Neither of Them the Democratic, Only Two Years Ago—Why Did Johnson Nominate Him?

An Open Letter to Hon. Tom L. Johnson.

Sir: Was Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, now head of the Ohio Democratic ticket by your own selection, a Democrat two short years ago? If he was a Democrat in August, 1900, of which there is no evidence, had he become one a month after going to the Silver Republican party's national convention in Kansas City, July 4, 5 and 6, 1900? "The Rev. Dr. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, O.," say the reports, offered prayer at the opening of the sessions. Is that your Bigelow? A Silver Republican then; when did he become a Democrat, if ever? You say that you do not favor the free silver, 16 to 1 idea. Does Bigelow? The convention that he attended endorsed that doctrine, as the New York World Almanac shows, and went further by demanding the issue of all paper money by the government, and all of it "a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private without exception." Bigelow believed he believed that in 1900. Does he still in 1902? Do you? If you do not believe in the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1" by the United States alone, or in making limitless fiat money with a printing press, why have you put their supporter upon your ticket? Did you tell the Ohio Democrats of this man's record on these great questions?

He took full part in the cruel abuse of McKinley. Did you advise them of that? Did you explain how recently he did not even call himself a Democrat? Was there not among all the Democrats of Ohio one real Democrat that you would trust at the top of your ticket? Or was there no Democrat of character and repute in his party who would trust himself on the ticket you should dictate, with the platform of departures from Democracy that you might demand?

Didn't you know Bigelow better, or his bitterness against McKinley, and his free silver, rag paper money record? Or did you know it all and approve? Or did you condone his offense? Or was there one real reason, and that is that Bigelow is a single taxer? While you got the Democrats to nominate him, was not your underlying reason for favoring him as against every Democrat, the fact that he is a follower of Henry George's plan for taking away all private property in land, confiscating it by taxation, to make it public property?

Do you think the single tax so much greater in consequence than all other questions that Bigelow's professed belief in it outbalanced all beside, even the slump to silver, the repudiation by fiat money, and worst of all his part in the maligning that cost the nation McKinley's precious life?

William McKinley, the martyred president, was murdered as an echo of the abuse heaped upon him for doing the right as God gave him to see the right, to quote Aoraham Lincoln's words. Back of the bullet and the assassin stood the men who denounced our beloved chief magistrate with the utmost vehemence. Pre-eminent among these were the Anti-Imperialists, who lashed themselves into fury over the imagined but impossible proposition that President McKinley planned an empire with himself on its throne.

The National Anti-Imperialist league held a liberty congress, as they called it, at Indianapolis, Aug. 15 and 16, 1900. The elaborate platform adopted as quoted in the New York World Almanac (1901, p149) denounces the president all through, for undertaking "to rule by despotic power," and "without constitutional restraint." They declared that McKinley "prosecuted a war of conquest," that he governed "by arbitrary power; this is imperialism." They demanded that the people stamp upon McKinley's "attempt to grasp imperial power," "to subvert the character of their government and to destroy their national ideals." To oppose, to crush "imperialism," was their solemn purpose. The resolutions were mild compared with their speeches.

Not many months later the grief of the country and of the world beside the murdered McKinley answered all those atrocious accusations. What did you think of them when they were uttered? What did your man Bigelow think of them? The record reads that his name stood second on the committee that drafted these dastardly slanders upon President McKinley, and that he was one of the speech makers of this convention of haranguers against that gentle lover of peace. Did you not know that about Bigelow? If you knew so little about Bigelow, why did you put him on the Ohio Democratic ticket? If you did know of his prominence as an Anti-Imperialist, does your dictating his nomination mean that you still endorse that bitter and false arraignment of McKinley? Respectfully,

CHARLES DICK.

This Year's Work With Republican Laws by Republicans.

The farmers got the good of the anti-trust law enforcement of the present year at Chicago, Kansas City and in Texas, by the United States department of justice, as reported by Attorney General Knox. Six suits at Chicago and eight at Kansas City against offending railroads secured injunctions that broke up the elevator discriminations, restored uniform rates, gave small grain buyers a chance again, and through them opened wide markets for the producers. Mr. Knox also threatens to indict offending officials. Similar suits in behalf of the cotton growers of the South, stopped their troubles and brought the railroads to time. The suits against the beef trust are moving right ahead.

All this is the work of Republican officials enforcing laws enacted by Republicans against Democratic opposition. The only Democratic president, in four years under these same laws never did a thing. Roosevelt is making them count, and Attorney General Knox is preparing still more stringent statutes. By your vote stand by Roosevelt.

Regular Democrats Out of the Johnson Campaign.

The chairman of the Republican state committee may be wasting a good deal of time in calling attention to the inconsistencies and radicalisms of Tom Johnson, but he certainly is not impertinent in doing so. It is the literal truth that Mr. Johnson is about all there is visible of the Ohio Democracy this year. At the state convention of the party in September Johnson not only named the ticket but wrote the platform and dictated the organization. The chairman of the Democratic state committee gets his orders from the fat man from Cleveland and the latter's automobile and circus tent have made up the entire Democratic campaign. The old wheelhorses of Democracy have either not been called to the stump or have not been disposed to promote the new order of things by responding. The significance of their absence is not less in one case than in the other. Johnson and his single tax satellite, the Rev Bigelow, have been "the whole thing."—Toledo Times.

The Democrats in the Ohio legislature marked the close of the session by singing blasphemous songs. They evidently found their level.—Steubenville Herald-Star.

Free silver at 16 to 1, is reaffirmed in the Cedar Point platform. Bigelow votes will cheer on a revival of free silverism.

Too Cautious.

"I have the greatest confidence in Dr. Slocum as a physician," said one of the doctor's patients. "He never gives an opinion till he has waited and weighed a case and looked at it from every side."

"Um-m!" said the skeptical friend. "That's all right if you don't carry it too far. There have been times, you know, when he's been so cautious that his diagnosis has come near getting mixed up with the postmortem."—Youth's Companion.

MISS MAY MARKELL,

A Society Belle of London, Canada.

Miss May Markell.

MISS MAY MARKELL of London, Ontario, Canada, is a beautiful girl who knows what suffering is and Wine of Cardui has brought her back to health. She is one of the social favorites of her home and her recovery to health has permitted her to enjoy the company of her many friends instead of lying on a bed of sickness and suffering. For the health she now enjoys she gives credit to Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"I have found Wine of Cardui an excellent remedy for female trouble. I suffered for three years with terrible bearing-down pains at the menstrual period. I could hardly stand on my feet and was never real well. Wine of Cardui was the only medicine that I could depend on to do me any good, as I tried several with no success. Wine of Cardui cured me and I have now enjoyed perfect health for two years, and give you all the credit for I know you deserve it."

For a young girl Wine of Cardui is the best remedy to guide her through womanhood by starting the menstrual flow in a healthy and natural manner. Menstruation started right is very easy to keep regular through the years of mature womanhood. Then the "change of life" need not be feared. Thus Wine of Cardui is woman's best relief from youth to old age. A million women have secured blessed relief from their sufferings by taking this treatment. It relieves menstrual troubles in an incredibly short time. In a simple case of deranged menses Wine of Cardui never fails. To relieve disordered menses is to remove the cause of other female troubles. Any physician will tell you that to remove the cause of a disease renders the cure easy, in fact seldom fails to complete the cure. If you would have the same relief which Miss Markell secured try Wine of Cardui. You can take it without an examination and without any publicity whatever. You can take it in the privacy of your home and secure just as much benefit as if a doctor had prescribed it for you. Thousands of women are feeling the vigor of returning health by taking Wine of Cardui.

GROVER AGAIN.

Cleveland Calls the Democracy Together.

All Opposed to Free Trade and the Single Land Tax Should Be Warned by This to Get Out Their Full Vote.

When Grover Cleveland, after all that has happened, writes to Tammany Hall, it is time for Republicans to go to work. The former president tells the organization within his party that has opposed him most strenuously, that the chances of a Democratic victory were never better and urging Democrats of every stripe to loyally support the candidates. He does this upon the New York platform of the public ownership of mines to be operated by the United States government, an idea heretofore intolerable to him. His present action, therefore, means that for purposes of his own, Grover is getting the Democrats together again.

Republicans need to be warned by this fact that the enemy is awake and alert. This is no time to take anything for granted. The pending election will be decided above all, by the presence, or absence of Republicans from the polls. In Ohio Republican victory is a sure thing all along the line, provided only those who believe in the present prosperity and profit by it attend to their political duties. No negligence will avail anything the day after election, and all the vain regrets in the world on the 5th of November can never do the work for which the day before has alone been reserved.

More than Republicans are interested. Every man who shares in the least in the work and wages, and opportunity for employment, in these busy times has a stake of his own in this result. Grover Cleveland's object is to undo the existing conditions. He calls attention to tariff reform as a paramount issue of the campaign. Here in Ohio that is in the Democratic platform, and the Democratic leader is an out and out free trader, who would wipe out protection completely. Every vote against him ought to be got out in force. It is the duty of every Republican, not only to vote early himself, but to see that his neighbor gets to the polls and votes on the side of prosperity and real "just taxation."

TARIFF REVISION.

Republicans Always Did So as to Build Business

There is an honest difference of opinion even between the friends of a fair protective tariff, on the question of whether immediate changes should be attempted, or to wait a little, rather than disturb business with agitation; but there is no difference of opinion among friends of the American protective system, as to who should be intrusted with revision

Shall it be a Cleveland, Tom Johnson, free trade, paralyzing destruction, or a careful revision of schedules, where changed conditions render reduction necessary?

Can the Republican party be trusted to revise the tariff?

It did revise the tariff four times since the war.

Twice it revised the tariff to reduce a redundant revenue, once under Grant, and once under Arthur. The third revision was the McKinley act, a revision made necessary by the condition of the treasury and the far worse condition of the great body of the people after the last four years of Cleveland.

The fourth Republican revision of the tariff was the Dingley bill, a revision essential to correct the paralyzing effects of the Cleveland-Wilson bill.

On the other hand the Democrats revised the tariff once since the civil war, by the Wilson bill under Cleveland.

Experience is a dear school. Will you not trust the party that gave the whole people a chance to recover prosperity, that Democratic tariff tinkering had destroyed?

DOWN IN A SALT MINE.

An Occasion When One's Dignity Must Be Set Aside.

It is only the elect among travelers who find their way to Berchtesgaden, in Bavaria, not very far from Salzburg, writes a correspondent of the London Tatler. If you drive in a carriage from thence by road, you are stopped midway at a customs house and find yourself leaving Austrian territory for Bavarian. Berchtesgaden is beautifully situated, and it has two noteworthy attractions, one of them the Konigsee, thought by many the most beautiful lake in the world, and the other the salt mines. A visit to the salt mines gives one an exciting hour.

Many tourists take tickets at the top, but many of the fair sex are deterred from using them when they see the costume that is rendered essential to the visit. In other words, they have to abandon skirts and adopt a special "rig out." One may frequently observe that ladies, torn between what they consider modesty and curiosity, go two or three times to the mines before they screw up their courage sufficiently to don the attire and pay the visit.

The necessity for women to abandon the usual garment arises from the fact that a portion of the mine can only be visited through the medium of a kind of slide. This slide is, however, the best thing in the whole visit. It is a great deal better than tobogganing, and, as one is in the dark and with only a candle fastened to one's dress, it is not a little exciting.

The strangest incident in the trip is that of the illumination of what is called "the salt lake." You are rowed across this lake in almost absolute darkness, the illumination being provided by a number of miners' lamps round the lake, and the journey has a very considerable weirdness. The next best experience in the trip is the final ride into daylight on the trucks. This is a journey through absolute darkness for a very considerable way, until finally one sees a little gleam of light in the distance. Altogether, as I have said, between the toboggan slide, the car ride and the boat journey across the salt lake the visitor to the Berchtesgaden salt mine has plenty for his money. But, curiously enough, he sees very little salt. At any rate, the prepared salt that one uses on one's breakfast table is not at all in evidence.

Mackay and Florence.

On one occasion William J. Florence at the end of a not very prosperous engagement in San Francisco announced a benefit for himself and his wife. John W. Mackay happened to be in town at the time and wrote to Florence for one orchestra seat. It was duly sent, as a matter of course, and Mrs. Florence remarked to her husband that, considering the friendship existing between the two men, she thought Mr. Mackay might have taken a private box at least. "Wait," said Florence, "he has not paid yet, and I am in no hurry." The benefit took place, Mr. Mackay came from Virginia City to occupy the seat he had taken, and a day later he sent Florence a check for $1,000.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, men—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous effort to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insiduous consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's.

FOE TO UNIONISM.

Iron and Steel Workers Know Tom Johnson.

Amalgamated Association Journal Shows How His Lorain and Johnstown Mills Could Never Be Organized by the Association.

Mayor Johnson, the Democratic party, was at one time a large employer of labor, in a trade that was strongly unionized. This brought him in contact with union men, and they learned something of his attitude toward them. The record of his dealings with unions is of interest and should influence every union man in Ohio.

The Amalgamated Journal is the official organ of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and anything that appears in its columns has the sanction of the officers of that great organization, and is pretty nearly authentic. In the issue of October 23 correspondents at Findlay and Youngstown contribute to the public knowledge of his record in dealing with trades unions.

Extracts from the Youngstown letter are quoted as follows:

"I could not keep my mind from running along the lines of his labor record, and naturally, as a steel worker, I thought of Lorain, O. I remembered that the A. A. never was successful in organizing these men, and I thought of the time and money spent by the A. A. in trying to induce these men to organize. I remembered the fact that his honor owned the mill at Johnstown, Pa., and that this was also a non-union mill. I asked myself the question, 'Why did the A. A. fail in its efforts to organize these mills?'"

"I remembered how hard it always was to organize the east, and gave Tom L. the benefit of the doubt so far as Johnstown was concerned. But it was different with Lorain. It was the popular thing to organize, and I well remember that the officers and members of the A. A. looked with pleasure at the prospect of organizing the Lorain steel workers. I think that Tom L. Johnson is responsible, because he owned and controlled the mill, and the policy pursued was by his direction. As my mind ran along these lines, I thought what a hypocrite Tom L. must be, and made up my mind to say so through these columns.

"It is true, Tom L. is not a candidate, but he made the ticket and has made the real issue 'Johnsonism.' About the only thing he has permanently clung to is his determination that his mills should not be governed by labor organizations.

"I hope the A. A. members and all other union men throughout Ohio will remember Tom L. when they go to the polls. Give him such a dose of unionism that he will never forget, and this will also give the workingmen of Cleveland encouragement, and cause them to realize that they have been unmindful of their duties as union men when they allowed him to become the mayor of the great city by the lakes. I believe the union men of that city will awaken from their slumbers and next spring will elect a mayor who has been and is a friend of labor unions.

"I am reminded of the cry 'Stop thief!' and think Tom L. has succeeded in raising the cry so loud that we have neglected to look at him and his inconsistencies."

The Findlay correspondent also knows the Clevelander, as shown by these extracts:

"That an unseen power was at war among these men is plain to all fair-minded people. Mr. Johnson did not want to deal with mill committees or labor organizations, for by so doing the workmen would receive higher wages and better conditions, which would reduce his dividends and profits. He has piled up his millions at the expense of the welfare of those in his employ, and yet he has the gall to stand before the people in this campaign and preach about the Golden Rule and the sufferings of the working people. 'Consistency, thou art a jewel.'

"Workingmen of Ohio, remember that Mr. Johnson owned and controlled the steel mills at Lorain and Johnstown. Do not forget that they were always nonunion mills during his management. Do not think these steel workers were different from others. If free to act according to their own desires and convictions, they would gladly have joined the Amalgamated Association and would now be enjoying the benefits of organization.

Stand by Roosevelt, the Strike Settler.

When all the wide world praises President Roosevelt for his manly making of a new precedent, that settled the great anthracite miners' strike, will the American voters withhold their recognition by returning a congress hostile to him, that will harass and hinder the progress of his policies? When even in the French deputies, cheers for Roosevelt resound in recognition of what he has done, shall not the people of the United States show their esteem in the most practical way, by their ballots for the men and measures who will most surely help him?

Jackson's Self Control.

On the morning of the first battle of Winchester Dr. Hunter McGuire, Stonewall Jackson's medical director, said to him: "General, I have some very fine brandy. Will you take a drink?"

Jackson replied, "No; I thank you."

McGuire answered, "Don't you like it?"

"Yes," replied Jackson; "I like it too well. That is the reason I do not drink it."

An impressive exhibition of his self control that was Puritan in its self abnegation.

Vaccinated Before Wedded.

In Brazil parents and guardians before consenting to the marriage of their charges require a medical certificate from the bride or bridegroom certifying that he or she has been vaccinated.

In Norway and Sweden before any couple can be legally married certificates must be produced showing that both bride and bridegroom have been duly vaccinated.

In addition to the above there was collected from the liquor traffic for the year 1902, $3,811,535, of which amount there went to the general revenue fund of the state 1,143,460

Total $3,768,301

Such of the above revenue producing laws, as were in force in 1901, yielded the state $1,765,558, showing an increase for this year, owing to the additional legislation by the present Republican legislature, amounting to $2,002,743, thus enabling a reduction of the state levy from 2.89 mills to 1.35 mills for the current year.

TAXES PAID BY OHIO RAILROADS.

General tax levy, valuation 1902, $119,665,677; tax, $2,991,642.

Excise tax, gross earnings 1902, $101,731,037; tax, $1,017,310.

Total tax, $4,026,452.

REPUBLICAN REDUCTION OF TAXES TO THE PEOPLE IN GENERAL.

Upon the basis of a grand duplicate valuation of $1,990,000,000, these corporations will relieve the general taxpayers of the state to the extent of $3,064,600 or more each year.

As the direct result the tax levy for all state purposes upon private property has been reduced from $2.89 on each $1,000 of assessed value to $1.35, a reduction of $1.54 per $1,000, or over one-half.

HOW REPULBLICANS RAISED THE STATE'S INCOME FOR ITS INSTITUTIONS.

In 1891, the last year of Democratic administration in Ohio, the total receipts of the general revenue fund amounted to $3,751,402. It is out of this general revenue fund that all of the expense of conducting the state departments, institutions, etc., is paid. In 1901, after the direction of the state's affairs had been for 10 years in the hands of the Republican party, the general revenue fund had grown from $3,751,402 to $5,686,249 a year.

In other words, 10 years of Republican rule had increased the receipts of this one fund $1,934,847 for the fiscal year just ending, and about all of the increase from corporations, as the figures above given show plainly. In the coming year and every year after this over $3,000,000 more will be saved in this way to the general taxpayers of the state, by enlarged corporation payments.

HOW THESE REPUBLICAN RESULTS HAVE AIDED THE STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Great institutions have been added to the benevolent and helpful work of the state in the past 10 years, from this increased income without any addition to the taxes of the people. Among the most important new establishments are the addition to the state capitol building at Columbus; the new State hospital at Massillon; the Hospital for Epileptic at Galipolis; the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield; the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

Existing institutions also have been greatly improved and increased to accommodate and care for the increasing number of the wards of the state. All in turn, by their growth, have added to the current expenses, but all of this increase has been taken care of by these Republican laws, without any increase in the state taxation rate upon the people; more than cut in two by the act of the present general assembly, keeping the Republican promises of a year ago.

The grand aggregate paid out upon that account for state institutions from 1852 to Nov. 15, 1901, was $16,513,125.89, for the statehouse and everything else, while in the past Republican decade nearly $4,000,000 has been added to the permanent grounds and buildings owned by the state, as follows:

Year.	Amount.
1895	194,541.53
1897	545,537.60
1900	423,560.85

Total $3,884,703.59

The Republican party can well claim the approval of the people at the pending election for these splendid results, achieved by it in legislation and administration against persistent Democratic opposition. The Republicans of Ohio can confidently submit the record of these results to the verdict of the voters on the 4th of November.

Condemn Their Comrades.

The Johnson Democratic platform of this year, specifically endorses the Kansas City platform doctrines, "fully," and adds:

"We condemn every effort to repudiate or ignore them." This effort from a plank of Johnson's platform, "condemns" last year's Ohio Democratic platform, and this year's Democratic platforms of New York and many other states. Rather a wholesale anathema even for the present "receiver" of the Ohio Democracy.

Has Johnson a patent on that?

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are perfectly cured by "Favorite Prescription."

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicans and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

THE LEAP IN THE DARK.

It Wrought Ruin In 1892—Will It Not Again In 1902?

Well, gentlemen, what do you want? A change? Nominate your poison. State the remedy for a general condition of prosperity probably unexampled in this or any other country. How to introduce paralysis in the commercial world, how to stop the hum of machinery, how to reduce the demand for products of all sorts, how to increase wants and diminish the means of satisfying them, how to kill industry, to grow paupers, to fill charitable institutions and empty workshops—these are some of the questions to which the massive minds of "statesmen out of a job" are now exclusively devoted.

The leap in the dark has been tried before. The man who tries it knows when he strikes the solid earth. In proportion to the distance he has to fall is the jar when he stops going down. Prudent men don't leap in the dark. They don't leap at all after they have reached a certain age. Old bones are brittle. It is easy to jump down. It is terribly hard to jump up. —Chicago Tribune.

Every Bigelow Vote Claimed by the Single Taxers.

Henry George's followers all over the world are watching the contest in Ohio, ready to claim to the credit of their cause every ballot for Bigelow. The Democratic ticket carries his name, but he is not a real Democrat. It was as a single taxer that Tom Johnson picked him up for the place, and every vote for him will be considered as a single land tax endorsement of the plan to take all lands from their owners and make them public property. This is the meaning of the "crusade for righteousness," as Johnson and Bigelow call it. Can they dupe the Democrats into being used for such a boost for doctrines not Democratic?

"It's a Good Thing, Push It Along."

Prosperity has been so great, so continuous and all-pervading since Bryan was voted down that even his supporters have to own up to its existence. Their very explanations of it admit it. Its existence contradicts their theories, but here it is and the way to keep it is to maintain and sustain the McKinley Republican policies that have brought it in and have kept it going. That means, VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET. TAKE NO CHANCES, but get out and vote.

Republicans, remember that it is not only your duty to vote right, and early, but to be sure your friends help to repudiate the masquerade of the Democracy and to sustain President Roosevelt.

Nerves All Unstrung.

That describes the condition exactly. Children's noise, street sounds, little things that usually pass unnoticed annoy. A sudden sound, a call, you jump; a harsh word, a crying spell. The sleep is full of jerks and starts; trouble fills your dreams; you do not rest. Tired you go to bed, weary you rise. It's the unstrung nerves, weak, shattered, over sensitive, on edge. They need rest, quiet, strength, steadiness. Well-known people in your own city give you the cure in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—the most remarkably successful nerve medicine ever produced.

TORONTO, OHIO.

Mrs. W. C. Sine, of River street, Toronto, O., says: "As a medicine to quiet the nerves and give rest and sleep at night I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. When I began to use them I was nervous, sleepless and consequently debilitated. The medicine gave me strength, vitality, steady nerves and natural sleep. I am, as a matter of course, pleased with the result of the medicine."

A NERVE TONIC NEVER EQUALED

SALEM, OHIO.

Mrs. Etta Wise, of No. 91 Howard street, Salem, Ohio, says:—"Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are all they claim to be. I used a box that I got with splendid results for neuralgia of the head. It is the only medicine that touched it, and it has affected me for six years. It certainly made a hit with me and gave me restful sleep. A neighbor recently moved to Pittsburg, Pa., tells me the medicine in her case was a grand nerve tonic, steadying her nerves, giving her strength and sleep—something she needed badly, and at the same time curing a growing disposition to nervous headaches."

Terrible Blaze in the H. N. Harker Building This Forenoon, Frank Crook's Store Suffering Most.

PERSONS CAME VERY NEAR BEING OVERCOME

THE ORIGIN OF THE BLAZE IS AS YET UNDETERMINED

Fire, unrelenting in its fierceness and destructiveness, swept underneath and through the H. N. Harker building, at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, known as the old Laughlin building, today between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, causing damage, amounting to many thousands of dollars and abject fear to the owners of business blocks surrounding.

The fire started in the basement under Frank Crook's furniture store, and it was first discovered by J. W. Moore, who, upon passing through the rear end of the first floor, saw a red glare, and investigating further was horrified at seeing flames darting wildly around and through the basement and up through the elevator shaft which leads to the third story.

Mr. Moore ran with all haste to a telephone and sent in the alarm to central station. The firemen quickly responded, and within five minutes they were fighting the angry flames with desperation. Two lines of hose were inserted in the basement, and turned on the fire, which was then centered at the middle of the building, apparently defeating it in a moment's time. But when all were confident that the fire was out and that all danger was past some one discovered another burst of the demon at the rear. Then for several minutes, do all they could, no control could be gained and every hose and hook and ladder wagon at central station and the firemen with their paraphernalia of the East End station were summoned to the scene by Chief Morley.

Hundreds of excited men, but all extremely willing to tender services soon congregated, and they in many ways lent valuable assistance to the firemen. The flames coursing madly up the elevator, were for a few moments allowed to eat in and gut the passageway and rooms adjoining, the firemen being absolutely at a loss as to where to station themselves to make their work effective. While on a hunt for the desired location the Wilson book and stationery store was discovered on fire, and a line of hose was hurriedly placed into execution at the rear of the room. There the firemen battled until the flames altered their course, darting again upward into the stock room of the furniture store.

Another change of operation in fighting was then necessary and for the first time the firemen began work on the right spot.

Through Chief Morley's orders hose was put into use then in the basement, first, second and third floors. With such a deluge of water against it the fire began to relax and very soon there was no flame in evidence, but without an exception every room in the building was filled with smoke so dense that they were almost impassable.

A most peculiar fact in relation to the damaging affair was that although fire was raging with terrific fierceness for almost an hour within the walls of the building at but very few times could a flame be seen by the crowd which thronged the streets. It was due to the flames being confined to the central part.

When the fire was surging onward in its work of destruction, smoke in immense volumes poured from every floor, and there was not a witness to the scene that did not confidently expect to watch the entire building fall into a smouldering ruin, everything in-

THE MAYOR TO BE A MAN OF POWER

The Center of Authority for the City Administration Under the New Code.

For the Position to Be Filled Next Spring—Numerous Appointments to Be Made By Him—The New Law on the Mayor's Duties.

The mayor of East Liverpool for the two years succeeding May 1, 1903, will be the most powerful individual in the municipality. He will make appointments galore and the importance of some cannot be calculated at this time. in placing the new code in effect the coming spring nearly every executive officer will have the mayor to thank for his position, and his authority will be almost entirely dependent upon the will of the mayor.

As every one knows the officials now holding office to a man will have to make a fresh start at the spring election. No matter how unimportant the position nor how meager the recompense for his services, the men now holding city jobs will be in the scramble on the date fixed for the municipal election in 1903.

Probably half of the city officials now in power were chosen for two years at the election held last spring. This was in accord with the provisions of the statutes then in force. To some it would look like injustice to oust these men when only one-half of their term has been completed, but when it is considered that the new code bill will do away with irregularities and abuses without number, it will be conceded that the sacrifice is made in a good cause.

There will be a merry battle for the enviable position of mayor next spring, and no less than five prospective candidates have already loomed up. It is yet many months before the citizens will be called upon to state their preference for the men who aspire to hold the responsible position, and it is likely there will be many more to announce themselves before the time expires in which entries may be made.

To give some idea of the authority which will be vested in the mayor for the first two years of his reign under the new code a few extracts are given:

"The mayor shall be elected for a term of two years, and shall serve until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be an elector of the corporation. The mayor shall be the chief conservator of the peace within the corporation and shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as are conferred and required in sections 1746, 1747 and 1748 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio; such as are provided in this act, and all other acts or parts of acts applying to all cities of the state and not inconsistent herewith.

"The directors and officers provided in this act shall have the exclusive right, subject to the limitations herein prescribed to appoint all officers, clerks and employes in their several respective departments or offices, and shall likewise, subject to the limitations herein prescribed, have sole power to remove or suspend any of such officers, clerks or employes.

"In case of death, resignation, removal or other disability of any director or officer provided for in this act, it shall be the duty of the mayor to appoint the successor of such director or officer, who shall hold such office until such disability is removed, or until the next regular municipal election, at which time said office shall be filled in the manner provided for in this act.

"Wherever the mayor shall deem necessary, the directors of the several departments of the city shall meet with him at the time and place designated by said mayor, for consultation and advice upon the affairs of the city.

"It shall be the duty of the mayor, the directors and of the several officers provided for in this act, to attend the meetings of council when specifically requested by council so to do, and to answer at such time such questions relative to the affairs of the

VIGILANCE OF THE OFFICERS THWARTED THEM

Lisbon, November 1.—(Special.)—Since the removal of several of the worst characters from the crowded old jail, some of whom have been rapidly landed in the penitentiary and the Canton workhouse, Sheriff Leonard and his deputies have divulged the details of a conspiracy for a jail delivery in which a number of the inmates were implicated. The scheme was frustrated only by the vigilance of the officers.

For some weeks the men confined in the basement, where the conspiracy was hatched, had been manifesting much interest in things spiritual, but their assumed religious zeal was too transparent to the officers. That finally led to their detection. Full confession from several of the prisoners within the last few days substantiated the conclusions of the officers and confirmed the wisdom of the extra precautions which had been taken since suspicion was aroused.

The unusually large number of accused persons who have crowded the jail to the limit for some time has included some of the worst and most desperate toughs ever within its walls, judging from the reckless nature of their plan to overpower an armed guard and make their escape. While their plans did not include the murder of the turnkey this would have been an exceedingly probable incident to successful execution of the enterprise. The turnkey always held a loaded pistol in his pocket when an outbreak was possible, ready to fire at the slightest suspicious movement, which doubtless would have occasioned a fatal struggle.

The ring leaders in the contemplated delivery were William Roberts, of Salem; George R. Tate, of Wellsville; Charles Hutton and John Brown, of East Liverpool, and Charles Garwood, of Columbiana. Two or three methods of escape were discussed, but the one finally decided upon was that the turnkey, W. S. Porter, of Lisbon, should be overpowered while transferring the prisoners from the lounging corridor at night to their sleeping places in the cells. The manner in which the guard is handicapped in doing this was demonstrated to the grand jury at the recent inspection.

The lounging corridor stands along the rear of the cells and a passageway connects it with the front corridor, the door opening into just by and beside the outside entrance. In making the transfer the turnkey always stands on

WALKING HOME FROM CHURCH

Frightened so badly that she could hardly speak, pretty Edna Broadbent, aged 15 years, employed at the Potters' Supply company works, daughter of Samuel Broadbent, a kilnman at Burford's, had a most terrifying experience with a young ruffian, whose name cannot be learned, while en route to her home in California hollow last Sunday evening.

The girl had been to the central part of the city attending church and was traveling the road alone. When a short distance out the hollow two boys, of about 16 years of age, accosted her. They being entire strangers she readily resented this and started on toward her home at a quickened pace. But one of them followed. He dogged along after her, keeping for a time about 50 feet to the rear. Every time she would go more slowly he would do likewise. Not until she had nearly reached home did he make any attempt at violence. When she finally began to hasten again, he apparently thought she would distance him and dashed after her on a fast run. At a small bridge which crosses a creek he caught up with her and first asked if he could walk home with her. She quickly replied in the negative and he then seized her rudely by the arm and said he would see whether or not he could.

The girl, although frightened all the while, at this juncture became so nervous and worked up that she for a moment felt as if she would faint. However, she did not, but commenced battling with the tough character. Using the qualities so common to the sex she scratched at his eyes and with her teeth bit his arms and hands most viciously. When she regained enough self-possession she warned the brute that if he did not let her alone, and immediately, too, she would scream for assistance.

This and her display of grit had the desired effect. The youth weakened and started to retreat, but as a parting remembrance he said: "All right; you have beaten me this time, but I will catch you some other time."

The child nearly collapsed after the awful ordeal was over and when she arrived home she was suffering very much from the over excitement.

When seen yesterday by a News Review reporter she stated that she was confident who the degraded wretch was, but not certain enough to cause his arrest.

She gives inside facts in regard to polygamy which are not ordinarily given out, and insists that the laws in regard to the same are evaded and violated.

PLUCK CONQUERED THE FLAME

As the result of receiving terrible burns about his hands and arms while extinguishing a fire that had started in his study, the Rev. J. G. Reinartz, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, is suffering excruciating pain at his home on Third street.

The dreadful accident happened the minister on Thursday afternoon and since that time he has had a most painful experience, having been compelled to hold his hands in an upright position at all times to prevent blood from rushing to them and unnecessarily causing more distress. Following the unfortunate occurrence it is said that Mr. Reinartz, from pain and nervousness, writhed on the floor for more than two hours.

Loud and terrifying screams coming from the flame engulfed room caused the minister to dash quickly up the stairs from the parlor with wonderful agility. Knowing that the appealing voice was that of his four-year-old child he sprang into the room with

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

MR. McDOLE INDIGNANT.

John McDole, the well known jiggermen employed at the Thompson, is very indignant over an article that appeared in an afternoon paper Thursday, stating that assistance was to be rendered to his family during the illness of his daughter, with scarlet fever. "There has been no occasion for anybody to tender any sort of assistance to my family, and the inference that such has been the case was wholly unwarranted," said Mr. McDole yesterday. "My daughter has not been seriously ill, as stated in the paper, and I am not prohibited from visiting my home." Mr. McDole is denouncing the careless manner in which some reporters handle the truth.

THE MAYOR TO BE A MAN OF POWER

city, under the respective management and control, as may be put to any of them by any member of the council.

"In case of the death, resignation or removal of the mayor, the president of council shall become the mayor, and serve for the unexpired term, and until the successor is elected and qualified; and the president pro tem of council shall thereupon become president thereof, and shall have the same rights, duties and powers as his predecessor, and the vacancy thus created in council shall be filled as other vacancies, and council shall elect another president pro tem. Provided, further, that while the president of the city council is acting as mayor he shall not serve as president of council."

The sections just quoted include but a small portion of the responsibilities and powers of the mayor. He will control one of the two executive boards of the city—that of the directors of public safety. This board is bi-partisan and consists of two or four members, as the council may determine. He appoints every member of the police and fire departments, subject to the confirmation of the directors of public safety. The directors and officers provided for in the new law will make reports to the mayor at regular intervals. These officers will, on or before the first Monday in March make out and file with the mayor a carefully itemized estimate of the amount of money it will be necessary to appropriate to carry on the work of the respective department. It will be the duty of the mayor to furnish council on the first day of April of each year a budget of current expenses of the municipality. In the making of said budget the mayor will have power to revise and change any and all issues in the annual estimates furnished to him by the directors and officers of the city. He can increase the total of any such estimate. The council, of course, may revise these estimates if it chooses to do so, but it is not likely this will often occur.

A score or more or the officeholders are appointed by the mayor, and they are responsible to him for their action and conduct in office. The salary of the mayor will not aggregate an amount equal to that which the office pays at the present, but it is thought the duties and responsibilities of the position will be greater than under the old rule.

Mayor W. C. Davidson will not be a candidate for the place, though he has served but one year of his second term. Those who are said to be candidates, however, are: Justice H. P. McCarron, T. V. Thompson, Justice Daniel McLane, Thomas Pickal and O. O. Nice.

QUICK WORK WITH A SHARK

Three Kanakas Went Down and Got Him While He Was Asleep.

"The Kanakas of the Hawaiian Islands have about as much fear of the huge sharks that infest the Hawaiian waters as we have of one-month-old fox terrier pups," said a naval officer who recently returned from the Asiatic station by way of the islands. "One morning a couple of months ago, when our ship was lying in Honolulu harbor, a big banana barge, propelled by three muscular, fine looking, nearly nude Kanakas, pulled alongside of us to peddle the fruit among the men forward. Just as they got the barge close to the ship the three Kanakas began to jabber excitedly in their queer, musical language and to feel of the edges of the knives suspended by lanyards around their necks.

"The eyes of those Kanakas were keener than ours, and they had seen a big shark asleep directly beneath the lighter, the water being so clear down that way that objects can be seen through it to a great depth. It didn't take those three giant muscled Kanakas more than ten seconds to shuffle out of their few clothes. Then they removed the strings from their long knives, grasped the knives in their right hands, stepped gently over the side of the lighter, hung to the gunwales of the lighter with their left hands for a moment or so, and then, altogether, they gave that queer diving wriggle to their legs in which they are so expert and disappeared from the surface. We couldn't see them going down on account of the commotion and consequent bubbles they made in the water.

"Within about ten seconds after they disappeared the bubbles that came to the surface began to take on the hue of blood.

"'That about settles one Kanaka, if not the whole three of them,' said we on the gangway. The next thing we saw was a gigantic shark thrashing the water crazily on the port side of the lighter and incarnadining the sea within a radius of fifty feet with its blood. Then the three Kanakas came up, all in a bunch, like a trio of jacks-in-the-box, with contented smiles on their faces. The shark thrashed around for five or ten minutes, and at the end of that time he was as dead as any salted mackerel in a barrel, the entire length of him. The three Kanakas had tackled him altogether as he slept, had driven their knives into his vulnerable parts, and before he had a chance to pull himself together he was as good as dead. It was as workmanlike a job of going after big sea game as ever I saw,"—Philadelphia Times.

The Old Lady and the Incubator.

An old lady visiting an exhibition went to see some incubators which were on show and, complaining of the expense of keeping fowls, said that if they were cheaper she would buy an egg hatching machine. After she had asked various questions the gentleman in attendance proceeded to show her the drawers in which were deposited the eggs in different stages. On these the old lady looked in astonishment. "What!" she exclaimed indignantly. "Do you use eggs?" "Certainly," was the attendant's astonished answer. "Well," said she, "I consider it a perfect swindle to pick the pockets of honest, hardworking folks by selling them those frauds! Why, anybody can hatch chickens with eggs! I can do it myself!"—London Globe.

A NEW RAILROAD TO THE WESTWARD

Trenton Potters Eager to See a Projected Line Built to Pittsburg.

Form a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., November 1.—Trenton manufacturing potters have interested themselves in the construction of the proposed railroad trunk line between Trenton and Pittsburg. For several weeks there have been persistent rumors that the Trenton and New Brunswick railroad which was recently put into operation was a part of the Gould sceneme for reaching the Atlantic seaboard. Potters want cheaper freight rates to the west.

Lack of competition has practically given the Pennsylvania Railroad company a monopoly over the western trade, and the result has been that ware is shipped west of the Mississippi with but a small margin of profit. Several Trenton manufacturers have addressed communications to the brokerage firm of Klein & Silverman, at Philadelphia, who are buying up rights of way for the new road, offering their co-operation in advancing the scheme.

The Goulds have been fighting for several years for an eastern terminal and have reached Pittsburg, or soon will, the road being under construction. For months a corps of engineers have been at work in Chester county, Pa., and are gradually forcing their way toward the sea coast. The other day some railroad men discovered that a charter had been granted to the Philadelphia and Western Railroad company by the state department at Harrisburg. The incorporators were men closely allied with all the Gould interests and the belief is general that the family of the dead financier is behind the scheme.

Shipments of general ware from this city to the west have been falling short each year. While sanitary ware has been in good demand, the general ware lines are being furnished largely by the patterns of East Liverpool and throughout Ohio. This condition is attributable solely to the excessive freight rates. In spite of the fact that the National Manufacturing Potters' association has resolved to remedy the evil and appointed representatives for the purpose, who gave testimony before several federal industrial commissions, the condition still exists and is likely to until warmer railroad competition is established.

Since the recent agitation of the child labor question by the New Jersey Federation of Trades unions there has been a material falling off in the number of boys employed in the Trenton potteries. The scarcity has reached such a degree that the nurses of the jiggermen are sorely taxed. Shortly after the federation appointed a committee to ask Governor Murphy for the removal of Factory Inspector Ward, he installed a weeding out process in all the factories in the section of the state to rid them of child labor. Nearly 100 boys were sent home from the local plants and now it is difficult to find those who will work at the prices which the jiggermen have offered. The scarcity of batters-out and mould-runners is another problem. In many instances jiggermen are known to have been off duty for days at a time because of the scarcity of help. The jiggermen who are nearly all affiliated with the Knights of Labor have already considered the matter and are trying to devise a scale establishing more uniformity in a day's work by endeavoring to get the approval of the Trenton Manufacturing Potters' association to a uniform price list which was submitted nearly a year ago. It is believed now that the scheme has fallen through and the result has been that the jiggermen's organization is about on its last legs. The idea of the uniform list was to make more uniform the wages of helpers. Under present conditions there is a great tendency on the part of the jiggermen to offer temporary wages in order to secure steady help.

Trade conditions have not for years been more gratifying. Scarcely a feature of the pottery line which is not being liberally supported by the buying fraternity. All the lines offered by the local potteries this fall have been good sellers. In point of quantity of the orders and the character of the sales this season is without a precedent in the history of the local pottery industry. Hotel china maintains its popularity, having enough calls for late delivery to insure work for the men throughout the winter.

EAST END

Ghosts And Masqueraders Have a Nice Time at Larkins & Ferguson's Hall.

The ghost and masquerade dances last evening at Larkins & Ferguson's hall were the most thoroughly enjoyable events of the kind so far this season. The weird costumes affected by the dancers served to provoke a great deal of merriment and the spirit of the occasion was entered into by all. The ghost dance was given by the young ladies of the East End and in the neighborhood of 80 couples were present. After an hour of dancing the masks and ghost-like shrouds were laid aside. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruits were served.

The masquerade dance of the Philos club was one of the most pleasant of its functions of the year. Costumes were both comical and stately and served to completely conceal the identity of the wearers until discared at midnight. Enticing refreshments were served.

ONLY INNOCENT FUN

Those citizens of the East End to whom Halloween is but a memory of the halcyon days of youth and who are now staid and steady heads of families were surprised this morning when they realized how considerately they had been treated by the coming generation. In fact the fun was all of a very innocent nature and there were no collisions with the police. Small bridges, gates, boxes, signs were the principal objects of the marauders and the porches of most of the houses were so covered with "grog" that they could have been easily mistaken for feed stores. Everything was restored to the usual order at an early hour this morning, however.

A window was broken at Varrandi's fruit store on Mulberry street and the glass of fire alarm box No. was smashed, but no alarm was turned in.

Victim of Halloween Prank.

Conrad Goodballet, Sr., aged about 80 years, was a victim of a Halloween prank last evening. He was en route to his home on Martin street when he came in contact with a wire stretched across the side walk and was thrown to the ground. The thumb of his left hand was badly sprained and the hand was cut and bruised.

Mail Bag Was Missing.

The 3:55 train did not stop at the East End station but went whirling past at a high rate of speed. When the dust it raised had cleared away Robert Baird, who usually takes the sack to the postoffice, made a search for it, but it could not be found. Later he walked up the track as far as the Laughlin pottery and it was handed to him by W. C. Smith, who had found it in a patch of weeds.

Continued to Next Saturday.

The case of L. O. Conant vs. Thomas Miles, set for hearing in 'Squire Carman's court at 9 o'clock this morning was continued until next Saturday on motion of the plaintiff. The suit, which is on a promissory note, will likely be settled out of court.

Pension Increased.

Samuel Pugh, an old soldier living with his daughter, Mrs. M. C. Flick, on St. George street, has been notified by the pension office at Washington that his pension has been increased from $12 to $17 per month. His many friends will be pleased to hear of his good fortune.

First to Arrive.

Miss Augusta Swan, of Metropolis, Ill., a niece of Rev. and Mrs. James N. Swan, was the first of the guests from out of town to arrive for the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Swan's golden wedding. She arrived last evening and will remain for about a week.

Had a Fine Time.

About 30 couples, most of whom were from Laughlin No. 2, were at Wellsville last evening to attend a Halloween party at the home of Miss Cad Wiseman. They report a pleasant evening.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Harry Bennett's five-months-old son is reported very ill.

Charley Whealdon, of the kiln crew at Laughlin No. 2, is among the sick.

David Green is building a house on High street which he will occupy as soon as completed.

Miss Lida Hill gave a Halloween party last evening at her home in Helena for about 40 of her young friends.

C. H. Salyers has moved to the East End from Wellsburg, W. Va., and has purchased property on Pennsylvania avenue.

Misses Eva Whitney and Myrtle Harris, of Laughlin No. 2, will go to Bellaire this evening to spend Sunday with friends.

A roll of wire was carried away from a hardware store and uncoiled along several blocks, twisted around telephone poles and trees.

The dance at Columbian park last evening was one of the most enjoyable of the season. There was a large attendance and the festivities were continued until an early hour this morning.

WRIT OF REPLEVIN

Used to Recover the Goods of a Girl Who Had Quit Her Position.

Steadfastly believing that the rule which prevails among the work shops of the city—that a person upon wishing to change his location of employment is duty bound to give a two weeks' notice—Mrs. Lillian Heckathorn, according to an affidavit made in 'Squire McCarron's court yesterday morning, was much angered when a young girl, Dessie Fetty, who had been in her employ as a house girl, wanted to leave without working out a notice. So angry was she when the girl persisted in going that she took possession of the girl's clothing and would not give it up.

As a result Miss Fetty appeared in court and had a writ of replevin issued for the goods and with the writ in his possession Constable Powell made a trip to the home of Mrs. Heckathorn in the East End yesterday. The officer had no trouble in securing the clothing for her, though Mrs. Heckathorn was very angry when she saw Miss Fetty, and the constable states that an exciting scene was narrowly averted. Mrs. Heckathorn averred that she would have the girl arrested upon several charges and may do so.

FOR FALSE ARREST

Steubenville's Former Wharfmaster Sues J. A. Brown, Asking $5,000 Damages.

Steubenville, Nov. 1.—Ex-Wharfmaster George W. Uselton has commenced suit against Jerry A. Brown, who recently had charge of the wharfboat, to recover $5,000 damages for alleged false arrest.

In the petition the plaintiff says he always sustained a good character and has never been suspected of the crime of larceny or any other crime, yet the defendant maliciously intending to injure his good name did on May 23 go before Robert Love, a justice of the peace, and falsely, maliciously and without any probable cause charge him in writing and under oath with stealing one steamboat line, valued at $35, and another line, valued at $15, belonging to J. A. Brown.

The plaintiff further states that he was then arrested and taken along the public streets in custody of an officer of the law to the office of Justice Love, being deprived of his liberty, to enter into a recognizance for his appearance at a hearing. He was afterwards, he says, compelled to give bond in the sum of $300 for his appearance in the court of common pleas to answer said false charge. The grand jury, however, after investigating the charge, ignored the case and the plaintiff was discharged and released.

Marvelous Medicine.

A patent medicine vender in a country village was dilating to a crowd upon the wonderful efficiency of his iron bitters.

"Why," said he, "Steve Jenkins had only taken the bitters one week when he was shoved into the prison for murder, and what does Steve do but open a vein in his arm and take iron enough out of his blood to make a crowbar, with which he pried the doors open and let himself out. Fact!"

CLEAN, STRONG AND ABLE.

Republicans who go to the poles and vote the straight ticket on Tuesday, as they will do almost to a man, will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are supporting one of the cleanest, ablest and strongest tickets ever put forward for the approval of Columbiana county electors. The state ticket bears the names of men of state reputation. It is headed by Lewis C. Laylin, the present efficient incumbent of the office of secretary of state—a capable, conscientious and faithful official if Ohio ever had one. The other men on the ticket are of well-known ability and of the highest character. Especially is the candidate for the most important office to be filled a man of the highest qualifications. Judge William B. Craw, if McConnelsville, now filling a vacancy on the bench of the supreme court and nominated for a full term in that office, is one of the ablest jurists in southeastern Ohio or in the state, for that matter. His practice has been extensive, and since he became a judge some ten years ago his reputation for impartiality sound judgment and thorough knowledge of the law has become widespread. The Democrat who is seeking the same honor has pursued a course that renders it probable that he cannot receive the support of his own county, usually strongly Democratic. Of the congressional ticket of the Republicans, it can be said that he who votes for James Kennedy will vote for a strong man, an earnest protectionist, and a thorough Republican with all the qualities required to fill with credit the exalted position to which he will be elected.

The county ticket is an exceptionally good one. J. A. Martin, the next probate judge, is an able lawyer and a perfect gentleman. J. N. Hanley, of this city, candidate for clerk of courts, is no stranger to public life, a genial and popular man, thoroughly capable, assiduous and faithful to every duty. C. A. White, the nominee for recorder, has had a hard struggle in fighting life's battles, and is a cripple. He has won his way in the world in spite of all obstacles, and is today one of the county's most prominent educators and most respected citizens. M. P. Carnes, for county commissioner; J. C. Kelly, for county surveyor; J. L. Straughn, for coroner and A. E. Swearingen, for infirmary director, are all well-known men, of excellent capability, good sense and a high reputation. The whole ticket merits the triumphant endorsement it will receive at the polls next Tuesday.

POLITICS, NOT PERSONALITIES.

As we have stated before, Thomas J. Duffy is young in politics. If he were more experienced he would neither expect support for his candidacy from Republican newspapers, nor complain because a Republican newspaper had opposed him on political and not on personal grounds. The News Review is a Republican spaper. It has never yet advocated the election of a Democrat to office, and it has made no exception in the case of Mr. Duffy. It has fought him by fair and honorable means, raising no objection to him as a man but raising every possible reasonable objection to his political belief, and exposing the baselessness of the attacks upon the Republican candidate for congress—attacks made by those working in Mr. Duffy's interests and even reproduced in the columns of the paper which Mr. Duffy edits. A party newspaper which would not defend its candidates against baseless calumny would be weak and timid, and the News Review is neither.

We consider it a compliment to be told that the News Review's course has not met with Mr. Duffy's entire approval. When our editorial policy becomes such as to receive the praise of Democrats, it will be when the Democratic party has undergone the long-promised but still distant regeneration which its leaders talk of. We are not courting Democratic favor. That the course of the other papers in this city is praised by Mr. Duffy is their own affair, not ours. One of them is a Democratic organ as often as once a year, anyway, and we are glad that it has had enough of a policy this fall that Mr. Duffy can discover its existence. The laudation of the Tribune, a supposedly Republican paper, is a different matter. It may know the reason for it; we do not. At all events, we consider Democratic praise a very poor recommendation for a paper which assumes to speak for Republicans.

Morris Whalen, of Youngstown, who was at the head of the executive committee during the greater part of the street railway strike in that city in 1894, will vote for Kennedy for congress. So will hundreds of other laboring men of Youngstown, who fought the traction corporation at that time. They know Kennedy as a friend and are indignant at the silly charge that he was against the workingmen. Had he been, they certainly would have known it, and would not support him now. Is not this a sufficient answer to the campaign canard put forth by the would-be leader of the opposition who "wanted to get in touch with millionaires" and who found out that Kennedy was a "labor crusher" only after he discovered that he himself was unable to procure $2,500 from Kennedy's brother?

If you believe prosperity a myth, you will vote for one of the two Democratic candidates for congress. If you have a good position and desire neither to lose it nor to have your wages reduced to a free trade basis you will vote for Kennedy, who realizes that prosperity is a fact and wants it to continue.

The News Review has the highest respect for Thomas J. Duffy as a man but it has no respect whatever for his politics. He is mistaken when he asserts that this paper has been warring on him. But we have waged, and will continue to wage, unrelenting warfare on the political principles he represents.

Assistant Democrats is a term applicable to men who call themselve Republicans and yet stay at home on election day, thereby aiding their political foemen. It is a term of reproach. If you do not wish to merit it get out and vote on Tuesday.

Labor's hope lies in going forward not backward. Voting for a Democrat is aiding Labor's enemies.

John B. Kennedy.

John B. Kennedy died at his home in Wheeler avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was born in Hanoverton, O., July 22, 1822, and went to Pittsburg when quite young. As a newspaper man he was associated in the publishing of the Alleghenian, with his brother, James W. Kennedy. He afterward published with his brother the Bank Note Review. He owned and started the Chronicle, subsequently disposing of his interests to Charles McKnight. Later he alone started the Free Press, which was bought and merged into the Pittsburg Gazette. Then followed his connection with the Gazette as editor-in-chief. He remained identified with various city newspapers until he became owner and editor of the Alleghenian, which he published from 1887 to 1897. He was one of the original incorporators of the Pittsburg, Allegheny & Manchester Street railway in 1857. He will be buried from his late residence on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Kennedy is survived by six children.

dicating that result. "Doomed!" was the expression of all and many were the words of sympathy that escaped from the spectators. So apparent was ruin to the men having offices in the building that they employed the services of willing hands and had every movable article taken to nearby store rooms. In doing this work the men were greatly handicapped by the density of the smoke. It was not an uncommon thing to see a man come running down the stairs, coughing and sneezing, his throat and lungs being stifled by the hot waves of smoke.

At one time, near the outbreak of the fire, all eyes were centered on a window in the office of the McGarry Bros. Gasping for breath James McGarry in desperation threw open the window and beckoned for help. His lungs were so filled with smoke that he could not utter a word, and had he been confined in the room a moment longer he would undoubtedly have succumbed. A ladder was placed within his reach and he descended to the street amid the loud cheering of the crowd.

An unknown man heedlessly walking underneath a ladder placed against the building was badly hurt as a result of the ladder unexpectedly toppling over. His head was cut and blood flowed profusely.

Street car traffic on Market street was discontinued from the very start of the fire until all danger was eliminated. Instead of going down Market street they continued out Sixth street and down Washington, passing at the Second street bridge.

An estimate of the total loss, hurriedly made, places it at $20,000. The heaviest loser is Frank Crook, his stock of furniture, carpets, etc., suffering to the extent of about $15,000. The damage by fire was confined entirely to the second floor on which are stored the carpets, rugs, lace curtains, oil cloth and linoleum. The entire stock is considerably damaged, however, by water and smoke.

The value of the stock is in the neighborhood of $40,000, and is insured for $25,000, divided among all the local agencies. A force of men were put to work clearing away the debris on the second floor as soon as the fire had been extinguished, but it will be some time before the exact extent of the loss is known.

The damage to the W. & W. pharmacy will not exceed $200. It is all on merchandise stored in the basement that was reached by the smoke and water. They are fully insured.

The law offices of W. K. Gaston, on the second floor, which is situated nearest the elevator, were considerably damaged. The carpet was ruined by water and some valuable papers were damaged. The law offices of McGarry & McGarry and Brookes & Thompson escaped with very little damage.

The stock of the Wilson book store is badly damaged by water and smoke. The extent of the loss cannot be definitely stated today owing to the nature of the stock of goods damaged.

The building, owned by H. N. Harker, suffered to the extent of about $2,500. The elevator is almost entirely destroyed. The building is insured in Geo. H. Owen & Co's agency.

haste and anticipations of peril to the beloved boy. For a moment he was unable to grasp the situation, failing to see his child owing to dense smoke. The difficulty did not last long and he perceived flames leaping widly upward from a library filled with books and the wall close beside it.

At this juncture Mr. Reinartz saw his child tossing to and fro on a bed, and after removing him to another room, began fighting the flames. He seized a blanket and first extinguished the fire on the walls. It was while attempting to smother the flames at the book case that he received his injuries. Thrusting his hands down behind the case they were quickly developed in fire and before he could free himself both were burned terribly. Forgetting the pain he bravely fought until the home was freed from danger. The exact loss by the fire Mr. Reinartz is unable to state, but it will be in the neighborhood of $50. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought the child started it in some way.

AT THE THEATER

"Are You a Mason?" will be seen at the Grand next Monday evening. It humorously satirizes the foibles and weaknesses of the husbands who make their "lodges" an excuse for evenings from home. In this instance the husbands simply pretend that they are Masons and through their deceptions manage to get themselves into a world of amusing complications. It is the most meritorious, as well as the most successful of comedy farces in years.

The scene showing Niagara Falls in the last act of "The Fast Mail" is the grandest piece of reality that mechanical ingenuity ever presented upon the stage. The actual scene was so impressive that Lincoln J. Carter immediately determined to produce it in his piece, and he has done so with such gratifying results that it is pronounced perfect by thousands who have seen and compared it to America's wonderfully natural waterfall.

The Great Northern Quartet, four vocal celebrities of note, which will be seen at the Grand on November 5, 1902, in Al W. Martin's big scenic revival of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," are said to be peers in their line of work. While they resort to comedy selections greatly, they have also introduced a novelty in the "Megaphone Solos" that has met with favor on this side of the water.

Halloween Was Celebrated With Enthusiasm And Much Enjoyment.

Pranks and parties marked the Halloween celebration. Many a window was pelted with corn or had a tick-tack hammered upon it until one of the occupants of the house would make an investigation. Many doors were dashed with cabbage heads or small pumpkins until they resembled the appearance of a crushed tragedian.

One of the best pranks was practiced upon an unsuspecting couple in the western part of town. When they opened their front door this morning they were confronted with a large-sized wood pile which blocked the doorway. The wood had been piled clear to the top of the door and caused the man of the house no end of trouble to clear it away.

The "Bumble Bee" club, one of Wellsville's society organizations, were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Mary Bruner during the early part of the evening. They were joined by their young gentlemen friends later in the evening and also went out to celebrate. None of the force nor of the six extra policemen appointed by Mayor Fogo interfered.

A phenomenal party was held in the West End at the home of Mrs. Charles Clyde which will long be remembered. Two or three of the women who attended appeared in male attire, but were so well disguised that they were not known.

The six extra officers and all of the balance of the police force did not experience much difficulty in keeping all of the celebrators within the bounds of the law. No arrests were made.

MUNICIPAL PLANT

The topic of general conversation at the present time throughout the city is that of the advantages offered the city in the event that a municipal light plant is built. Many citizens have studied this matter and have secured accurate figures as to just what it will cost the city to erect a light plant.

The plant is a matter that will have to be attended to soon by the city council, as the contract now existing between the city and the company now furnishing the electric light for the city will expire in less than one year. If the city is going to erect a municipal plant it is time for action. It is understood that the figures on the cost of a plant of this kind will be presented at the council meeting on Monday evening.

Lisbon vs. Brunos.

The Beaver Athletic club foot ball team of Lisbon arrived in the city at noon today and brought several rooters. The team will play the Bruno Athletic club of this city on Aten's field in the West End this afternoon. The Lisbon boys appear able to put up a strong fight, outweighing the Bruno team by about 10 pounds to the man. The local team will endeavor to hold its own. This will be the Brunos' second game of the season.

DUFFY'S SPEECH

He Does Not Like Republicans And Pays His Respects to the News Review.

T. J. Duffy, labor candidate for congress, made a speech in the open air at the corner of Broadway and Sixth street last evening, the attendance being estimated at from 2,500 by his friends down to 350 by those allied with other parties.

Mr. Duffy devoted his entire address to an arraignment of the Republicans Democrats and trust promoters. The coal strike was reviewed, and some time was given to what he proposed to do in taking care of the potters—both manufacturers and operatives—if he is elected to congress.

Among other things Mr. Duffy stated that the News Review had conducted a very strong fight against him. He took exception to the manner in which this paper expressed itself editorially for and in behalf of the Republican party. He asserted that he was conducting his campaign entirely on the labor platform, and thought the fight should be made along that line.

The fact that he was a Democrat and that the News Review should say so was objected to by him and declared to be unfair. He congratulated the Morning Tribune, a Republican paper of this city, upon the easy manner in which it had let him down. Mr. Duffy also spoke kindly of the Crisis, characterized by the Democracy not long ago as being neither fish, flesh nor fowl.

All Day Taken Up By the Trial—Pugh-Ingram Case Under Advisement.

Lisbon, November 1.—(Special.)—Court adjourned last night until 9 a. m. Thursday, November 13, and the jury was excused until 1 p. m. on Monday, November 17.

The jury awarded the plaintiff $184 in the Kensington damage case in which Peter Woodward sued J. E. McAllister for $10,000. The case occupied the court's attention all of yesterday afternoon, and the jury was unable to agree on a verdict until 9 o'clock last night.

McAllister owns a livery stable in Kensington. The horses of McAllister got loose and trampled upon the lawn of Woodward, who objected to the nuisance. The men became involved in a fight in which Woodward was badly injured. A blow from a club in the hands of McAllister is said to have made Woodward the nervous wreck he now is. The costs of $20 will also be paid by defendant.

While the jury was out in the Woodward case, the controversy between Joseph Pugh, of Wellsville, and George Ingram, of Congo, W. Va., over the rental of jack screws, was given a hearing by Judge Hole, who has the case under advisement.

Enthusiastic Gathering Hears Reports from Every Ward And Precinct.

The meeting of the Republican committee, held at city hall last night, was well attended, and while the session was not a lengthy one, there was no lack of enthusiasm.

Reports were made from every voting precinct in the city and all were most encouraging. There is every indication, provided the weather is favorable, that an extraordinary vote will be cast on Tuesday, and if every Republican voter does not turn out and do his duty, it will certainly not be the fault of the city committee.

Arrangements were made to have an extra man at every polling place in the city, who will be entrusted with the task of seeing to it that every voter in the precinct who is a known Republican is given an opportunity to cast his vote.

Carriages will be ordered, and it is likely they will be kept busy all day. Each rig will be provided with two banners bearing the inscription "Vote the Straight Republican Ticket." All aged persons and those who are disabled are urged to notify the poll workers in order that they may be gone after and hauled to the voting place.

The meeting was adjourned early in order to allow the members to hear the speaking.

was one of a family of six children, all of whom are living except one sister, who was the wife of Rev. B. C. Swan, D. D. Two of the Swan brothers married sisters, daughters of John Woolf, late of Carthage, Ill., long an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan were married at Oxford, O., on Nov. 2, by Rev. John M. Worrall, D. D., who is now living in Danville, Ky. Their first field of labor was in Columbia City, Ind. Mr. Swan was ordained to the full work of the ministry in October, 1852, and took charge of the Columbia City church the fall that he was married. After serving eight years he removed to Wellsville, and took charge of the Yellow Creek church, three miles from that city.

He remained at Yellow Creek 14 years, and was next called to a brief pastorate at Toronto, where he remained one year. Mr. Swan next removed to New Hagerstown, where he remained five years. He then became pastor of the Long's Run Presbyterian church, at Calcutta, remaining there from 1880 until 1894. In the latter year he retired from active pastoral work, engaging in evangelistic work, which he has continued until the present time. In all his ministry Mr. Swan has been a zealous and faithful worker and very successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan are the parents of ten children, two of whom died in early life. Of the sons, the eldest, Rev. W. L. Swan, has been pastor at Greenville, O., for some years; J. L. Swan is an insurance agent at Canton, O.; Rev. B. M. Swan has been a pastor at Newcomerstown for the past five years; Dr. John M. Swan has been a medical missionary at Canton, China, since 1885; Rev. C. W. Swan, at present Presbyterian pastor at Shreve, O., for seven years was a missionary in China, until the Boxer uprising drove him from the field. Of the daughters, Frances E. died in Indiana in 1855, and Eleanor Josephine died while her father was pastor at Yellow Creek, from disease contracted in Indiana; Anna J. is the wife of Major Newman, manager for Armour & Co., in East Liverpool; Mrs. M. B. Farrar resides with her parents and teaches music in this city; Bessie is the wife of Rev. J. P. Lyenberger, pastor of the Island Creek church, in Jefferson county. There are 11 grandchildren, of whom three are in China.

PLURALITY $50,000

Librarian Galbreath Says Kennedy Will Have 6,000 Votes to Spare.

Columbus, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Hon. I. B. Camoron, treasurer of state, says that the weather will have much to do with the size of the Republican plurality in Ohio which he believes will be over 50,000. As to the congressional contest in the Eighteenth district he said: "From the best information obtainable Mr. Kennedy will be elected by a satisfactory plurarity." Mr. Cameron will go to Lisbon to vote.

Sate Librarian Galbreath leaves Sunday for his home in Columbiana county where he will stay till after election. He thinks the election will be about the same as it was when Coxey ran for congress against Tayler and that the opposition vote will be largely from the same source.

The Republicans expect to elect Huling for congress in the Columbus district and are certain of electing Nevin in the Dayton district which until two years ago was Democratic. Nevin was elected then by a few over a hundred. Dick will give out his statement tonight.

Liable to Paralytic Stroke.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Gave Me New Life.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Miles' Remedies quite extensively, especially the Restorative Nervine, which has done wonders for me. Six years ago I had nervous prostration and again three years ago, at which time I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I kept taking it for six months and have taken an occasional dose during the last two years. I am practically a new man and feel that I have been given a new lease of life. I used to have very bad attacks of stomach trouble but since using the Nervine I can eat most anything I want with impunity. I was examined in Omaha by a noted German doctor three years ago. He told me I was liable to a paralytic stroke any moment; that my whole left side was badly affected. That was just before I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. My work for two years and a half has been very trying on my nerves. I am a presiding elder, traveling my districts at the rate of ten thousand miles a year, preaching on an average of five times a week, besides many business meetings, and the multitudinous cares of my work in general. Thanks to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I have been gaining in flesh despite this hard work until now I weigh a hundred and ninety-six pounds, nearly twenty pounds more than in all my life. I preach Nervine wherever I go to those afflicted with nerve, heart or stomach trouble."—Rev. M. D. Myers, Presiding Elder, Free Methodist Church, Correctionville, Ia.

IN FULL OPERATION

Pope Tin Mill Running Full And Working Under the Amalgamated Scale.

The new Pope tin plate mill at Steubenville is now in full operation, every department being rushed with work and a number of workmen who were formerly employed in the tin plate mills in the Wheeling district are to be found there working under the Amalgamated scale.

It will be remembered that several days ago a report stated that the mill was not working under the union scale. After an investigation by the tin plate lodge at Steubenville it was found whence the report came. A workman came to the Pope plant from the Chester mill and for some reason left and returned to Chester, where the report seems to have started that the men were on strike and that an ironclad agreement was in force. The purpose to injure the Pope employes failed.

THE PATRIOTS OF AMERICA

And Their Rising in 1776 the Theme of the Eloquent Speaker—the Parts Played By Washington, Adams And Jefferson.

Sparkling with humor, abounding with ideas, rich in historic facts and eloquent as well as scholarly in expression was the lecture delivered by Dr. E. E. Sparks last evening at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

"John Adams, the Promoter of Independence," was the subject of this third lecture in the University Extension course.

Dr. Sparks spoke in part as follows:

"The period covers from 1774 to 1776, during which time John Adams figured conspicuously in the important questions of the day. He never favored the Tory party or any other party which supported the king in his tyranny. At this time the delegates of the different states stood much divided, and Boston was the scene of many a debate.

"The delegates finally went from Boston to Philadelphia where they were received with pomp and splendor, much to their astonishment. The delegates had not been in Philadelphia long when a quarrel arose, for seven of the colonies now had representation in that city.

"On September 15, 1874, these delegates united with what is known in history as the First Continental Congress, and at this time it was that the historic events of Liberty Hall began. Of this first congress, George Washington, was known as 'the fighter,' but who was to be the speaker and orator of such an important body? It was then that Patrick Henry is stirring and patriotic speech declared, 'I'm no longer a Virginian. I'm an American.'

"This first congress sat for two months in Philadelphia, and did they make any laws? No, they only made resolutions not to obey English laws and supported the state of Massachusetts in her disobedience of those laws. But, were these resolutions the only and most important work of this first congress?

"Indeed it was here for the first time that there had been an exchange of ideas, and here it was that the seeds of unionism were deeply planted in each heart.

"While in Philadelphia the delegates were much entertained and George Washington was dined and wined continually.

"John Adams, the plain Quaker that he was, did not expect to be banpuetted as he was. Why, before John Adams went to Philadelphia he never looked upon the Quakers as his friends, but called them the 'broad brims.' But when in the midst of a pouring rain he left this historic city he expressed warmest feeling for the hospitality shown him by these Quakers.

"The next important event following were the Lexington and Concord battles, when after ten years of rebellion against the English government, war was precipitated. Then came the second continental congress in the spring of 1775. This was a law-making body, which took its first great step when it put the troops under the command of George Washington, the 'squire of Virginia. This was the second union making element.

"The next and greatest event was the writing of the Declaration of Independence. Thomas Jefferson was chosen by unanimous vote to write this greatest of all historic manuscripts. Although this great Declaration of Independence received many criticisms, yet it embodied two great ideas, namely, that all men are equal, not in riches, not in social rank, but in the sight of the law and that government proceeds from the majority of votes of the governed."

the outside of the doorway, leaning against the door facing with his left hand and grasping his revolver in his coat pocket with the right. The prisoners file out, turn, march down the corridor from him and into their respective cells.

It has been customary for the prisoners to carry blankets from their cells in the morning to place on the benches during the day. Their plan was on coming out some night to go to their bunks, the first two men were to throw one of these blankets over the turnkey's head, overpower and disarm him, and with the assistance of their confederates lock him in one of the cells, then make good their escape.

Besides the 15 prisoners in the basement, three youths from upstairs, Ray McCalmont, Alex Stoffel and Charles Nuby, were lodged there every day.

Another plan of escape suggested was that when these three were let out of the corridor to go upstairs, being always transferred first, they should trip the turnkey and pin him to the floor until the others could come out of the corridor to their assistance.

Still another suggestion was that they should fall upon him as he stooped to fasten the lower lock of the corridor door when their comrades would come to their assistance. The three youths refused to be drawn into the scheme, perceiving the perilous character and well nigh hopelessness of such a move, as did several of the basement prisoners who hung back every night until those bent on escaping had passed the guard to avoid danger should the dash be made. One of the younger prisoners said he saw two of the leaders make a move one night as if to carry out their plan and was so unnerved by the prospect that his knees gave way under him.

From the time suspicion was aroused Deputy Davidson or Sheriff Leonard assisted every night in the transfer of the prisoners and with a man at either end of the corridor the conspirators would have stood no show had they made a break.

By the exercise of some diplomacy among the prisoners Sheriff Leonard and his assistants managed to extort full confessions of the details of the plans to escape from several of them. They also learned that Charles Hutton had robbed Daniel Thomas, one of his fellow inmates, of his watch and some money. Thomas is the insane colored man from Salem who was detained a few days before his removal to the Massillon asylum. Hutton was searched the evening the sheriff learned of the theft and the watch and money were found on his person. These valuables were returned to Mrs. Thomas in Salem.

HOW THE INDIANS VOTE.

They Are Very Deliberate and Then Have a Simple Method.

The Chickasaw Indians cast their vote differently from the way the white man does it. They meet the day before the election, and none but Chickasaws by blood is allowed to vote. No white man or intermarried citizens have the right of suffrage. They go off to themselves and have a powwow. They decide for whom they will vote after considering the matter for twenty-four hours.

The polling place is quite unlike that of the white man. There is a great sheet of paper, white, yellow or brown as the case may be, about three feet square. Upon this sheet of paper are a vast number of cross lines, regularly ruled off with a pencil. Then down one side of the sheet of paper are placed the names of all candidates for office, beginning with the candidates for governor and running on down to precinct officers. At the top of the sheet are the number of blank spaces that will be required for the names of the voters. The judges of election sit by and pass on those entitled to vote, and there is a certainty that no illegal votes are cast.

The Indian is thoroughly deliberate. He takes his time when it comes to voting. He proceeds to the polling place, looks carefully over the poll sheet, and if he is ready to cast his ballot he calls out his name, and the clerk records it on the sheet. Then the clerk reads off the names of the candidates for governor. The voter deliberates awhile, calls out the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote, his vote is recorded, and the names of the candidates for the next office are called out, and so on through the list, till all the offices represented are voted for.

Thus it is that every voter knows exactly how every other voter has cast his ballot, and there are no remarks, no suggestions and no quarrels over differences of opinion.

DESERTED DEVORE SEEKS A DIVORCE

TORONTO MAN WHOSE WIFE ELOPED FILES A PETITION.

His Runaway Wife Came to East Liverpool Not Long Since With Another Man.

Daniel W. Devore, a well known resident of Toronto, has commenced suit for divorce from his wife, Thurza E. Devore.

At the same time he secured an injunction restraining her from disposing of his property, which appears on the county records in her name. The property, he says, consists of a house and lot in Toronto, which cost $1,400, and on which he still owes $600.

In his petition the plaintiff says they were married at Toronto on Christmas day, 1894, and have no children. He alleges that on the 7th of last December his wife deserted him without any just cause and has since refused to live with him; that on September 2, at the boarding house of J. H. Allison in East Liverpool, she and one William Lowery lived together as man and wife; that afterwards they lived together at the boarding house of F. F. Edwards in East Liverpool, and that since that time they have been living together in Cleveland. In addition to a divorce, the plaintiff asks the court to divest his wife of all right and title in his real estate, which is now in her name, and that the court may restore the real estate to him and decree to him the fee simple title in the property.

Lowery was formerly a boarder at the Devore home and is alleged to have run away with Mrs. Devore last September and come to East Liverpool, where he worked for some time for Harvey McHenry, the contractor. Devore is said to have run across the pair at a Cleveland boarding house lately, where he had a fight with Lowery and had him arrested. Mrs. Devore ran out while the men were wrangling and had not been found at last accounts.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BELMONT CLUB BALL

The Affair at Rock Springs Last Night Delightful In All Particulars.

The dance and reception given last evening at Rock Springs by the Belmont club to a large number of friends formed a successful event in every detail. Artistic programs had been selected, which consisted of twenty dances. The booklets were black, with printing in gold letters on the back, to which was attached a scarlet cord and tiny pencil. Throughout the evening the young people were delighted with the selections rendered by McGraw's orchestra. Special cars conveyed the guests to the city at 12:30 o'clock, after an evening spent which will long be remembered by the many friends of the Belmont club.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S PARTY

The Misses Peach Pleasantly Entertained 30 of Their Friends Last Night.

Misses Adelaide and Helen Peach, of Fifth street, very pleasantly entertained 30 of their young friends last evening. Pink and white were the chosen colors for the event, the pink carnation being the favorite flower. The early part of the evening was spent in Halloween games, after which a dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. Peach was assisted by Mrs. William Harris, Miss May Scragg and Mrs. William Erlanger. The out-of-town guests were Mr. Willis Duff, of Allegheny, and Miss Lois Kennedy, of the same city.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A Fine Entertainment By Mrs. Homer J. Taylor In Honor of Her Guests.

Mrs. Homer J. Taylor entertained in elegant manner a number of young girls in honor of Misses Ada Cassidy and Hazel Sebring, at her home on Fifth street. The appointments for the evening were perfect in every respect, and the home was uniquely decorated in strings of yellow corn and jack 'o lanterns. Amusements appropriate for the celebration of Halloween made the evening a festive one. An elaborate luncheon was served later in the evening, and it was with regret that the merry crowd dispersed.

Children's Pleasant Party.

A merry crowd of juveniles assembled last evening at the home of Miss Henrietta Harrison on Seventh street, to spend Halloween. Pink and white crepe paper was arranged in a manner effective throughout the home, and after playing games, the children were invited to the dining room where also ping and white were in evidence, and it was here that the children were most delighted with the dainty luncheon of which they partook.

Among those present from out of town were: Miss Jane Stewart, Chester; Miss Durflinger, London, O.; Miss Lucile Barr, Rochester, Pa.; Miss June Ault, Toronto; Miss Blyth, Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Miss Eva Riley, Crester; Misses Nelson, Wilcoxen, Donnelly, Moorehead, Given. Messrs. Jesse Wilcoxen, Will Jack and Cliff Laughlin, Wellsville; John Jevons, Rochester, Pa.; J. H. Stewart, New Cumberland; and L. Baxter, Chester.

Fifty Were Present.

The Young Girls' Friendly society of St. Stephen's church, on Fourth street, last evening spent a very pleasant time in the parish building. There were about fifty young girls present and the evening was spent in Halloween games and taffy pulling.

OTHER ENTERTAINMENTS.

Mrs. R. E. Rayman will entertain a number of friends at her home on Saturday, November 8, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

The Luther society observed Halloween last evening with a party at the home of Misses Minnie and Tillie Agner on Fourth street.

Misses Edith and Olive Zook entertained a number of their school friends Thursday afternoon at the home of their mother, Mrs. Daisy Zook, of Basil avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan McPherson pleasantly entertained a number of friends at their home north of the city last night, it being their 30th wedding anniversary. The affair was a most enjoyable one, nearly all of the guests being from this city.

Miss Emma Brooks, of Morton street, entertained her friends last evening with a taffy pull. About 20 were present and enjoyed the evening in the good old fashioned way.

Miss Florence Foutis gave a very pleasant party to a large number of friends at her home last night. Many enjoyable features were introduced for the entertainment of the guests.

A large party of young people were entertained last evening at the home of Miss Lucy Bowdler, of Prospect street. Music and games were enjoyed, and the evening was very pleasantly spent.

Miss Jessie Driscoll, of Hale street, was the hostess last evening at a Halloween party. Quite a number of her friends enjoyed a pleasant evening with the amusements incident to the occasion.

Miss Minnie Christy entertained a few of her intimate friends last evening with a Halloween party. Games and music served to amuse the guests and a tempting lunch was served at 10:30 o'clock.

An old-fashioned Halloween party was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. John Staley, at their home on Basil avenue. None of the pleasing features were omitted and the guests enjoyed cider, nuts, popcorn and ghost stories until a late hour.

One of the most pleasant of the many parties given in the city last night was that of Miss Maude Shive, who entertained a select party of friends at her Fifth street home. The evening was spent in music and games, and after the guests had tired of this form of amusement the entire party made a tour of the city, creating havoc wherever they went.

Her Housework

Women who find it difficult to do their housework, who drag about their home with hardly energy enough to lift a broom, who are all tired out; who ache, are lame, languid and distressed, will find in "Blood Wine" a medicine whose peculiar strength-giving properties make it impossible for these all too common ills to exist. A great many women neglect themselves, and disease follows. "Blood Wine" should be on the kitchen shelf of every home. If taken when one enjoys good health it will keep one from getting out of order. If taken after disease has fastened itself upon the system it will quickly throw it off. Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh of 22 Isabella St., Boston, Mass., owes her present good health to "Blood Wine," though she almost died before she got hold of the medicine. She says:

"I suffered for years with a general run-down condition, due to a bad condition of the blood, which produced a type of dyspepsia. I had at times pains that almost drove me wild, and that left me with scarcely strength enough to get around. A friend, one day, to whom I was telling my story, asked me to try 'Blood Wine,' as it had done her so much good. So I did. I began with small doses and increased as I improved. I soon got so I could eat bread and milk. I continued with the medicine until I had taken several bottles and was entirely cured. Now I eat anything, am strong, healthy and happy, and attribute it all to 'Blood Wine.'"

Womb afflictions, periodical sufferings, and the general lassitude resulting will quickly disappear when the blood is properly treated. It provides nourishment and strength and brings about a natural condition in all the organs. Mrs. Bertha Sanborn of 50 Germaine St., Boston, will testify to that. Her experiences are as follows:

"Your 'Blood Wine' has done more for me than I could express in a letter. I have been subject to womb trouble all my life, and have taken all sorts of treatment for it without getting permanent relief until I took 'Blood Wine.' I am only too glad to recommend it."

It also cured the mother of Mrs. Howard Warren of 143 Main St., Concord, N. H. She is a woman over ninety. The powerful action of "Blood Wine" in the blood creates normal action and drives off disease. Mrs. Warren's experience illustrates this. She says:

"I have used 'Blood Wine' for both myself and my mother, who is now quite old, and have found it an invaluable remedy for colds and coughs, as well as a phenomenal stimulant for the blood and nerves. It quickly overcomes any irritation of the throat or lungs, and seems to be the ideal medicine for aged people."

Nearly all diseases have their origin in the blood. It is foolish and a waste of time and money to try and cure them without removing the cause. If you want to be cured, to stay cured, to get your system in a thoroughly healthy condition, you can do it with "Blood Wine," because "Blood Wine" removes the cause. "Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.

FREE BLOOD TEST.

If you don't know what germs are in your blood, the surest way is to have your blood examined. Send your name to the Louis Daude Bit Co., Worcester, Mass., for particulars. You can have an expert bacteriologist analyze your blood under a powerful microscope and send you a detailed report, without charge. Remember that nearly all diseases have their origin in the blood. You can learn your true condition through an examination of the blood. Take advantage of this offer today. It was never made before.

MUNICIPAL CODE.

The New One Obeys the Ohio Constitution.

POWER RIGHT WITH THE PEOPLE.

Fewer Changes From Existing Conditions and Closer to the Voters Than Any Other Plan Proposed. Governor Nash Narrates the Need For the New Law.

Columbus, O., Oct. 24.—A great Republican meeting filled the spacious Board of Trade auditorium tonight. The Columbus Glee club, with their songs, filled a large part of the time, although brief Republican speeches were interspersed. Secretary of State Laylin presided. Governor George K. Nash made the principal speech in response to requests for a statement about the new municipal code. He spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow-Citizens:

We have a constitution framed by our fathers, and under which the people of Ohio have lived for more than 50 years. This organic law permitted, or rather commanded the general assembly to provide by general laws for the organization of cities and incorporated villages. It further commanded that the general assembly should not pass any special act conferring corporate powers. Under these limitations we must have a uniform law for the organization of cities and uniform law for the organization of villages.

More than 30 years ago, the general assembly began the violation of these commands of the constitution by classifying cities—organizing some cities in one way and other cities in another. This happened because the general assembly were impressed with the idea that certain cities required certain provisions in their charters which were unnecessary in other cities. The evil grew. Matters went from bad to worse, until the time came when in Ohio scarcely two cities were organized in the same manner, or under the same law.

This continued violation of the law of the constitution could not go on forever. The time must come when a crisis would be reached. It did come in June of this year, when the supreme court practically declared all these laws to be unconstitutional and void. All our municipalities were left without law, without government, and in a state of chaos.

To ameliorate the evils of the situation, the court postponed the execution of its decree until the general assembly could provide some sort of constitutional government for our municipalities. This was a most perilous crisis, requiring extraordinary action. But one thing seemed to remain to be done, and that was to call an extra session of the legislature. Many good people feared this. Some suggested that it be postponed until after the November election. It seemed to me that this would not be a courageous thing to do. I reflected that a majority of the members in each branch of the assembly were Republicans. The one thing in the history of this party, in all its history, which is the boast of its lovers and adherents, and of which I am most proud, is its ability to seize hold of any great emergency whenever it arises and meet it with courage and solve the difficulty to the great benefit of all the people. Therefore, I called the general assembly of the state in extraordinary session on the 25th day of August.

The session continued until the 22nd of October. The result is that we now have a code for the government of our cities and villages uniform in its operation, and in strict compliance with the constitution. Under it we will have municipal government built upon the same principles which characterize the government of the United States. There will be three branches of government—the legislative, the executive and the judicial—each independent of the other, and each having its appropriate duties to perform, without interference by the other or others. These principles have been held sacred in the federal and state governments, and are just as essential to the success and well-being of municipal governments. It provides that all contracts made and rights granted under pre-existing laws shall stand. This was required by good faith and of honest men. It does not make radical changes. It permits our cities to have the same rights and privileges, and to do about the same things that they have done in the past. It gives to the people the right to elect all their principal executive, legislative and judicial officers, and does not give to any one man the power to construct a personal machine. That we may have model municipal government in Ohio but one thing remains to be done. That is for the people to take an interest in their own business, and to look after it as they do after their private affairs, and see that honest, efficient men are elected as municipal officers. Without such intelligent action by the people, no mere form of government will save their public business from disgrace and disaster.

The task accomplished by the general assembly was not an easy nor an idle one. It was confronted by the conflicting interests—real or imaginary—of seventy odd cities. These had to be compromised or reconciled. Then there were many differing theories of municipal government advocated by sincere and able men. There was an ever vigilant political enemy, constantly throwing blocks under the wheels for political effect alone. For what was accomplished under these circumstances the Seventy-fifth general assembly deserves the highest praise.

The self-assumed, self-appointed and temporary leader of the Democratic party attacks the new code. A demagogue who never in private life practiced what he now preaches, shouts as his battle-cry, "Home rule and just taxation."

"Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cleveland seems to mean Tom L. Johnson as mayor, elected by the people, with all the principal officers of the city appointed by him, and a rate of taxation increased in one year from $2.67 upon one hundred dollars to $3.05. "Home rule and just taxation" in the city of Cincinnati means a competent, upright mayor, Julius Fleischmann, elected by the people, surrounded by faithful officials, also elected by the people, and a rate of taxation reduced in one year from $2.48 upon the one hundred dollars to $2.31, the lowest rate of taxation in any city in the state of Ohio. "Home rule and just taxation" in the state of Ohio means a governor and the principal state officials all elected by the people, and the rate of taxation upon real and personal property reduced in one year by more than one-half. As for me, I prefer "home rule and just taxation" as exemplified by the Republican party in the city of Cincinnati, and in the state of Ohio, to "home rule and just taxation" as practiced by Tom L. Johnson in the city of Cleveland. I sincerely hope that the people of Ohio by their votes on the fourth day of November will show that they are of the same opinion.

IMPORTANT POINTS ABOUT THE CODE.

In addition to what Governor Nash said, the following are among many strong points in favor of the code as now before the people for the test of its practical operation:

In addition to what the governor has said so clearly many other points of importance about the new municipal code might be made. Among these are the following:

It increases very considerably the power of the city council, elected by the people.

It brings home to the people, through the council, an enlarged power for prompt and thorough action for the public needs heretofore reserved for the legislature.

It makes the council represent the entire city by adding members at large.

It stops dickering for the organization of the council by making its president and clerk, or auditor, elective by the people.

It makes a larger proportion of the executive officers elected by the people. There are enough officers provided for the larger cities, while the smallest need incur no extra expense on account of any positions which it does not need as yet, but which are allotted to it in obedience to the supreme court and constitutional requirements of uniformity in all cities.

It gives the mayor the responsibility for naming every appointive officer. If he picks out strong, suitable men for the bi-partisan board of public safety the responsibility for any rejection rests with the council; only in that event can the governor intervene.

The mayor is the executive head of the police and fire departments, whose members are selected and protected in their positions by the merit system, administered by the bi-partisan board of public safety, thus ensuring capacity and stability in both departments.

Another reform is protection by statute against partisan gerrymander of councilmanic districts, or wards, and against ripper legislation.

In case of cities that are carrying debts the sinking fund commission provides a plan and protection for the payment of all debts. This will enhance municipal credit and save the taxpayers great sums annually.

A check, always needed, now provided for the first time, upon excessive local taxation is made by giving the sinking fund commission control of all local tax levies.

In case of public improvements new checks and safeguards are provided against excessive special taxation.

Another important new protection for the public interests is in giving the mayor the veto power, and requiring a two-thirds vote of council to overcome his objections.

The plan adopted comes closest in its general features to the system already in operation in most of the cities of the state, excepting the two that have had the so-called federal system. It differs from those in making the principal officers elected by the people, and not creatures of the mayor, and in putting the subordinate officers under a stringent merit system.

Other very vital objections to the federal plan have been that it gave the mayor a veto upon all proposed legislation in council, because the approval of the mayor and his cabinet was required before the submission of measures to the council, and after that the mayor and his cabinet had the right to oppose measures on the floor in open council, in the way practiced in the British parliament. This is a foreign and not a federal plan, and is not like anything American.

The new code limits the city levy to 10 mills on each dollar of taxable property, exclusive of levies for schools, libraries, university, hospital and interest purposes, and any higher rate must be approved by two-thirds of council and two-thirds of the electors before it can go into effect.

Temporary loans, secured by the council, can run only six months. Deficiency bonds may run for 50 years, to secure the lowest interest rate, but they must never exceed 1 per cent of the tax duplicate, and must be approved by two-thirds of the city council and two-thirds of the voters.

FREE TRADE TRUSTS.

Thousands of Them In Lands Without Protection.

Congressman Littlefield made a little speech the other day at Lewiston, Maine, which the Democrats have been studying carefully. They are not sure after all, that this is such a good year for "tariff reform." After ridiculing the Democracy for its hard luck in getting only criticism for its attacks upon the American army, he commented on the Democratic statement that the "tariff fosters the trusts." In the first place, he stated that there are thousands of corporations that are not fostered by the tariff, the biggest trust in the country, Standard Oil, leading them. Anthracite is a trust and there is no protection on that. Then go to free trade England, he said, and you will find the county honeycombed with trusts; they have been there since 1640. They are all over Europe and in countries that have never heard of a tariff. But, continued Mr. Littlefield, strike off the tariff, and who goes to the wall first? Why, it is the weaker party, the individual competitor.

SHORT, SHARP SAYINGS.

Many Newspapers Contribute to the Campaign.

It seems that everybody praises Roosevelt. Stop a moment and think what a vote of confidence a sweeping Republican victory in November would be.—Dayton Herald.

When the new code is in working order it will no doubt be found to be a much better way for the government of cities and towns than the old way, which it displaces.—Lancaster Gazette.

"When a street railroad magnate in Detroit, Tom Johnson fought the attempt of Pingree to reduce fares on his lines, going clear to the supreme court of the United States with the suit." Voters do not desire that kind of reformers.

Every Republican who stands firmly for Republican principles will vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom. It is the straight ticket that counts and is most easily counted by the election officers. Vote the full state and county ticket and see that your neighbor does the same.

There ought not to be any difficulty in arousing interest in the Ohio political campaign this year. If you believe in the continuance of good times, and we believe all do, you can surely take the time to go to the polls on election day and continue in power the party that brought the good times about.—Auglaize Republican.

Senator Hanna hit the nail on the head in his Logan speech when he said that no business man or laboring man should be so busy that he did not have time to go to the election and vote for the continuance of prosperity. We had a case of that kind in 1892, but the people of this country had a plenty of leisure for a good while afterwards.—Logan Journal-Gazette.

Johnson's Advice to Democrats.

If at any time you feel that you can not trust a Democratic candidate and feel that you can trust the Republican, vote for the Republican.—Tom L. Johnson in speech at Orrville.

The Real Test.

Hardup—I tried to sell those diamonds I bought of you and was told they were not genuine.

Jeweler—Did you sell them?

Hardup—Yes, for almost nothing.

Jeweler—Well, you go back and try to buy them, and you will find out that they are genuine.—New York Weekly.

OUR NATIVE TREES

... By ...

THOMAS H. MACBRIDE, Ph. D.,

I.—What Is a Tree?

TREES in our country are fortunately so common as almost to pass without definition. Everybody knows a tree and knows all about it too. At least he thinks he does. He knows that a tree has an erect persistent stem, widespreading or deep descending roots, waving, far extending branches and abundant leaves, casting in summer a grateful shade, in autumn falling. He knows that trees, some of them at least, bear flowers and fruits and seed, reproducing the species "after their kind." This much everybody knows, and these indeed are some of the patent, obvious features of a tree. Nevertheless, as may be suspected, this is only an outside or surface view of the subject. When we come to inquire how the tree comes to be what it is, how it does all the things that we see it do, how it pushes the roots through the hard ground where a plow can hardly go, how the leaves elaborate its food, how it builds stem and bark and branch and carries pound after pound, ton after ton, away up into the air, how it endures while living summer's drought and winter's cold, not for a few years, but year after year, for centuries and centuries—when we begin to think of trees in this way, it is plain that all our surface knowledge counts but little. We are in the presence of a mechanism of wonderful efficiency, but also of great complexity, whose delicate adjustments may tax the cunning of the wisest.

Now, in a few short chapters which constitute this course a complete answer to the problem of the tree or even a complete statement of it is certainly not to be expected. We may perhaps study the problem in some of its simpler aspects, learn a little of the structure of a tree, of its history, and more of its utility and exceeding value to enlightened men and nations.

Perhaps the most striking peculiarity of the tree is its persistence. Other plants grow, send up stems and leaves and flowers, begin many of the things done by the tree, but these presently perish, survive a few months or years at most and are gone. Only plants of the tree type seem able to accumulate, to carry forward the work of life and make each year contributory to life's perennial triumph. Fortunately this particular property of the tree, taking things as they are, admits of comparatively simple explanation. We find the explanation in so far in the tree's structure, just as in the case of any mechanism we may study the parts and find out how they work and so understand the machine. If we make a thin cross section of the stem of a small tree and lay the section under the lens of a microscope, we shall see something like that shown in the accompanying illustration, which is indeed from a photograph of such a section.

Here the whole section seems made up of little rings. The early observers thought these rings looked like a section of a honeycomb and accordingly called them cells. At a glance we perceive that the rings or cells are not alike. They differ greatly in size and shape. A second glance shows us that the cells fall easily into groups which form together a circle around within the margin. The cells which make up this band or circle are in the growing tree, all living cells and all active, each in its own way. Within the limits assigned us here we may not consider them all, but must pay attention to the very smallest only, those that make up a narrow band, marked C in the figure. It is to these tiniest but ever living cells that the tree of the forest owes it character, its long enduring vigor. Being living cells, these can grow, and by their peculiar way of growing they accomplish three things—they lie between bark and wood, and all the time in the growing season those on the outside become transformed into cells that make up the cortex, ultimately the bark, and are added to its inner surface; those on the inside are in a similar way passing over into the form of the cells of ordinary wood, either to form wood de novo or to be added to the wood already in position; the middle cells of the band simply divide and divide and so keep up a perennial supply of cells of such plastic sort. Here is the secret of the tree's endurance and of its increase in thickness, for we must remember we are studying a cross section of the tree, taken anywhere, and we must therefore conceive these tiny cells to form a living sheath covering the whole tree, lying between bark and wood. In spring we very easily pull the bark from a living tree—a willow, for instance—the separation occurring in the plane of this living but proportionately delicate cell layer. This living, active layer has long been named the cambium. We shall refer to it again.

But let us look at our section again. We may discover still another peculiarity. The border cells arrange themselves in groups, with slight intervals between. The cells of these intervals are continuous with the large cells of the middle, with the pith, or medulla. They may be regarded as at first part of the medulla. They form the medullary rays. They build as they grow vertical plates radiating outwardly from the center of the tree. At first the plates are comparatively few, but as growth proceeds the primary rays are continually re-enforced by others, originating indeed in the persistent cambium and intercalated between those already formed until their number, as may be seen in any bit of wood, as oak, becomes very great. Split a piece of such wood, and the medullary plates appear and shine, called by the artisan "silver grain."

Let us now recapitulate the structures of the stem as we have studied them. In the center of our section lies the medulla, or pith, bounded on the outer side by a ring of forming wood. Next to this outwardly lies the cambium, beyond which, again, is the cortex, the forming structures of the bark. The elements of bark and wood are gathered plainly into groups, and intervening between these several groups, intercepting what would be otherwise a continuous arc, occur the medullary rays.

Trees as Air Purifiers.

P. Schuyler Mathews in a recently issued work on "Familiar Trees and Their Leaves" says: "The greatest sphere of usefulness which a tree occupies is connected with its life. It is a great air purifier. It absorbs from the atmosphere the carbonic acid gas which is poisonous to us, it holds and slowly dispenses moisture which the parched air needs, it gives out the ozone (or oxygen in an active electro negative condition) which is particularly conducive to our health and it modifies heat which would otherwise be overpowering. Step into the thick woods from an open space on a very hot day, and immediately relief is experienced from the intense heat. This is not wholly the result of shade furnished by the trees. Much of it proceeds from the modification of the air through the breathing of the tree leaves.

"I have estimated that a certain sugar maple of large proportions which grows near my cottage puts forth in one season about 432,000 leaves. These leaves combined present a surface to sunlight of about 21,000 square feet, or an area equal to pretty nearly half an acre. Every inch of this expanse breathes in life for the tree and out health for man, while it absorbs in the aggregate an enormous amount of heat and sunlight."

Washington Beautified.

The city of Washington has set a good example to American municipalities in the matter of tree planting. Within its limits there are now no less than 80,000 shade trees, and it is unnecessary to dwell on the added beauty they lend to the place. Paris has an even greater number, and it is said that $60,000 is expended annually by the latter city in the care of them and in the setting out of new ones. Every street of a certain width is entitled to a row of trees on either side and every street of a certain greater width to a double row.

IS HE A DEMOCRAT?

The Head of the Ohio Democratic Ticket.

HOW HE MALIGNED M'KINLEY.

Bigelow Active In Two National Conventions, Neither of Them the Democratic, Only Two Years Ago—Why Did Johnson Nominate Him?

An Open Letter to Hon. Tom L. Johnson.

Sir: Was Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, now head of the Ohio Democratic ticket by your own selection, a Democrat two short years ago? If he was a Democrat in August, 1900, of which there is no evidence, had he become one a month after going to the Silver Republican party's national convention in Kansas City, July 4, 5 and 6, 1900? "The Rev. Dr. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, O.," say the reports, offered prayer at the opening of the sessions. Is that your Bigelow? A Silver Republican then; when did he become a Democrat, if ever? You say that you do not favor the free silver, 16 to 1 idea. Does Bigelow? The convention that he attended endorsed that doctrine, as the New York World Almanac shows, and went further by demanding the issue of all paper money by the government, and all of it "a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private without exception." Bigelow believed he believed that in 1900. Does he still in 1902? Do you? If you do not believe in the "free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1" by the United States alone, or in making limitless fiat money with a printing press, why have you put their supporter upon your ticket? Did you tell the Ohio Democrats of this man's record on these great questions?

He took full part in the cruel abuse of McKinley. Did you advise them of that? Did you explain how recently he did not even call himself a Democrat? Was there not among all the Democrats of Ohio one real Democrat that you would trust at the top of your ticket? Or was there no Democrat of character and repute in his party who would trust himself on the ticket you should dictate, with the platform of departures from Democracy that you might demand?

Didn't you know Bigelow better, or his bitterness against McKinley, and his free silver, rag paper money record? Or did you know it all and approve? Or did you condone his offense? Or was there one real reason, and that is that Bigelow is a single taxer? While you got the Democrats to nominate him, was not your underlying reason for favoring him as against every Democrat, the fact that he is a follower of Henry George's plan for taking away all private property in land, confiscating it by taxation, to make it public property?

Do you think the single tax so much greater in consequence than all other questions that Bigelow's professed belief in it outbalanced all beside, even the slump to silver, the repudiation by fiat money, and worst of all his part in the maligning that cost the nation McKinley's precious life?

William McKinley, the martyred president, was murdered as an echo of the abuse heaped upon him for doing the right as God gave him to see the right, to quote Aorahan Lincoln's words. Back of the bullet and the assassin stood the men who denounced our beloved chief magistrate with the utmost vehemence. Pre-eminent among these were the Anti-Imperialists, who lashed themselves into fury over the imagined but impossible proposition that President McKinley planned an empire with himself on its throne.

The National Anti-Imperialist league held a liberty congress, as they called it, at Indianapolis, Aug. 15 and 16, 1900. The elaborate platform adopted as quoted in the New York World Almanac (1901, p149) denounces the president all through, for undertaking "to rule by despotic power," and "without constitutional restraint." They declared that McKinley "prosecuted a war of conquest," that he governed "by arbitrary power; this is imperialism." They demanded that the people stamp upon McKinley's "attempt to grasp imperial power," "to subvert the character of their government and to destroy their national ideals." To oppose, to crush "imperialism," was their solemn purpose. The resolutions were mild compared with their speeches.

Not many months later the grief of the country and of the world beside the murdered McKinley answered all those atrocious accusations. What did you think of them when they were uttered? What did your man Bigelow think of them? The record reads that his name stood second on the committee that drafted these dastardly slanders upon President McKinley, and that he was one of the speech makers of this convention of haranguers against that gentle lover of peace. Did you not know that about Bigelow? If you knew so little about Bigelow, why did you put him on the Ohio Democratic ticket? If you did know of his prominence as an Anti-Imperialist, does your dictating his nomination mean that you still endorse that bitter and false arraignment of McKinley? Respectfully,

CHARLES DICK.

This Year's Work With Republican Laws by Republicans.

The farmers got the good of the anti-trust law enforcement of the present year at Chicago, Kansas City and in Texas, by the United States department of justice, as reported by Attorney General Knox. Six suits at Chicago and eight at Kansas City against offending railroads secured injunctions that broke up the elevator discriminations, restored uniform rates, gave small grain buyers a chance again, and through them opened wide markets for the producers. Mr. Knox also threatens to indict offending officials. Similar suits in behalf of the cotton growers of the South, stopped their troubles and brought the railroads to time. The suits against the beef trust are moving right ahead.

All this is the work of Republican officials enforcing laws enacted by Republicans against Democratic opposition. The only Democratic president, in four years under these same laws never did a thing. Roosevelt is making them count, and Attorney General Knox is preparing still more stringent statutes. By your vote stand by Roosevelt.

Regular Democrats Out of the Johnson Campaign.

The chairman of the Republican state committee may be wasting a good deal of time in calling attention to the inconsistencies and radicalisms of Tom Johnson, but he certainly is not impertinent in doing so. It is the literal truth that Mr. Johnson is about all there is visible of the Ohio Democracy this year. At the state convention of the party in September Johnson not only named the ticket but wrote the platform and dictated the organization. The chairman of the Democratic state committee gets his orders from the fat man from Cleveland and the latter's automobile and circus tent have made up the entire Democratic campaign. The old wheelhorses of Democracy have either not been called to the stump or have not been disposed to promote the new order of things by responding. The significance of their absence is not less in one case than in the other. Johnson and his single tax satellite, the Rev. Bigelow, have been "the whole thing."—Toledo Times.

The Democrats in the Ohio legislature marked the close of the session by singing blasphemous songs. They evidently found their level.—Steubenville Herald-Star.

Free silver at 16 to 1, is reaffirmed in the Cedar Point platform. Bigelow votes will cheer on a revival of free silverism.

Too Cautious.

"I have the greatest confidence in Dr. Slocum as a physician," said one of the doctor's patients. "He never gives an opinion till he has waited and weighed a case and looked at it from every side."

"Um-m!" said the skeptical friend. "That's all right if you don't carry it too far. There have been times, you know, when he's been so cautious that his diagnosis has come near getting mixed up with the postmortem."—Youth's Companion.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures cold and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. GROVER AGAIN.

Cleveland Calls the Democracy Together.

All Opposed to Free Trade and the Single Land Tax Should Be Warned by This to Get Out Their Full Vote.

When Grover Cleveland, after all that has happened, writes to Tammany Hall, it is time for Republicans to go to work. The former president tells the organization within his party that has opposed him most strenuously, that the chances of a Democratic victory were never better and urging Democrats of every stripe to loyally support the candidates. He does this upon the New York platform of the public ownership of mines to be operated by the United States government, an idea heretofore intolerable to him. His present action, therefore, means that for purposes of his own, Grover is getting the Democrats together again.

Republicans need to be warned by this fact that the enemy is awake and alert. This is no time to take anything for granted. The pending election will be decided above all, by the presence, or absence of Republicans from the polls. In Ohio Republican victory is a sure thing all along the line, provided only those who believe in the present prosperity and profit by it attend to their political duties. No negligence will avail anything the day after election, and all the vain regrets in the world on the 5th of November can never do the work for which the day before has alone been reserved.

More than Republicans are interested. Every man who shares in the least in the work and wages, and opportunity for employment, in these busy times has a stake of his own in this result. Grover Cleveland's object is to undo the existing conditions. He calls attention to tariff reform as a paramount issue of the campaign. Here in Ohio that is in the Democratic platform, and the Democratic leader is an out and out free trader, who would wipe out protection completely. Every vote against him ought to be got out in force. It is the duty of every Republican, not only to vote early himself, but to see that his neighbor gets to the polls and votes on the side of prosperity and real "just taxation."

TARIFF REVISION.

Republicans Always Did So as to Build Business

There is an honest difference of opinion even between the friends of a fair protective tariff, on the question of whether immediate changes should be attempted, or to wait a little, rather than disturb business with agitation; but there is no difference of opinion among friends of the American protective system, as to who should be intrusted with revision

Shall it be a Cleveland, Tom Johnson, free trade, paralyzing destruction, or a careful revision of schedules, where changed conditions render reduction necessary?

Can the Republican party be trusted to revise the tariff?

It did revise the tariff four times since the war.

Twice it revised the tariff to reduce a redundant revenue, once under Grant, and once under Arthur. The third revision was the McKinley act, a revision made necessary by the condition of the treasury and the far worse condition of the great body of the people after the last four years of Cleveland.

The fourth Republican revision of the tariff was the Dingley bill, a revision essential to correct the paralyzing effects of the Cleveland-Wilson bill.

On the other hand the Democrats revised the tariff once since the civil war, by the Wilson bill under Cleveland.

Experience is a dear school. Will you not trust the party that gave the whole people a chance to recover prosperity, that Democratic tariff tinkering had destroyed?

DOWN IN A SALT MINE.

An Occasion When One's Dignity Must Be Set Aside.

It is only the elect among travelers who find their way to Berchtesgaden, in Bavaria, not very far from Salzburg, writes a correspondent of the London Tatler. If you drive in a carriage from thence by road, you are stopped midway at a customs house and find yourself leaving Austrian territory for Bavarian. Berchtesgaden is beautifully situated, and it has two noteworthy attractions, one of them the Konigsee, thought by many the most beautiful lake in the world, and the other the salt mines. A visit to the salt mines gives one an exciting hour.

Many tourists take tickets at the top, but many of the fair sex are deterred from using them when they see the costume that is rendered essential to the visit. In other words, they have to abandon skirts and adopt a special "rig out." One may frequently observe that ladies, torn between what they consider modesty and curiosity, go two or three times to the mines before they screw up their courage sufficiently to don the attire and pay the visit.

The necessity for women to abandon the usual garment arises from the fact that a portion of the mine can only be visited through the medium of a kind of slide. This slide is, however, the best thing in the whole visit. It is a great deal better than tobogganing, and, as one is in the dark and with only a candle fastened to one's dress, it is not a little exciting.

The strangest incident in the trip is that of the illumination of what is called "the salt lake." You are rowed across this lake in almost absolute darkness, the illumination being provided by a number of miners' lamps round the lake, and the journey has a very considerable weirdness. The next best experience in the trip is the final ride into daylight on the trucks. This is a journey through absolute darkness for a very considerable way, until finally one sees a little gleam of light in the distance. Altogether, as I have said, between the toboggan slide, the car ride and the boat journey across the salt lake the visitor to the Berchtesgaden salt mine has plenty for his money. But, curiously enough, he sees very little salt. At any rate, the prepared salt that one uses on one's breakfast table is not at all in evidence.

Mackay and Florence.

On one occasion William J. Florence at the end of a not very prosperous engagement in San Francisco announced a benefit for himself and his wife. John W. Mackay happened to be in town at the time and wrote to Florence for one orchestra seat. It was duly sent, as a matter of course, and Mrs. Florence remarked to her husband that, considering the friendship existing between the two men, she thought Mr. Mackay might have taken a private box at least. "Wait," said Florence, "he has not paid yet, and I am in no hurry." The benefit took place, Mr. Mackay came from Virginia City to occupy the seat he had taken, and a day later he sent Florence a check for $1,000.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, men—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous effort to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insiduous consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Charles F. Craig's.

FOE TO UNIONISM.

Iron and Steel Workers Know Tom Johnson.

Amalgamated Association Journal Shows How His Lorain and Johnstown Mills Could Never Be Organized by the Association.

Mayor Johnson, the Democratic party, was at one time a large employer of labor, in a trade that was strongly unionized. This brought him in contact with union men, and they learned something of his attitude toward them. The record of his dealings with unions is of interest and should influence every union man in Ohio.

The Amalgamated Journal is the official organ of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and anything that appears in its columns has the sanction of the officers of that great organization, and is pretty nearly authentic. In the issue of October 23 correspondents at Findlay and Youngstown contribute to the public knowledge of his record in dealing with trades unions.

Extracts from the Youngstown letter are quoted as follows:

"I could not keep my mind from running along the lines of his labor record, and naturally, as a steel worker, I thought of Lorain, O. I remembered that the A. A. never was successful in organizing these men, and I thought of the time and money spent by the A. A. in trying to induce these men to organize. I remembered the fact that his honor owned the mill at Johnstown, Pa., and that this was also a non-union mill. I asked myself the question, 'Why did the A. A. fail in its efforts to organize these mills?'"

"I remembered how hard it always was to organize the east, and gave Tom L. the benefit of the doubt so far as Johnstown was concerned. But it was different with Lorain. It was the popular thing to organize, and I well remember that the officers and members of the A. A. looked with pleasure at the prospect of organizing the Lorain steel workers. I think that Tom L. Johnson is responsible, because he owned and controlled the mill, and the policy pursued was by his direction. As my mind ran along these lines, I thought what a hypocrite Tom L. must be, and made up my mind to say so through these columns.

"It is true, Tom L. is not a candidate, but he made the ticket and has made the real issue 'Johnsonism.' About the only thing he has permanently clung to is his determination that his mills should not be governed by labor organizations.

"I hope the A. A. members and all other union men throughout Ohio will remember Tom L. when they go to the polls. Give him such a dose of unionism that he will never forget, and this will also give the workingmen of Cleveland encouragement, and cause them to realize that they have been unmindful of their duties as union men when they allowed him to become the mayor of the great city by the lakes. I believe the union men of that city will awaken from their slumbers and next spring will elect a mayor who has been and is a friend of labor unions.

"I am reminded of the cry 'Stop thief!' and think Tom L. has succeeded in raising the cry so loud that we have neglected to look at him and his inconsistencies."

The Findlay correspondent also knows the Clevelander, as shown by these extracts:

"That an unseen power was at war among these men is plain to all fair-minded people. Mr. Johnson did not want to deal with mill committees or labor organizations, for by so doing the workmen would receive higher wages and better conditions, which would reduce his dividends and profits. He has piled up his millions at the expense of the welfare of those in his employ, and yet he has the gall to stand before the people in this campaign and preach about the Golden Rule and the sufferings of the working people. 'Consistency, thou art a jewel.'

"Workingmen of Ohio, remember that Mr. Johnson owned and controlled the steel mills at Lorain and Johnstown. Do not forget that they were always nonunion mills during his management. Do not think these steel workers were different from others. If free to act according to their own desires and convictions, they would gladly have joined the Amalgamated Association and would now be enjoying the benefits of organization.

Stand by Roosevelt, the Strike Settler.

When all the wide world praises President Roosevelt for his manly making of a new precedent, that settled the great anthracite miners' strike, will the American voters withhold their recognition by returning a congress hostile to him, that will harass and hinder the progress of his policies? When even in the French deputies, cheers for Roosevelt resound in recognition of what he has done, shall not the people of the United States show their esteem in the most practical way, by their ballots for the men and measures who will most surely help him?

Jackson's Self Control.

On the morning of the first battle of Winchester Dr. Hunter McGuire, Stonewall Jackson's medical director, said to him: "General, I have some very fine brandy. Will you take a drink?"

Jackson replied, "No; I thank you."

McGuire answered, "Don't you like it?"

"Yes," replied Jackson; "I like it too well. That is the reason I do not drink it."

An impressive exhibition of his self control that was Puritan in its self abnegation.

ADDED REVENUE RAISED BY REPUBLICAN LAWS.

The following is a statement of revenues accruing to the state other than upon general levy, and almost all from corporations, for the year 1902, under laws enacted by the Republican legislatures, thus relieving the general taxpayer to that extent:

From what source derived.	Tax.
Railroad companies, steam.	$1,034,810
Electric light companies....	25,293
Artificial gas companies....	55,767
Natural gas companies.....	49,993
Water works companies....	5,316
Pipe line companies	61,443
Messenger & signal companies	2,170
Street railway companies...	154,409
Telephone companies	40,307
Telegraph companies	4,687
Express companies	12,340
Freight line and sleeping car companies (Est.)	12,000
Domestic corporations	428,279
Foreign corporations (Est.).	200,000
Insurance companies (Est.).	525,000
Cigarette	13,036
In addition to the above there was collected from the liquor traffic for the year 1902, $3,811,535, of which amount there went to the general revenue fund of the state	1,143,460
Total	$3,768,301

Such of the above revenue producing laws, as were in force in 1901, yielded the state $1,765,558, showing an increase for this year, owing to the additional legislation by the present Republican legislature, amounting to $2,002,743, thus enabling a reduction of the state levy from 2.89 mills to 1.35 mills for the current year.

TAXES PAID BY OHIO RAILROADS.

The following is a statement of the amount of taxes levied upon the steam railroads of the state:

General tax levy, valuation 1902, $119,665,677; tax, $2,991,642.

Excise tax, gross earnings 1902, $101,731,037; tax, $1,017,310.

Tax for maintenance of commissioner of railroads and telegraph, $17,500.

Total tax, $4,026,452.

REPUBLICAN REDUCTION OF TAXES TO THE PEOPLE IN GENERAL.

Upon the basis of a grand duplicate valuation of $1,990,000,000, these corporations will relieve the general taxpayers of the state to the extent of $3,064,600 or more each year.

As the direct result the tax levy for all state purposes upon private property has been reduced from $2.89 on each $1,000 of assessed value to $1.35, a reduction of $1.54 per $1,000, or over one-half.

HOW REPUBLICANS RAISED THE STATE'S INCOME FOR ITS INSTITUTIONS.

In 1891, the last year of Democratic administration in Ohio, the total receipts of the general revenue fund amounted to $3,751,402. It is out of this general revenue fund that all of the expense of conducting the state departments, institutions, etc., is paid. In 1901, after the direction of the state's affairs had been for 10 years in the hands of the Republican party, the general revenue fund had grown from $3,751,402 to $5,686,249 a year.

In other words, 10 years of Republican rule had increased the receipts of this one fund $1,934,847 for the fiscal year just ending, and about all of the increase from corporations, as the figures above given show plainly. In the coming year and every year after this over $3,000,000 more will be saved in this way to the general taxpayers of the state, by enlarged corporation payments.

HOW THESE REPUBLICAN RESULTS HAVE AIDED THE STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Great institutions have been added to the benevolent and helpful work of the state in the past 10 years, from this increased income without any addition to the taxes of the people. Among the most important new establishments are the addition to the state capitol building at Columbus; the new State hospital at Massillon; the Hospital for Epileptic at Galipolis; the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield; the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

Existing institutions also have been greatly improved and increased to accommodate and care for the increasing number of the wards of the state. All in turn, by their growth, have added to the current expenses, but all of this increase has been taken care of by these Republican laws, without any increase in the state taxation rate upon the people; more than cut in two by the act of the present general assembly, keeping the Republican promises of a year ago.

The grand aggregate paid out upon that account for state institutions from 1852 to Nov. 15, 1901, was $16,513,125.89, for the statehouse and everything else, while in the past Republican decade nearly $4,000,000 has been added to the permanent grounds and buildings owned by the state, as follows:

Year.	Amount.
1893	184,908.92
1894	161,667.35
1895	194,541.53
1896	380,320.96
1897	545,537.60
1898	407,129.63
1899	492,017.67
1900	423,560.85
1901	772,524.97
Total	$3,884,703.59

The Republican party can well claim the approval of the people at the pending election for these splendid results, achieved by it in legislation and administration against persistent Democratic opposition. The Republicans of Ohio can confidently submit the record of these results to the verdict of the voters on the 4th of November.

Condemn Their Comrades.

The Johnson Democratic platform of this year, specifically endorses the Kansas City platform doctrines, "fully," and adds:

"We condemn every effort to repudiate or ignore them." This clause from a plank of Johnson's platform "condemns" last year's Ohio Democratic platform, and this year's Democratic platforms of New York and many other states. Rather a wholesale anathema even for the present "receiver" of the Ohio Democracy.

Has Johnson a patent on that?

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are perfectly cured by "Favorite Prescription."

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicans and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

THE LEAP IN THE DARK.

It Wrought Ruin In 1892—Will It Not Again In 1902?

Well, gentlemen, what do you want? A change? Nominate your poison. State the remedy for a general condition of prosperity probably unexampled in this or any other country. How to introduce paralysis in the commercial world, how to stop the hum of machinery, how to reduce the demand for products of all sorts, how to increase wants and diminish the means of satisfying them, how to kill industry, to grow paupers, to fill charitable institutions and empty workshops—these are some of the questions to which the massive minds of "statesmen out of a job" are now exclusively devoted.

The leap in the dark has been tried before. The man who tries it knows when he strikes the solid earth. In proportion to the distance he has to fall is the jar when he stops going down. Prudent men don't leap in the dark. They don't leap at all after they have reached a certain age. Old bones are brittle. It is easy to jump down. It is terribly hard to jump up.—Chicago Tribune.

Every Bigelow Vote Claimed by the Single Taxers.

Henry George's followers all over the world are watching the contest in Ohio, ready to claim to the credit of their cause every ballot for Bigelow. The Democratic ticket carries his name, but he is not a real Democrat. It was as a single taxer that Tom Johnson picked him up for the place, and every vote for him will be considered as a single land tax endorsement of the plan to take all lands from their owners and make them public property. This is the meaning of the "crusade for righteousness," as Johnson and Bigelow call it. Can they dupe the Democrats into being used for such a boost for doctrines not Democratic?

"It's a Good Thing, Push It Along."

Prosperity has been so great, so continuous and all-pervading since Bryan was voted down that even his supporters have to own up to its existence. Their very explanations of it admit it. Its existence contradicts their theories, but here it is and the way to keep it is to maintain and sustain the McKinley Republican policies that have brought it in and have kept it going. That means, VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET. TAKE NO CHANCES, but get out and vote.

Republicans, remember that it is not only your duty to vote right, and early, but to be sure your friends help to repudiate the masquerade of the Democracy and to sustain President Roosevelt.

Nerves All Unstrung.

That describes the condition exactly. Children's noise, street sounds, little things that usually pass unnoticed annoy. A sudden sound, a call, you jump; a harsh word, a crying spell. The sleep is full of jerks and starts; trouble fills your dreams; you do not rest. Tired you go to bed, weary you rise. It's the unstrung nerves, weak, shattered, over sensitive, on edge. They need rest, quiet, strength, steadiness. Well-known people in your own city give you the cure in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—the most remarkably successful nerve medicine ever produced.

TORONTO, OHIO.

Mrs. W. C. Sine, of River street, Toronto, O., says: "As a medicine to quiet the nerves and give rest and sleep at night I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. When I began to use them I was nervous, sleepless and consequently debilitated. The medicine gave me strength, vitality, steady nerves and natural sleep. I am, as a matter of course, pleased with the result of the medicine."

A NERVE TONIC NEVER EQUALED

SALEM, OHIO.

Mrs. Etta Wise, of No. 91 Howard street, Salem, Ohio, says:—"Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are all they claim to be. I used a box that I got with splendid results for neuralgia of the head. It is the only medicine that touched it, and it has affected me for six years. It certainly made a hit with me and gave me restful sleep. A neighbor recently moved to Pittsburg, Pa., tells me the medicine in her case was a grand nerve tonic, steadying her nerves, giving her strength and sleep—something she needed badly, and at the same time curing a growing disposition to nervous headaches."

The entire delinquencies and one-half of all other taxes charged in the duplicate of 1902 are required to be paid on or before the 20th of December next. The remaining taxes will be due and payable on or before June 20, 1903.

To that portion of taxes due and payable on or before December 20, as specified above, and remaining upon the duplicate unpaid on that date, a penalty of 5 per cent. will be added, then if not paid on or before January 25, 1903, a penalty of 15 per cent. will be added.

To that portion of taxes due and payable on or before June 20, 1903, and remaining upon the duplicate unpaid on that date, a penalty of 5 per cent. will be added, and if not paid on or before July 20, 1903, a penalty of 15 per cent. will be added as provided by law.

The books in the Treasurer's office will be closed on or before January 25, 1903, and will remain closed until April 1, 1903. They will also be closed July 20, 1902, and remain so until October 1, 1903, as provided by law. No taxes will be received upon the General Duplicate when the books are closed.

When you inquire by letter for the amount of your taxes please send last receipt, that being the very best description you can give; otherwise please designate your property clearly; state in whose name the property appears, in what township and section it is located; also number of acres, in what town or city, number of lot, and in whose addition. Send stamp for reply and make your request before December 1 as our time will be fully occupied taking care of remittances, after that date, and we cannot make statements.

Remit either by New York exchange, certificate of deposit, postoffice money order, registered letter or express.

The office will be closed at 4 o'clock p. m., during collections to enable the Treasurer to close his accounts for each day. Call early and avoid the rush at the close.

WM. A THOMPSON,

Lisbon, Ohio, October 9, 1902. TREASURER.
